INFLUENCE OF GREAT CHURCH

Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead Talks of Vast Prestige of Episcopalians.

ITS RESPONSIBILITY

Organization a Great, Conservative Power for Humanity's Progress.

VALUE OF THE CONVENTION

Bishop Whitehead's Views

In the following article Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead of Pittsburgh tells what the Episcopal convention now in session in Boston stands for. His dissertation is based wholly on his viewpoint of the principles of his denomination and handles in a conservative manner the potent questions now before the assemblage.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—It is a noticeable fact that the Episcopal church exerts a wide and strong influence far beyond its own membership. Whether in our large cities or in the smaller communities all over the land, and even in towns and villages where it has no parish of its own, what the Episcopal church does or says attracts much attention, elicits much comment, influences public thought and action.

Perhaps no one can give an adequate reason for this. Certainly it is a matter frequently of surprise, and always of gratification to those who represent the church. Moreover, it increases the responsibility of this church, and calls for carefulness on the part of her clergymen and people, and of her representative assemblies to think and say and do only what is reasonable and right.

Hence our well-known conservative movement, which often seems exaggerated, and our tardiness where others press on, our hesitancy to "come out" in commendation or condemnation, inveterate and instinctive refusal to mix politics in the slightest degree with our church utterances or actions.

Church a Progressive One.

On the other hand there is a marked tendency to bring Christian principles to bear upon every department of human life. No other body of Christians seems to be so ready to set about the amelioration of suffering and poverty, as in "settlement work," or the elevation of the stage, or the spiritual and social improvement of nurses, as in St. Barnabas' guild, or the protection of young women, as in the Girls' Friendly society, or the evangelization of the deaf mutes, or the intellectual and moral betterment of the working classes, and the solving of economic problems, as in the church association for the improvement of labor, or the broadening and stimulating of unselfish living in young men and women, as in the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the Daughters of the King.

The Episcopal church seems to have a "genius" in that sort of thing, and her membership in all these and many other special organizations are more and more becoming enthusiastic and active to a very marked degree.

Renew Fires of Zeal.

All this distributed zeal is being focused and manifested in the assembling of many thousands of Episcopalians in Boston at this time. And, kindling anew at this central assembly the fires of devotion, the multitudes will presently take their departure to their many diverse and widely scattered homes, to touch and warm other multitudes of lives, and make the church better known and more widely and effectively influential than ever before.

And the utterances of the general convention on the great subjects of divorce and missions, and worship and policy, and church unity, will be quoted far and wide, and have a mighty power in forming opinion, educating the conscience and ruling the conduct of men and women all over our land.

True as this is, no doubt, of some other ecclesiastical gatherings, we believe it to be true in larger measure of this great council, and we can but thank God that such a privilege is accorded to us, and pray that we make profitable use of it to the full.

DISAGREE ON REMARRIAGE.

Episcopal General Convention May Pass Divorce Problem to Triennial Conference.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—A marked division of sentiment regarding the proposal to prevent the remarriage of the innocent party to a divorce, during the life of the former partner, developed at today's session of the house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention. Several prominent delegates expressed the opinion tonight that the present convention would not act on the matter, but would refer the problem to the next triennial conference.

Mr. Buxton, who, on the opening day of the convention, attempted to read a resolution censuring Bishop Henry C. Potter for opening the subway saloon, in his remarks today expressed the opinion that it were better for the church to curb the liquor traffic before changing the canons on marriage.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE LOOP-THE-LOOP CIRCLE

HAGERSTOWN, MD., Oct. 12.—Thomas Good, aged 40 years, of Paterson, N. J., was killed, and Roy Rauff, Goodman Welsh of this city, Herman Mitsal and Charles Yessler of York, Pa., were injured in a loop-the-loop accident at the Hagerstown fair today. The car jumped the track and the passengers were hurled to the ground. They were taken to the hospital and Good was dead on his arrival there.

FIGHT RAGING ON THIRD DAY

Great Battle of the Manchurian Campaign Continues.

ENORMOUS LOSSES

Russian Attack Makes No Impression on the Japanese Defenses.

TRAIN LOADS OF WOUNDED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Oct. 12.—Stubborn fighting is still in progress, this being the third day of the engagement. It is impossible at this time to say what has been accomplished. Hospital trains are continually arriving from the south. The wounded are being sent further north.

A dressing station has been established on the railway platform here, where nurses and surgeons give prompt attention to the most urgent cases before the trains proceed.

SIN-MIN-TIN, Oct. 12.—With valor equal to that shown by the Japanese in the attack on Liao-Yang, the Russians are throwing themselves on the Japanese lines to the northeast of Yen-Tai, but have not met with success up to this time. The fighting has been fully as fierce as any which has marked the war so far, and, despite enormous losses, the Russians persist in their attack. Heavy reinforcements have been sent from Liao-Yang to Kuroki, who is standing the brunt of the Russian attack, and no impression has been made, so far as reports reaching here indicate, on the Japanese defenses.

Gen. Oku's column to the west of Yen-Tai is closing in on the Russian left, and his artillery already is engaged. Fighting is practically going on now along a front of fully 40 miles, and the entire armies will soon be engaged if they are not already fighting. Kuropatkin is hurrying his reserves down from Tieling, while reinforcements are being rushed to Oyama, both from Dalny and Niuchwang. While the fighting up to this time, according to reports reaching here from Mukden, has not been decisive, the Japanese appear to have the better of it. The Russians in Mukden believe that victory will come to that army which receives its reinforcements first.

The number of wounded coming into Mukden indicates the desperate character of the fighting. The railroad is devoted now entirely to carrying the wounded north and bringing fresh troops to the front. Temporary hospitals are being arranged at Tieling for the use of the more dangerously wounded Russians, while those who can stand the long railway trip are being sent back to the base hospitals at Harbin.

Word comes from Niuchwang that great numbers of Japanese wounded are being received there. It is evident that Kuropatkin has determined to risk his whole army in this battle, and unless he is able to break the Japanese defense he may find himself enveloped and faced by a more difficult problem than that which confronted him at Liao-Yang in order to save his army intact.

GOTHAM AUDIENCE HISSES PEACE CONGRESS DELEGATE

Stops British Labor Leader, Who Was Attacking Administration Policy in the Philippines.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Hisses halted the meeting of the International Peace congress in Cooper Union for five minutes tonight. Peter Curran, representing the General Federation of Trades Unions of Great Britain, attacked the administration's policy in the Philippines. Said he:

"Your rulers, without the consent of the population, sent out troops into those islands to subjugate a people against whom you had no grievance. Heaven knows you have had enough of it already."

Before he could utter another word half of the audience was up and hissing, so that, hard as Mr. Curran tried, he could not be heard in the first row in front of the platform.

Then Prof. Charles Sprague Smith came to his aid, and after a few minutes of entreaty he restored silence. Mr. Curran then proceeded.

JOY ENDED IN DEATH.

Minister Returning from World's Fair Killed Almost in Sight of Home.

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Overjoyed at his return home, James Perkins, a preacher-farmer of New Moscow, stepped off a fast moving train at Trinway last night and was killed. His son was at the train to meet him and his father's awful fate was not known until the body was found by a track walker this morning 300 yards from the station.

He was 65 years old and was coming home from the world's fair. The theory is that he arouse from a doze and jumped from the train when the brakeman called the station.

CARNEGIE SHARON MILLS TO START WITH NEW YEAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—It is stated that preparations are being made to bring about an almost complete resumption of the Sharon works of the Carnegie company before the first of next year. The mills have not been runing steadily for 12 months. The two furnaces and a few departments are now running. The Sharon Steel Company was purchased by the United States Steel Corporation about two years ago.

PITTSBURGH'S NEW TREASURER

JOHN F. STEEL,

JAPANESE CHECK RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Mikado's Men Have the Best of the Fighting in Three Days' Engagement.

ST. PETERSBURG IS ALARMED

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Oct. 12.—With breathless interest the Japanese capital is awaiting additional news from Manchuria. Preliminary reports from Marshal Oyama indicate that the expected has happened and the Russian advance on Liao-Yang has received a check which may develop into a rout. The Japanese troops have shown that they can fight on the defensive as effectively as in attack, and not only has no impression been made on their main line, but they have been able to drive the Russians back and take advanced positions.

The reports indicate that an attempt on the part of the Russians to outflank Kuroki has resulted in the cutting off or capture of the flanking column.

The official reports from the front plainly indicate that a great battle is being fought, and up to this time the Japanese have had all the best of it.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—(Special Cable.)—Grave apprehension is felt here tonight that all is not well with Kuropatkin. Little has been heard from the front today, and this in itself is regarded as unfavorable. The Japanese apparently are in much stronger force than had been anticipated.

RUSSIANS LOST 150 IN A DECISIVE SKIRMISH

Japanese Were Driven from a Strong Position After Some Hard and Costly Fighting.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KOUTAITSZE, Oct. 12.—A Russian correspondent telegraphs as follows:

"I have been with Gen. Kashtalinsky's column since October 8. We have been pushing south from Fushun, and have had a number of skirmishes and one hot fight at the village of Khodyagoy on October 9, in which we lost 150 killed or wounded. We are now approaching the banks of the Taitse river. The Japanese, who had already been driven out of Bentsiaputsze when we arrived, are now retiring from Luishudia, only two miles ahead. Our advance is falling back on Bensihu.

"Gen. Rennenkampff's Cossacks first attacked Khodyagoy, driving the Japanese from the village with a loss of 12 killed or wounded. The Japanese then took a stand on a ridge to the southward, whence it seemed it would be impossible to dislodge them. Two of their guns replied persistently to ours. The East Siberian mountain battery then came up and seized a commanding height from which it joined the field battery in shelling the Japanese position, and finally drove them out, but the fight cost us 150 men."

"DIG," SAYS PRESIDENT.

Panama Canal Commission Visits White House and Minister Barrett Is Afterward Received.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—"Get together and dig," was President Roosevelt's admonition to members of the Panama canal commission today, who called by appointment, and afterward to John Barrett, American minister to Panama, who had a conference with him.

Whether the canal work will be done by contract or directly by the commission will be determined by a comparison of figures as to cost.

Soul Followed His Prayer.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Just as he finished praying and said "Amen," at prayer meeting service at Bedford Street Methodist Protestant church tonight, Isaac Anderson, aged 65 years, a well known citizen of Cumberland, fell over dead. He was a wheelwright, highly respected and active in church work. He is survived by a large family.

BURNING BRANDS FILLED THE SKY

Spectacular Blaze in East Liberty Visible for Miles to Three-Fourths of City.

MUCH FIRE, BUT LITTLE LOSS

One-fourth of the city's population saw a spectacular fire last night. The blaze seemed to reach the clouded sky, burning brands were visible for miles, and to spectators in Squirrel Hill, Oakland and Lawrenceville it seemed a conflagration involving the whole of East Liberty must be in progress. It was the destruction of James Johnson's planing mills.

An alarm was turned in from Box 745, at Highland and Center avenues, at 6:50 p. m. for a fire in James B. Johnson's planing mills, and when Acting Chief Rufus Morris arrived he realized the danger and turned in another alarm, following that with a third 10 minutes after he arrived.

The planing mill lay in a triangle formed by Center avenue, Beitler and Swope streets, the Pennsylvania railroad running along the last-named thoroughfare. The mill occupied the center of the triangle. Adjoining it is a dwelling occupied by John Muncey; next to that is the stable of George K. Stevenson & Co., and close to the other end of the mill was the builders' supply house of Houston Brothers. Opposite the mill are two frame tenements, and beyond Swope street and the railroad a number of dwellings.

The total loss is about $20,000. Johnson's loss is $10,000 in building, machinery and stock; Houston Brothers lost $3,000, chiefly in cement and other builders' supplies; the damage to the Stevenson stable was $1,000. About $250 damage was done to the rear of Thuma's hotel, which fronts in Center avenue. The tenements, which belong to the Mellon interests, were damaged about $1,000.

The dwelling occupied by Mrs. M. V. Ross, a seamstress, caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished. The tenements are occupied by the families of James McIntyre, Mrs. Bridget Lynch, James Funks, Mrs. Sophie Meyers, Joseph Jones, George Brown and Edward Scott. The loss is covered by insurance, except the furniture of Muncey. Mrs. Ross' furniture was damaged chiefly by water. She had tried to get it insured, but when the agent called at her house yesterday afternoon she was out. The occupants of the tenements ran for their lives, as their homes seemed doomed.

There must have been 15,000 people within three blocks of the fire. The reflection, and even the blaze, could be seen from the Hotel Schenley, the Iroquois, Oakland and Buckingham flats in Oakland and the Bellefield dwellings. In Squirrel Hill residents gathered in the streets and on their roofs. From a distance it was like an immense fireworks exhibition, for brands were carried by the draft hundreds of feet in the air. The danger, although acute, did not last long.

The stable of the Kuhn & Brother Company is near the scene of the fire. One mule was taken to Collins avenue and Kirkwood street. There it kicked its driver, Edward Campbell, a negro boy, in the stomach. He was taken into the house of Daniel Matthews and a doctor was called. It is feared that he may be seriously injured.

After the fire was under control some firemen were working under the still standing, blackened framework of part of the mill. The framework fell just as the firemen left it.

VERDICT AGAINST PREACHER.

Miss Blanche Keck Wins Breach of Promise Suit Against Former Lover.

NORRISTOWN, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—As a salve for her wounded heart Miss Blanche Keck, who sued the Rev. Edgar J. Hellman for $10,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage, the jury today awarded the fair plaintiff $3,000 08.

The judge warned the jury, composed entirely of married men, against letting their sympathy influence their verdict. In an hour they had agreed upon the verdict.

FRICTION AMONG THE DEMOCRATS

State Bosses Not Getting Chance at National Committee Funds.

NEW YORK FAVORED

Southerners and Westerners Believe They Are to Be Sacrificed in Parker's Favor.

TAGGART WAITING FOR CASH

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.

There is said to be friction in the national Democratic committee over the apportionment of campaign funds, growing out of belief expressed by western and southern Democrats that the managers of Judge Parker's campaign are determined to save New York, even at the sacrifice of other states, so that he may be the logical candidate in 1908, although defeated by President Roosevelt.

Thomas Taggart, national chairman, whose presence in Indiana is deemed essential just now, refuses to absent himself from national headquarters in this city unless he can carry with him the money he believes essential to insure victory. If New York and Indiana obtain from the general fund all the money that is considered necessary by the men most interested in the campaign in these states, then New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, the west and the south believe they will be thrown largely upon their own resources.

It is the probability of this condition that is causing state leaders to remind the national managers of promises made at St. Louis. The Democrats of the south and west say they were assured that there would be sufficient money to wage a successful fight. Stress was laid upon the promise that New York would practically take care of itself, and that there would be no lack of funds to meet the demands from other states.

Taggart is finding it difficult to persuade Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Belmont to meet his views as to what is necessary in Indiana. That state has so far received the most liberal supply of campaign documents, more than a million and a half, it is said, having been sent out there. But Mr. Taggart, is understood, is convinced that it will take a very liberal apportionment of campaign money to fulfill the hopes based upon the promises of Judge Parker's representatives at St. Louis, and he does not propose to face the situation there unless he can meet the demands that will crowd him.

ROYAL ENGAGEMENTS ARE VERY PLENTIFUL

Several Unions in the Reigning Families Now Interest European Society.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Oct. 12.—An epidemic of engagements in royal circles. Hardly had the German crown prince become engaged to Duchess Cecilie when his example was followed by King Alfonso of Spain, although this engagement has not yet been made public.

Now comes from Madrid news that Infante Marie Theresa, sister of the king, is engaged to Prince Ferdinand Marie of Bavaria, eldest son of Prince Ludwig Ferdinand. Maria Theresa was born November 12, 1882, while Prince Ferdinand is two years her junior, being born in 1884. His father is married to Infanta Marie de Paz.

ENDYMION TO BE REPAIRED.

Damaged Yacht of George Lauder, Jr., Goes to Newport News Drydock.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The yacht Endymion, owned by George Lauder, Jr., which was rammed yesterday off Old Point Comfort by the tug Sallie of Norfolk, and later beached, was raised today and with a tug on each side constantly pumping to keep her afloat, was towed to the shipyard here for repairs. The yacht's bowsprit was almost carried away and she reached shallow water only with the assistance of two tugs, which stood by her after the accident.

The Endymion will go in drydock here and be placed in seaworthy condition.

STRIKE IS TO END SOON.

President Shaffer Says the Youngstown Trouble Will Be Settled Next Week.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The visit of President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association to this city today was the forerunner of the settlement of the steel hope strike, which will occur next week. President Shaffer told the committee of the strikers with whom he met this afternoon that such would be the case.

He left tonight for New York to meet with President Corry of the United States Steel Corporation and Judge Gary, chairman of the executive board, to arrange for the conference which will result in the settlement.

BELIEVES FIRST VOTERS WILL SUPPORT ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Chairman Cortelyou's callers yesterday included J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who was re-elected president of the National Republican league at Indianapolis last week. He said he believed 90 per cent of the first voters would support Roosevelt.

STEEL ACCEPTS TREASURY JOB

Councilman and Former Banker to Succeed Edward J. Frauenheim.

CHOICE OF BIGELOW

New City Treasurer Was Opposed to the Four Favored Banks Proposition.

MAYOR HAYS FEARED REFUSAL

John F. Steel has been appointed city treasurer by Mayor Hays to succeed E. J. Frauenheim, resigned. Mr. Steel will this morning call upon the mayor and formally accepted the appointment. He will resign his seat as member of common council from the Twenty-second ward and the mayor will call a special election to fill the vacancy. The appointment of Mr. Steel was made last evening shortly before 5 o'clock. He was at the office of J. Smiley Wightman, 104 Wood street, when the mayor's messenger brought him the following letter:

Pittsburgh, Oct. 12, 1904.

Mr. John F. Steel, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir: I have this day appointed you treasurer to succeed Mr. E. J. Frauenheim, resigned. Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM B. HAYS,
Mayor.

"I will call upon the mayor tomorrow morning and accept. I will file my bond and assume my duties at once," said Mr. Steel. "The place was not offered me until about 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Allegheny National bank, where I met Mayor Hays. Mr. Wightman was present. I have no idea whom my successor will be in common council."

Steel Was Bigelow's Choice.

The selection of Mr. Steel was the choice of Director E. M. Bigelow. Mr. Steel is a cousin of Director Bigelow and the late C. L. Magee. From 1888 until its absorption by the Colonial Trust Company, he was cashier of the Freehold bank and was regarded as one of the most successful bankers in the city. Since his retirement from the Freehold bank about a year ago he has been acting as receiver for a firm and attending to private business affairs, which are extensive, as Mr. Steel is a wealthy man. It was not generally believed yesterday that Mr. Steel would accept the appointment, but pressure was brought upon him during the afternoon by the mayor, Director Bigelow, William Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank, and Mr. Wightman, who is the colleague of Mr. Steel from the Twenty-second ward, and his personal friend.

Afraid it Would Be Declined.

After meeting Director Bigelow and discussing the matter, Mr. Steel went to Mr. Wightman's office in Wood street and the mayor was notified that Mr. Steel would probably accepted the appointment. The appointment was type written and hastily dispatched to Mr. Steel in care of the mayor's messenger, Stanley Mills.

Even after sending the appointment Mayor Hays was very much afraid that it would not be accepted, and for this reason refused to make the appointment known.

Mr. Steel does not expect nor does President Wightman anticipate any opposition in select council to confirming the appointment. Mr. Wightman said yesterday that should select council refuse to confirm the appointment, it would not prevent Mr. Steel from holding office and acting as city treasurer, as there will be no trouble in getting bondsmen regardless of the action of select council. The bond required of the city treasurer is $100,000, and Mr. Steel has been assured that the bond will be forthcoming tomorrow.

Steel Opposed Favorite Banks.

As city treasurer Mr. Steel will be compelled to perform the duties which Mr. Frauenheim, his predecessor, said was disagreeable to him. Treasurer Frauenheim, as he stated exclusively in The Gazette yesterday, said he objected to placing millions of the city funds in four favored banks that will pay the city only 2 per cent interest. The banks were selected by the administration and councils in June, and the money is to be transferred to the new depositories at the beginning of the next fiscal year, February 1, 1905. The contract is for four years.

Mr. Steel will be compelled to transfer these funds as the administration and council have directed, although he was bitterly opposed to their selection and opposed the resolution in councils. President Wightman also fought the resolution with Mr. Steel, and at first threatened to refuse to sign it as president of select council, but he changed his mind and did sign it. Wightman was angry because the First National bank, of which his father is vice president, was dropped from the list of city depositories.

Charter Act Being Violated.

After appointing John F. Steel treasurer last evening Mayor Hays sent the following letter to E. J. Frauenheim, the retiring treasurer:

Pittsburgh, October 12, 1904.

Mr. E. J. Frauenheim, City:

Dear Sir—I hereby accept your resignation as city treasurer and have this day appointed John F. Steel as your successor. Yours respectfully. WILLIAM B. HAYS, Mayor.

Frauenheim said that he was ready to turn over the office to Steel as soon as the latter had filed his bond and signified his readiness to take charge. He expressed surprise, however, that Steel intended to take charge before he had been confirmed by select council.

"I was appointed treasurer last April and did not take charge until June," said he. "This was done purposely and upon the advice of Solicitor Rodgers, who advised that I wait until I had been confirmed by select council. If the new charter act is examined I think you will find that confirmation is required first, as was done in my case, but I will give up the office without delay."

PUBLIC IRE HAS BEEN AROUSED

Prominent Citizens Denounce Scheme to Destroy Beauty of Court House.

OSTERLING DEFENDS PLANS

Lovers of architectural beauty were startled yesterday when the announcement was made that two additional stories are to be placed on the court house. To them it seems like an act of vandalism.

The court house is the pride of Pittsburgh and its beauty has called forth the admiration of travelers from all parts of the globe. It stands as a monument to Henry Hobson Richardson, one of the world's greatest architects. He died before it was completed and in the closing hours of his life expressed the wish that the Allegheny county court house should stand as his masterpiece.

The claim is made that more room is needed at the court house, and the judges and commissioners have had plans made to secure the additional space by adding two stories to the structure. The mere mention of the fact has caused great indignation. It is the general opinion that to make any change in the present building will entirely destroy its architectural beauty. A number of prominent men were interviewed last night and they all agree that nothing should be done to change the structure. If more room is needed, the plan of erecting an additional building on the site of the old university is advocated.

Opinion of Frank Alden.

"The addition of two stories to the court house would ruin the appearance of the building," said Frank E. Alden of the firm of Alden and Harlow, architects. "The court house is a sample of the best modern architecture in the country and it is a pity that it should be deliberately disfigured. Instead of adding more stories to the court house, the county should buy more property and build on it, which could be done for almost the same money. There should be a popular uprising to prevent the design to ruin the court house being carried out."

"Richardson, the architect who designed and built the court house, said on his deathbed that he wanted his work to be judged by the court house in Pittsburgh, and it would be a shame, indeed, if this beautiful specimen of architecture should be spoiled," said Starling W. Childs, president of the Voters' Civic league and a member of the Allegheny county bar.

"The building of two more stories to the court house will make it more convenient than erecting an additional building, but it would probably spoil the appearance of the court house," said Thomas Terlott, president of the Allegheny County Bar association.

Would Destroy Proportions.

"I think that architecturally the court house is all right, and I believe the two more stories would destroy the proportions of the structure," said Attorney Thomas Patterson.

"I don't think it is a good plan to raise the court house up in the air," said City Treasurer E. J. Frauenheim. "Rather should the county spread out in different buildings, as it is rich and can well afford it."

"I am not in favor of changing the appearance of the court house. It is all right as it stands, and to make it any higher would mar it greatly," said John F. Steel, the newly appointed city treasurer.

"The scheme to add two more stories to the court house is intended to give some person benefit at public expense," said Attorney A. M. Imbrie. "The court house is one building in the county and the state that was put up without graft, but I have doubts that this will be the case with the present scheme. It is entirely unnecessary to put two or three more stories on the court house, for which I am reliably informed the plans have already been prepared. The court house, as it stands, is a credit to the city and should be kept so."

Should Not Add Stories.

"It is not hard to recall that Judge Mellon sought to restrain the building of the court house, because it would be too big a building, and what would it be with several more stories on top. If two stories could be put on, why not six stories? I don't believe that public buildings should be straight up and down and I don't believe that they should be cut up as is being done inside the court house, with shelves everywhere, making it almost useless for public business. Take the commissioners' office for instance. It is so cut up with shelves and partitions that if a fire started there it would soon be cleaned out.

"Of course, more space is required, but what the county should do is to buy the whole of the block in Diamond from Grant to Ross street for another building. Some time ago I urged the commissioners to buy the Third United Presbyterian church property, which could have been purchased for $200,000 or less, and now it could not be purchased for twice that amount."

Architect F. J. Osterling, who drew the plans for the proposed additions, last night made this statement about what is contemplated:

Osterling Defends the Scheme.

It is the intention to extend the present court house building two additional stories in height. These stories to be used for court purposes, and will alleviate the total height of the building 50 feet. Each of the new court room stories will be 25 feet in height, about the same height as the ceiling of the present court rooms. The tower will not be extended, but will remain intact. The architecture will not be affected in the least on account of the additions to the building proper.

The roof now on the building will be placed on top of the additional stories, with the cornices, dormer windows and all architectural features exactly as on the present building. The exterior walls of the top story on the present building will be taken down to the sill course of the windows in order to continue the same architectural treatment of the lower stories for the additional height of the building. There will be no deviation whatever from the present style of architecture.

The additional height will in every particular enhance the beauty of the old building, and will relieve and improve upon the present dwarfed appearance of the building proper. The same lines of architecture and character of workmanship are to be carried out in detail for the new work. The old and soot-stained granite will be cleaned to its original color, and when completed the building will appear as an entirely new building, and as though it were so originally designed.

Want to Get Away from Noise.

There will be a great advantage in having the court rooms on the top floors of the building, as they will be at such an elevation as to avoid the noise from the streets below, which is quite a serious objection to the present court rooms. In addition there will be a great advantage in light and air at the proposed elevation.

Each of the rooms in the additional stories is to be thoroughly heated and ventilated by a separate mechanical heating and ventilating system to be placed in the roof space. A complete change of air in each room is contemplated every 10 minutes.

The elevator service in the present building is to be supplanted by eight high-speed elevators, two in each of the four corners of the building, respectively, which will give easy and rapid access to all of the court house.

Each of the three courts, including the criminal court, together with the two additional courts to be created, will be provided with three court rooms en-suite. The rooms generally will be of the same size as the present ones and with the same height of ceiling. Each of the rooms will have a separate judge's chamber, directly connected to the bench, and a robing room jointly arranged between the court rooms for the convenience of the judges. There will also be additional rooms for witnesses and juries in the mezzanine story over the witnesses' and judges' chambers.

Rooms for New Courts.

The top or fifth floor of the building will contain courts No. 1, 2 and 3. The new fourth floor will contain courts No. 4 and No. 5, and the criminal court.

The offices of the clerk of courts will be removed from the first floor to the new fourth floor convenient to the new court rooms. The district attorney and his assistants will also be provided with new quarters, adjoining the criminal court rooms on the new fourth floor. The law library will also be placed on the new fourt floor and will be much more spacious than the present quarters. The library will communicate with the top floor by means of special elevator service.

The orphans' court rooms are to remain on the second floor. The register of wills and the clerk to the orphans court will be moved from the first floor to the second floor, adjoining the orphans court. The moving of the register's office to the second floor will permit of a much needed extension to the recorder's office.

According to the new arrangement the prothonotary's quarters will be transferred to the present court rooms on the second floor, immediately over their present location, and will cover the entire Fifth avenue side of the building. The new files recently placed in this office can easily be transferred and adapted to their new location.

Change in Location of Offices.

The county treasurer's office is to be transferred to the present prothonotary's rooms, which will give the office the much desired additional room. The sheriff's office will remain in its present location on the first floor, and will be extended to include the room now occupied by the clerk of courts.

The county commissioners' office will be extended and take in the room now occupied by the county controlers, and the controller transferred to the quarters now occupied by the county treasurer. The various county officers and transcribing rooms now on the third floor are to remain intact, including the supreme court rooms.

The new arrangement as contemplated with the additional stories will relieve all of the county offices and courts of their present crowded condition and will in every way be more suitable than the old arrangement. The plans as presented are the result of many months of close and careful study in detail by the architect, the judges and county officials.

Still Getting Worse Mixed.

OYAMA REPORTS FIGHT PROGRESSING FAVORABLY

Dispatches from Three Armies to Tokyo Show Desperate Character of the Battle.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Oct. 13.—(9:30 a. m.)—Field Marshal Oyama, telegraphing from the field yesterday, says that operations are progressing favorably.

Reports dispatched from the scene of the battle now raging along an extended front from a central point north of Yentai westward across the railroad southeast of Bensihu on the Taitse river shows the struggle continued undecisively throughout the day.

The right army, reporting, says:

"The enemy's artillery opened a severe attack at 10 o'clock Tuesday against our forces at Bensihu. Fighting is now progressing, the enemy bombarding points between Ta pass and Bensihu. In the direction of Tumentsu pass another artillery duel is progressing. Our detachment sent to the left bank of the Taitse river returned after driving the enemy back. The enemy has some guns near Tayupu, on an upper stream of the Taitse river. The enemy is holding a line from Tumentsu pass to Bensihu. The right column of the right wing and the left column continued severe fighting until sundown. The left wing of the left column operating with the right column and the center army are trying to attack the enemy, posted at Sanchiatzu, but the progress of the front, center and left wing is very favorable.

The center army reports that its right column, which has been occupying the heights north of Yamentzu since yesterday, is co-operating with the left column of the right army and began advancing toward Ouchiatau, which place it attacked. "It was sundown," says the report, "before we could effect our intended advance."

The left army reported as follows: "The advance effected by us today has been comparatively favorable. We are continuing the attack against a line extending from Patchiapo to Lultunkow. Should the commander be unable to accomplish his purpose before sundown, he will continue the attack during the night and the following day. The enemy opposing us numbers at least two divisions."

PRESIDENT FINDS NO GROUND FOR INTERVENTION IN KONGO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Pressure is being brought to bear upon the president to induce him to act favorably upon the memorial relative to the Kongo state recently presented to him by Dr. Morel. The president is giving serious consideration to the subject, but so far has not been able to find legal warrant for intervention.

Must Marry or Be Deported.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—In order to be with friends, a young English couple, who arrived on the steamer Westernland last Sunday, shipped as man and wife. The immigration authorities here discovered the deception and ordered them to marry before next Saturday or be deported. As they are both engaged to others in England, they refuse and have taken an appeal to Washington, where their case is under consideration.

THE FRUIT BUSINESS IS BEING RUINED

Inter-State Commerce Commission Hears More Charges of Extortion.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The alleged extortionate charges and arbitrary practices of the Armour Car Company were again the subject of careful examination by the interstate commerce commission at its closing session this afternoon, and the commission finally adjourned pending a special call, with the investigation suspended. Charges of gross oppression were made by several commission men of Chicago and other points, who have had to depend on the Armour car system for the transportation of their produce.

George F. Mead of George F. Mead & Co., fruit dealers, and vice president of the National Association of Commission Men of Boston, stated that the tactics adopted by the Armour company are fast ruining the commission business all over the east.

"Armour & Co. have practically demoralized the fruit business east of the Alleghenies," declared Mr. Mead in his testimony. "Not only do they charge extortionate prices for icing cars containing fruits, but they have undermined the market as well. For instance, they know through private sources that a car of fruit is to be shipped into Hartford on a certain day, and having, say two cars of this same fruit at Springfield, run one of them down to Hartford and when the car for the local commission man arrives he finds the market sold out from under him."

"What of the $25 rebate on cars shipped from western points, claimed by the Armour representatives in their testimony?" asked one of the members of the commission.

"I am sure we have never heard of them," was the reply. "I will be carrying interesting news back to Boston, for no one of my acquaintance ever saw a rebate of any kind."

A. L. Somers, a South Water street commission merchant, was the next witness called. Mr. Somers testified that the Armour company's charges are far in excess of the actual cost for icing cars, and he cited several instances where he had been charged $45 for icing a car for a trip of 200 miles or less, comparing the rate with one of $10 made by the Santa Fe railroad for a trip of 700 miles.

NUNS WILL APPEAL TO FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

Wish to Recover 19 Children Taken from Them by Citizens of Arizona.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Three sisters and four nurses of the New York Foundling hospital returned from Arizona today and told of their experience in that territory and how their lives were threatened, because they sought to place children with Catholic Mexicans.

The sisters went to Clifton and Morenci, Ariz., to deliver 40 foundlings to Mexican families, under the authority of a priest of that district. The foundling hospital will appeal to the federal authorities to recover from the residents of these towns 19 children who were taken from the nurses.

STRIKERS RIOT AT CHICAGO.

Non-Union Teamsters Are Protected from Violence by the Police and Detectives

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Rioting occurred in connection with a strike of baggage wagon drivers employed by the Frank E. Scott Transfer Company today. Attacks on wagons were repulsed by a squad of policemen at the barns of the company and by a force of private detectives employed to patrol the districts.

Attempts to send out wagons met with determined resistance by pickets, aided by sympathetic teamsters. As fast as the wagons got a few blocks away the drivers were stoned and attempts made to cut the horses' traces. A non-union driver for the company was attacked by the driver of an ice wagon and threatened with an ax. Four arrests were made.

POLICIES RUINOUS.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw tonight addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting here. Secretary Shaw said in part:

"The worst financial and industrial conditions that ever existed in this country, at the close of a period of Democratic control, was during Mr. Cleveland's last administration. I said this not to be unkind, nor to charge the Democratic party with purposely ruining the country, but for the sake of historic accuracy and to impress you young men that Democratic policies always have and always will bring the same results, not because the policies are advised by bad men, but because they are incorrect."

SIX INJURED IN WRECK ON BALTIMORE & OHIO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Westbound train No. 9, the Pittsburgh express on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad leaving Washington at 9:15 p. m., was partly derailed at Garrett Park, Md., tonight. Six persons were slightly injured. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

CAPTURED VESSEL WITH CONTRABAND OF WAR

Japanese Take Steamer Which Attempted to Run Port Arthur Blockade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Oct. 12.—The steamer Fu Ping, carrying munitions of war, was captured by the Japanese off Port Arthur today. The Fu Ping was attempting to violate the blockade of Port Arthur.

CHEFOO, Oct. 12.—Japanese who arrived here today from Port Dalny report that additional heavy guns are now dropping shells into the harbor of Port Arthur. One shell recently severely damaged the Russian battleship Retvizan.

The repulse from High hill, the Japanese say, was the only reverse which the Japanese before Port Arthur have suffered. On the other hand, the Japanese have destroyed two redoubts, which gave the Russians a flanking fire from Rihlung mountain against their assailants, and the Japanese remain in six other captured fortifications south of Shuishiying.

The Japanese consider that the progress they have made is satisfactory and believe that the capture of the fortress, although slow, is certain to be accomplished.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 12.—A refugee from Port Arthur, who has arrived here, says that a sortie of the Russian fleet was contemplated but that it was frustrated by a Japanese bombardment from the batteries overlooking the east basin. The British steamer Fu Ping, which was captured by the Japanese off Port Arthur today, was purchased with seven other vessels by Russian agents here, for the purpose of running the blockade with contraband of war for the fortress.

HEAVY CANNONADING IN THE FOOTHILLS

Indicationes That Greater Fighting Is in Progress—Japanese Poorly Clothed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Oct. 12.—The heaviness and regularity of the cannonade since 5 o'clock this morning in the foothills and west of the railway, indicate that greater fighting is in progress.

The condition of four Japanese wounded from along the railway, who were sent by the Red Cross to Mukden, and other prisoners taken, shows that part of the Japanese troops are inadequately clothed for the present cold weather.

Along the battle line some of the Chinese have built bomb proofs, from the protection of which they are gathering crops between the cannonading. Other Chinese are moving their effects here and there amid the ruthless waste of their grain and other property by the contending armies.

DALZELL PREDICTS VICTORY.

Expresses Belief That West Virginia Is as Certain for Roosevelt as Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Representative Dalzell of Pittsburgh, was in the city today, having just returned from a speaking tour in West Virginia.

"From what I heard and observed during that tour," he said, "I am as confident that the Republican national ticket will have a majority in West Virginia, as I am that Pennsylvania will give its vote for President Roosevelt. There is a question as to the state ticket, but the national ticket will win."

FEWER SOLDIERS SOLVES PROBLEM

South African Presiding Elder of A. M. E. Church Talks of Conditions in His Country.

ENSLAVING TAXES PREVAIL

"We are making about the same struggle to obtain justice in South Africa that our brethern are in the southern states of this country," said the Rev. J. G. Xaba, presiding elder of the Cape Town district of South Africa, who came to Pittsburgh to attend the testimonial given last Monday evening to the Rev. W. B. Anderson, pastor of the St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal church, Brownsville avenue. Besides Elder Xaba, the Rev. R. A. Lealy, presiding elder of the West Indies and South America, was present and participated in the exercises.

Elder Xaba is a classical scholar, speaking eight different languages and was born in South Africa. There is a charming accent to his English, although his vowels are so broad that at times it is difficult to understand him. In appearance he resembles a Boer, wearing as he does the typical Paul Kruger beard. He talked very freely about the social problems of his country and is hopeful that with the progress of civilization they will all be solved.

Continuing the African divine said: "There has been very little change in our condition since the Boer war. We are still subjected to enslaving taxes. There have been some very slight changes for the better, but most of the old oppressive laws have been confirmed by the English government. Perhaps I had better say that the local or colonial government is doing these things, for while the imperial government has promised us many reforms, and has passed a number of good measures, nothing of any great benefit has been put into effect by the local government. The situation is very much the same as it is in the southern states of this country. Our rights are being taken from us in defiance of the general government.

"Do you know that an American did more for South Africa than any other man? Well, Bishop William Taylor, of the Methodist Episcopal church, did more for the redemption of South Africa than Stanley, Livingston and all of the other explorers and adventurers combined. Those great men prepared the way for the development of the resources of the country. They made a way for the white men to enrich themselves, but Bishop Taylor reached down and gave the natives a helping hand. He did not have much help from this country, but his system did not need much help. He established what is called self-supporting missions.

"In these the natives were not only taught the Christian religion, but also to work. His favorite theory was that an idle mind is the devil's workshop. A lazy man cannot be a good Christian, he often would say, and he had a way of speaking this teaching among the most uncivilized people in South Africa. He established his self-supporting missions thoughout South Africa, penetrating farther than any other missionary and they are there today as a monument to the truest friend that ever came to Africa from a foreign land. Give us more Bishop Taylors and fewer soldiers and the problems of South Africa will be solved."

James Francis Burke in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The voice of James Francis Burke, the eloquent Pittsburgher, who is the Republican nominee for congress in his district, is to be heard at Ansonia, Conn., October 20. The remainder of that week Mr. Burke will have assignments in New York state. Attorney General Moody will speak at Charleston, W. Va., November 1.

One Prize Came Home.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—In the annual distribution of prizes for the best kept section of track the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has awarded one of the four $600 prizes to George E. H. Reinfeld and his assistant, W. W. Courts, of the Pittsburgh division.

The Fact Is as Evident as Sunshine

that advertising does pay. The enterprising merchant realizes this more and more each day. The thrifty buying public expect it and seek it. The question that confronts the intelligent business man is not "Whether?" but "How?" and "Where?" The Pittsburgh Gazette is read by more people in Allegheny county by many thousands than is any other morning or Sunday paper. On account of the quality of the paper the quantity is therefore assured. It is safe to say a very large portion of Gazette readers do not read any other paper. Taking this into consideration, it is not to be wondered at that The Gazette produces results to every advertiser using its columns. Advertising in The Gazette is an investment, not an expense.

BRIDE RODE IN A MULE WAGON

Brass Band Led the Way in East End Serenade Starting Honeymoon.

COW BELLS MADE A RACKET

The hearts of the bride and the bridegroom that were proclaimed to "beat as one," certainly furnished the only semblance of harmony last night, when Harry A. Miller and his new wife started on their honeymoon. The band played out of tune, horse fiddles made an endless racket, tin horns raised unceasing din, and when instruments of wood, brass, tin and dried sheepskin were worn out, the indefatigable serenaders lifted their voices in outlandish melody. The whole East End district turned out to see the grotesque parade, while the blushing bride and the much-perturbed bridegroom were driven from the Miller residence, at 455 Atlantic avenue, to the East Liberty station.

A theatrical scenery wagon, with spacious brond bed, decorated with bunting, was used in lieu of a carriage. Upon a settee in the center of the vehicle was the place of honor, and here everybody caught sight of the bride's blushes, which were in striking contrast with her blue traveling suit and pretty hat. Around about them, with their feet dangling over the sides of the wagon, sat a score of Mr. and Mrs. Miller's young friends, blowing horns, swinging rattles and singing rollicking melodies. Over the settee was a revolving transparency, which told the whole story of the wedding, the names of the pair and the happiness they expected to enjoy.

Two sober mules drew the wagon and they seemed to be the only things animate that took the occasion seriously. They had a heavy load to haul, and proceeded at a stupidly slow pace. Ahead of the mules was a brass band, which played music appropriate to any other occasion. The drums and cymbals drowned the music of the cornets, but nobody cared. The musician who rang a cowbell in the procession also carried a music sheet, and played by note.

At the railroad station the serenaders surrounded the happy pair and sang "London Bridge Is Falling Down," and showered rice until the Pittsburgh Limited came along and the honeymoon sojourners sought refuge in a drawing room.

The simplicity of the wedding ceremony was in marked contrast with the elaborate tortures of the serenade. The bride was Miss Saran Jona Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Miller of Atlantic avenue. The wedding was held on the birthday anniversary of the bride's mother and the Rev. William Coleman, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of West Alexander, Pa., performed the ceremony, having officiated also at the marriage of the bride's parents. After their wedding trip the bridal couple will be at home in Webster avenue, Herron Hill.

MILLION OR MORE FOR NEW HOTEL

Proprietor James Riley of the Schenley and Local Captialists to Open Summer Resort.

CONVENIENT TO THE CITY

If the present plans of James Riley, proprietor of the Hotel Schenley, and a party of Pittsburgh capitalists are realized a magnificent, exclusive summer hotel will be erected within 150 miles of Pittsburgh and will be ready for occupancy next season. It is proposed to spend $1,000,000 or more to suit the requirements of the project which, it is thought, will be the nucleus of a fashionable summer resort.

Realizing the necessity for a family hotel within easy reach of Pittsburgh, making it possible for business and professional men to return to their families each evening, Mr. Riley and his associates have been scouring the country within a radius of 150 miles from the city along all railroad lines for the proper site. Location on a lake front or near a large body of water is desired, while grounds of not less than 50 acres is an important requisite. Aside from these requirements Mr. Riley insists that the proposed site must be far removed from manufacturing or commercial interests, and furthermore must be free from the possibility of such interests locating in the immediate vicinity at any future time.

As a provision against such a possibility the interested parties stand prepared to take options on the surrounding territory and re-lease it under such conditions that can but lend an atmosphere of refinement to their project. This provision will no doubt assure an exclusive and fashionable community, and money is to be provided to insure this and to erect a modern hotel and beautify the grounds surrounding it.

Notwithstanding current rumors to the contrary, Mr. Riley stated emphatically last night that the desired site had not yet been secured.

"I have just returned from a tour along the Pennsylvania railroad," said he, "and while I viewed several proposed sites that appealed favorably to me in many ways, none filled my entire requirements, I trust I will be able to find something before the end of the year, as it is the fixed intention of myself and my associates to have our premises ready for occupancy by next season."

PORTER WANTS TO ENTER SUITS IN EJECTMENT

Allegheny's City Solicitor Will Ask Councils for Authority to Move Against the Railways.

If the city councils follow the suggestion of the mayor's cabinet, Allegheny will soon have two ejectment proceedings pending against railways which, it is claimed, are occupying property belonging to the city. One of these proceedings will be against the Baltimore & Ohio for the possession of the Smoky Island tract, and the other will be against the West Penn for the Church avenue strip.

At a session of the cabinet in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon resolutions were passed, asking councils to give the city solicitor the necessary authority to proceed against the railways, and the city solicitor has signified his intention of taking up the matter promptly. Just as he came out of the cabinet meeting, Mr. Porter said:

"The cabinet has passed resolutions asking councils to give me authority to go into court with these cases, and as soon as it does I will take up the matter promptly. The resolutions will be presented at the next meeting of councils. I have not fully decided what action I will ask the court to take, but presume I will endeavor to get possession of the property by ejectment proceedings. There was no other business of importance considered at the meeting. We simply discussed the business of the city in a general way."

NEW JEWISH CLUB.

Application Made for Charter for New Downtown Organization.

Pittsburgh will have its first Jewish business men's organization, when the charter is procured for the projected Harmony club, which was recently organized among prominent Jewish residents of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. It is intended to open rooms in the Fifth avenue district until more commodious quarters can be obtained downtown. If possible, the club will take up its abode on the top floor of a downtown skyscraper. The organization will be patterned after the Union and the Monongahela clubs.

The Harmony club will open its rooms about the beginning of the new year. The directors are Henry Finkelpearl, Charles H. Sachs, Simon Abels, Samuel P. Osgood, Harry C. Sirvan, M. R. Trauerman and others.

Cart Mail Men Needed.

Postmaster George L. Holliday is endeavoring to secure bids from persons in and about Pittsburgh for the cart mail collection service for the coming year. It is his intention to let the work out by contract. The invitations for bids were sent out several days ago, but so far no replies have been made.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR PUMPKIN CONTEST.

Who Can Make the Best Pie From the Largest Pumpkin? Who Has the Largest Pumpkin?

Pickering, the largest furniture store in the world, corner Tenth and Penn, Pittsburgh, wants every person that owns a pumpkin and thinks it is the largest to cut his name and address on it with a penknife, then take it to the express office and ship it to Pickering. All will be placed on exhibition in the big store Hallowe'en week. A committee will pick out the heaviest five.

1st Prize, $10.00 Rocking Chair.
2nd Prize, $ 5.00 Rocking Chair.
3rd Prize, $ 3.00 Rocking Chair.
4th Prize, $ 2.50 Rocking Chair.
5th Prize, $ 2.00 Rocking Chair.

Be sure to cut your name and address on the pumpkin, bring or ship it any time before Hallowe'en. Just as soon as yours arrives we will weigh it, keep an account of it and announce the winners' names next day after Hallowe'en, in our ads in all Pittsburgh papers.

No pumpkin received after Tuesday, October 25.

Pickering reserves the right to keep and give to the poor all pumpkins sent to him. But if you want the seeds saved for yourself we will do that for you, except the first prize. That must be ours to give away to farmers. You get your share of the seed.

The first prize pumpkin will be cut into 20 or more pieces and given to as many ladies as call for it on Wednesday, October 26. To the one making the best pie in one of Pickering's gas or coal ranges, will be given a $10.00 rocker; second best pie, $5.00 rocker; third best pie, $3.00 rocker. The 20 or more pies will be placed on exhibition Saturday, October 29, and on Hallowe'en night 20 boys with their hands tied behind them will eat the pies. The boy that finishes first receives $1 in gold, second $1 in silver.

The seeds of the first prize pumpkin will be done up into 100 or more envelopes. Each farmer calling after November 1 can have one package. Then next year the farmer that produces the largest pumpkin from Pickering's prize seed will receive $15.00 worth of merchandise; second largest, $10.00 merchandise; third, $5.00 merchandise.

Now for it. Who has the largest pumpkin? Send it or bring it to

PICKERING'S FURNITURE STORE,

Welcome to Incoming Excursionists.

Whenever you are in need of a paper pattern call at our Pattern department, Main floor, West. All McCall's patterns, just as soon as they are designed.

Today another semi-weekly excursion to the Exposition. On the theory that it is deeds, not words, which count, we take it that the best way of showing a cordial welcome to the excursionists from points around and about Pittsburg and Allegheny is to offer the very best possible values on said excursion days. The following very special values from their several departments in accordance with this belief.

We invite excursionists to make their store their headquarters during their stay in Pittsburg. Our Restaurant, Rest Rooms, Retiring Parlors are at your disposal, as well as the services of Sub-Station No. 29, a branch of the United States office.

Seamless Wilton Velvet Rugs--- 12 Feet by 9 Feet---$24.00.

The present wholesale price—we repeat it—wholesale price—is $25.00 each. Our order was given the manufacturer some months back, when prices were lower. The Rugs just came to hand, and though we could get much more for them, we are content with a very modest profit, and only too glad to be able to turn them over to our customers for so much less than others are asking.

In addition to the low price they have every desirable feature that pertains to high-class Wilton Carpets. They are seamless, the size, 12 feet by 9 feet, is a popular one, they are all worsted pile—the colors are not only beautiful, but fadeless—the patterns are the best and newest. In fact, they are suited in every way to grace any room in the house—drawing-room, bedroom or library.

Sterling Silver Tableware, 75c the Piece.

Pretty floral designs finished in shaded French gray. The bowls of the spoons and tines of the forks gold plated. These pieces are the same size and weight that sell regularly for $1.25. Today you can choose as many pieces as you wish from the following at 75c each:

Bonbon Tongs, Sugar Sifters, Sugar Spoons, Olive Spoons, Baby Spoons, Cream Ladles, Salad Forks, Bonbon Spoons, Mustard Spoons, Olive Forks.

Women's and Children's Stockings.

Whether you elect to pay 25c, or, say, $12.00 or $15.00, for a pair of hose, you will have greater variety for selection here than at any other store we know of. You will be sure of the latest ideas, too, as we go to Europe every year to learn what is and what bids fair to be fashionable in the line of hosiery. These prices tell their own story:

Women's black cotton Hose, embroidered in effective colorings, 25c.
Women's black German and English Lisle Hose, cobweb weight, as well as heavier grades, 50c, 75c, $1.00 a pair.
Women's black lisle Hose, plain or lace, embroidered in colors, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50.
Women's and children's black cashmere Hose, ranging in price from 25c to $3.00 a pair, according to quality.

Jersey Leggins—
Jersey Leggins for women and children—button or drawer design—$1.00 to $5.00.
Knitted Leggins, 35c to $1.25.

The Marconi System of Wireless Telegraphy.

Perhaps you don't think the subject pertinent to the daily bulletin of a department store. Wait a bit and you'll know you were over-hasty in arriving at conclusions.

An enterprising German manufacturer of mechanical Toys bought from the Marconi management the exclusive right to manufacture this greatest of inventions in miniature; decidedly a scientific educational toy feature.

It is in no wise different from the instruments now in use on steamships except that it is on a smaller scale. The outfit consists of a receiving and a sending station, an apparatus which is simplicity itself. The energy is derived from a strong solution of sal ammoniac which can be replenished at any time. There is no connection whatever between these two stations—the sending station can be placed in one room and the receiving station in another—then by means of a very simple code one can send messages to the heart's content in true Marconi style.

This is on exhibition in the East Basement; Toy Department.

Demonstration of the Rosalind Adjusters and Skirt Supporters.

Our demonstrator, whom you will find at the Notion Counter, center aisle, West store, will show you how simple both these contrivances are.

The Adjuster is a small affair, about four inches in length, which will make the waist line any desired length in front. It holds the waist firmly in place, gives a graceful outline to the figure and adds neatness around the belt. It does away with all pinning of shirtwaists, belts and skirts and takes but a minute to adjust.

Plain Adjusters, 25c—ornamental ones, 50c.
The Rosalind Skirt Supporter does away with carrying the long skirts. Holds the skirt in any desired position. 25c each.

Pastor Charles Wagner's Works.

On Sale in the Book Nook.

Just now, when so many strangers are in the city in attendance at the Pennsylvania Bible association, more people than ever are asking for the works of this eminent divine. "Simplicity is not a vanished good," says Pastor Wagner. His books teem with thoughts of comfort, words of counsel and helpful advice for every mood of doubt, distrust or despair.

"The Simple Life," $1.00.
"The Better Way," $1.00.
"By the Fireside," $1.00.

Real Garnet Jewelry.

Last week's steamer brought us a choice collection of Real Garnet Jewelry. It came from Bohemia, where the best garnets are found. All set in gold, the designs being reproductions of the old-fashioned styles, such as one's grandmothers and great-grandmothers delighted in.

There are Breastpins, Bonnet Pins, Stickpins, Necklaces and other pieces. The prices range from $1.00 to $20.00.

1,000 Waist Lengths for Greatly Reduced Prices.

Too many different kinds and qualities to go into detail as to prices, but in every case the price is greatly reduced. Low enough, in fact, to warrant you buying several patterns now, as you'll pay very much more for them if you buy them by the yard. There are:

All-Wool Challis. All-Wool Blousings.
All-Wool Waistings. All-Cotton Waistings.
Cotton and-Wool Waistings.

Ready this morning at the imported dress goods section, first floor, West.

Short Ends of Lining for Reduced Prices.

By short ends we mean pieces running from two yards to seven. You will know how to use such lengths.

Today we throw out on special table, center aisle, West store, 2,000 short ends of different sorts of linings—Percalines, black and colored Sateens, black and colored Silesias, Silks, together with Canvas and Crinoline.

Today select any of them at a much lower price than they sell for regularly.

On the Subject of Basketry.

We have recently enlarged and rearranged our Basket Department—more room, more light and larger stock as a result. We have no hesitation in saying that we can show a greater selection of baskets than any other retail house in the United States. We have baskets from every basket weaving country in the world and keep a number of experienced basket-makers in our own factory all the year 'round who do nothing but get our special designs.

Another branch of this business is the making and repairing of baby carriages, chairs, porch furniture of reed or rattan. As our imported baskets are bought direct, there is no middlemen's profit, consequently our prices are lower.

Bathroom Hampers, made of fancy straw and Vienna rush, $2 and up to $5.
Shopping Baskets, $1.25—special shapes, our own make—extra strong with handles that won't pull out.
Clothes Baskets, natural color, round or square, made of an extra quality of German willow, rimmed bottoms, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.
Hand-Painted Baskets—painted with quaint Dutch designs—Clothes, Handkerchief, Candy, Work and Scrap Baskets are shown in these painted designs. We are the first retail house to show this line of goods, which has become a fad in Europe. 35c to $2.00.
Basket Suit Cases, $1.00 to $5.00.
Silver Baskets, lined or unlined, 75c to $4.00.
Picnic, Tourist and Automobile Baskets, filled with utensils to accomodate two, four, six or eight people, $4.50 and up to $40.00.

New Dress Trimmings.

As navy blue and the different shades of brown are the colors which are most popular this Autumn, we made extra preparations in the way of trimmings to harmonize with these. We call attention to our exhibit of brown and navy appliques.

Brown and navy Laces and Bands, $1.00, $1.25, $2.50 a yard.
Brown and navy Braids, 15c, 20c, 25c and 40c a yard.
Brown and navy Soutaches, 25c, 40c and 75c dozen yards.
Brown and navy Novelties, 85c, $1.00, $1.25 and up to $3.00.
Brown and navy Leather Trimming, 50c to $1.00 a yard.

New Organdies—Advance Styles for 1905

As organdy is much used for evening dresses, we assume that women will be eager to see this first showing, as a hint of what will be worn next Summer. That they are imported French organdies goes without saying, and the printings are the prettiest it was ever our pleasure to present to women. Mostly floral designs in colors which contrast with white grounds.

We'll not attempt any lengthy description, merely tell you they are ready this morning in the first floor, West.

Prices are 35c, 45c and 50c a yard.

$5.00 10-Kt. Rimless Eyeglasses Today $3.50.

If you are in need of glasses you can't do better by waiting longer—the probabilities are you'll never get a lower price, and in the meantime your eyes are suffering by the delay. Only the best quality of sphereal lenses are used. Your eyes examined and the glasses properly fitted by an optician of many years' experience and study. Every pair guaranteed.

10-year filled Eyeglasses, best sphereal lenses, regularly $3.00, special today $2.00. Fitted to the eyes.
Eyeglass Hooks, gold filled, 25c each.
Regular $1.50 filled hairpin Eyeglass Chains, special today at 75c.

Thursday, October 13, 1904.

Mr. John F. Steel has been selected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of City Treasurer Frauenheim. Mr. Steel's eminent fitness of the office is unquestionable. No man knows better than he what rate of interest the city should get upon its deposits. It will be interesting to note whether he will be any more successful than Mr. Frauenheim in securing for Pittsburgh as good treatment as Allegheny county and Allegheny city receive from the banks.

An important meeting is that arranged for today by Rabbi Levy of Temple Rodeph Shalom. It will have no sectarian bias, but is wholly in the interest of peace and good will on earth. The idea of having a peace meeting in Pittsburgh came to Rabbi Levy while in attendance at the peace congress at Boston. With characteristic energy he began making arrangements and the meeting of today is the result. The list of speakers include men of international reputation and of national prominence. Among these is the famous author of "The Simple Life," whose work has attracted world-wide attention. Peace is desired by all right-thinking men. The purpose of such meetings as that of today is to discuss ways and means to satisfy this universal desire. The discussion will be of more than passing interest.

The appointment by Gov. Bates of Massachusetts of former Gov. Crane to succeed Senator Hoar will be ratified by the next legislature, provided Mr. Crane wishes to keep the office, for he is too popular in the state to arouse opposition. Mr. Crane is rich, a business man and naturally reticent, while the late Senator Hoar was poor, a scholar and an orator. In these traits their characters differed radically, but the new senator is unlike the modern type of a rich business man who has secured the office through influences in the legislature which were often questionable. Mr. Crane has a very keen sense of honor, and its exercise has often surprised the practical politician, while in nobility of character he does not fall below the standards set in that state for the office. His influence has been gained by plain common sense and not by wealth, which has never changed the simplicity of his life.

The Russians, who are now superior in numbers to the Japanese armies under Marshal Oyama, have definitely assumed the offensive and the war has entered upon a new phase. Severe fighting is now going on with results yet to become known, but dispatches from the Japanese generals indicate that they regard themselves as having the situation well in hand with a prospect of developing a counter-attack. According to one dispatch, a considerable Russian force has been cut off from its communications and that it ought to be destroyed or forced to surrender, but the Russians have at least shown themselves to be successful in managing a retreat, and it is unsafe to draw any inference as to what the result is likely to be. The operations are evidently going on over a wide front, and this time the Japanese have the advantage of fighting behind fortifications. Probably never in modern times has there ever been a greater number of combatants upon a battlefield, and the series of engagements now going on should be a decisive test of fighting capacity.

A new line of humane work has been inaugurated by the Pennsylvania railroad. Every baggage and cabin car is to be fitted with approved stretchers and a package of articles used in giving first aid to the injured. Every employe of the company is to be instructed in giving first aid, a lecturer having been employed for that purpose, who is already at work. There are many cases of injury along railroads that result fatally because medical attention is long delayed in reaching the unfortunate. The instruction of the employes of the Pennsylvania road is designed to reduce these cases to a minimum. Not merely for the benefit of passengers who may happen to be hurt, but more for the relief of employes who meet with accidents in the performance of their duties. Railroads probably have a larger number of accidents than other concerns, but it would be a good thing if this system of the Pennsylvania were adopted by corporations generally. In fact, every citizen ought to be instructed in giving first aid to the injured and every place in which many persons are employed should have the necessary supplies. Accidents will occur and no life ought to be lost for want of simple attentions.

Gen. Funston thinks that the United States ought to improve the quality of soldiers who enlist by increasing their pay so as to attract a better class of men to the service. He argues that it would be just as cheap to allow an increase in salaries as to spend so much time and energy in attempting to make good soldiers of such poor raw material. Such criticism of the character of American soldiers is unusual at least, for it has been customary to praise their intelligence and ability to take the initiative as compared with European soldiers. If there is an increase made in the soldier's monthly allowance of $13 it would not be likely to be more than a $2 advance. Does Gen. Funston think that such an increase would tempt men of better character and higher intelligence to enter the service? A general increase is not likely, however, so long as the "regulars" fill the quota of regiments and maintain such a high standard of efficiency. During the monotony of peace the private will be tempted to desert, no matter how generous his pay, and when there is war the recruiting stations are literally "swamped" with applicants to enlist.

In starting out to build up its own steel rail industry Canada has no hesitancy in piling up protection. In this country a protective duty of $7.98 a ton is denounced by the Democratic party as robbery. In addition to the imposition of a duty of $7 a ton, the Dominion government gives a cash bounty of $2.25 a ton and also a separate bounty of $2.25 upon steel ingots made from Canadian ore. The province of Ontario gives an additional bounty of $1 a ton. In addition to all this there is a special duty of $3.50 a ton which may be imposed upon imports of steel rails under what is known as the "dumping clause" of the tariff. The effect of these combined provisions is to give Canadian manufacturers an advantage of $16 a ton over those of the United States. British manufacturers meanwhile enjoy a tariff preference which it is calculated will secure to them so much of the Canadian demand as Canada's own iron industry cannot supply. The purpose of the present Canadian tariff and bounty arrangements is plainly to shut the product of American mills out of that market, and the matter deserves the attention of our government. The recent statement of Attorney General Moody to the Massachusetts Republican convention shows that our government is not only giving the subject attention, but will soon take action. Trade relations with Canada will be prominently before the next congress.

A Scheme of Vandalism.

That is an astonishing announcement which comes from the county commissioners' office! It is actually proposed to alter the court house by adding two stories to the building. It appears that Mr. J. F. Osterling was commissioned some months ago to prepare the plans, and he assures the public that "the additional height will in every particular enhance the beauty of the building." Indeed! With all due regard for Mr. Osterling's ability, the public will prefer the original Richardson design and will insist that the masterpiece of the greatest architect that America has produced shall be left just as he created it.

The pretext for this extraordinary scheme of vandalism is that the court house is no longer large enough to accommodate the courts. Well, if that is so, put up a fireproof hall of records on the Pittsburgh academy site, which belongs to the county and is right alongside of the court house on the south. Make that building large enough to provide any additional room that may be desired. Such an arrangement is a common one in other cities. It is a credit to New York that, notwithstanding the growth of the city has necessitated the construction of many public buildings, the graceful architecture of its old City hall has preserved that building intact, despite the fact that it has long since failed to provide the necessary accommodations. However great the needs of Allegheny county may become for additional court rooms or office space, the majestic architecture of our court house should never be impaired by the slightest change in its proportions. Whatever happens, spare that noble building.

If it should be held that it is essential to bunch all the county business in one building, then build a new one. Let Pittsburgh buy the court house for a city hall, and thus have the finest one in the world, while the county may put up a new court house on some suitable site. We should be perfectly willing to see Allegheny city considered in this respect if she becomes part of the county seat by coming in to form Greater Pittsburgh. We should not object to Mr. Osterling trying his hand on a design for that new court house, but deliver us from his designs upon a structure which is recognized all over the civilized world as one of the great architectural achievements of modern times.

Aggressive Mountain Democrats.

Probably there is more Democratic activity up in the mountain districts than anywhere else in Pennsylvania. Democrats are in the minority there, but they keep up the struggle when their fellows who are not so "high up in the world" give up. The Republicans, however, breathe the same ozone and are equally aggressive. Thus in the Nineteenth congressional district, composed of Cambria, Blair and Bedford counties, there is a battle royal. The Democrats and Prohibitionists have taken up a disgruntled Republican, Joseph E. Thropp, as their candidate and with a good campaign fund are making a lively canvass. The fight is bitter and full of personalities, but many Democratic votes will go to John M. Reynolds, the Republican candidate, because the Democrats can neither condone the past record of Thropp, nor indorse his promises that he will stand for Republican policies if elected. Thropp is a self-seeking fellow, who was sent to congress for one term by the Republicans of the district and is not now willing to concede the place to a better man. Naturally this sort of political alignment leads to personalities and the personalities have led to bitter feeling. The outcome should be to retire Thropp by a majority so decisive as to remove him permanently from the political field.

In the Thirty-fifth senatorial district, composed of two of the counties of the Nineteenth congressional, viz: Cambria and Blair, a hard fight is being made against Senator Jacob C. Stineman, who is a candidate for re-election for a third term. There is an outcry against the third term, as though a man might not aspire to as long service as that in the state senate. The opposition to Senator Stineman on that score is utterly senseless, for it is a generally recognized fact that a senator becomes more valuable to his constituency in proportion to the length of his term of service. Mr. Stineman was a creditable representative of his district during his first session at Harrisburg. He had earned an enviable reputation as a coal operator and business man in Cambria county before he became a candidate for office. He served two terms with credit to himself and his county in the house of representatives and was then sent to the senate in 1896.

Jacob C. Stineman is known to the people of Cambria and Blair counties as a man of the people. Their interests and his own are identical. He has grown up there as one of them and now, in the fullness of his years and the ripeness of his judgment, he is willing to serve them in the halls of legislation. He can get, as well as any man could, what the people of his district want. He has experience, he "knows the ropes" and the Thirty-fifth district would make a grievous mistake if it should fail to re-elect him again. There is good reason to believe it will not make that mistake, despite the fierce attacks of the mountain Democrats.

Good Law to Enforce.

On another page is printed the full text of the Pennsylvania law regulating the operating of automobiles or motor carriages. It is a good law to enforce. Under its provisions no such exhibition as the fatal race on Long Island can take place in this state. It prohibits speed exceeding eight miles an hour in cities or boroughs and limits the speed on county roads to one mile in three minutes, with special limitation for curves and when passing other vehicles. There is, moreover, a clause prohibiting dangerous operation under any circumstances. These provisions should meet the hearty approval of motorists who have regard for the rights of their fellow man and they should be put in force against all others. Regulation is necessary to prevent a demand for prohibition, the latter having found favor in one county in West Virginia.

This act wisely requires every automobile owned in this state to be registered, to carry its registered number conspicuously displayed where it may be seen after the machine has passed and to pay an annual fee. When these requirements are complied with the public has means of identification and the act designates the procedure in case of accident or damages. A careful perusal of the law will show that any citizen may set the machinery in motion to protect the public interest. It appears, however, that many persons are not aware of the existence of the law though it has been on the statute books for nearly four years.

It is announced that the Pittsburgh police bureau will act under this law in proceeding against an offender of recent date and that in future it will enforce the law rigidly. This is a proper course. The only objection is that the law has not been fully enforced in the past. There have been accidents in this city and Allegheny that have been clearly due to violations of the statute. There are frequent violations elsewhere. It is now up to the public to take enough interest in its own welfare to see that the law is observed and that officers of the law do their full duty. The safety of the public highways is of the utmost importance to the whole people.

Better slow down a bit, Controller Larkin, in complaints which reflect upon your own office. If those bills for traveling expenses are suspicious it is up to you to find out about them. That is what you are there for. Perhaps inquiry in the proper quarters may throw light upon the mystery. In addition to building a filtration plant, the problem of metering the service is to be worked out and those visits to other cities may have something to do with that.

There is no possibility of successful denial of the fact that sale of the filtration bonds in bulk at this time would be expensive for the city. That and the neglect to consider the sinking fund are sufficient reasons for selling the bonds serially as needed for the work.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Dock passes are to be a scarce article reserved for the privileged few hereafter. Since livery stable agents, express company porters and hotel runners are to be the first barred, ordinary folks coming home from Europe will be pleased rather than otherwise. But it will also be more difficult hereafter to secure permission to meet incoming friends on the pier. All because of many thefts of passengers' luggage. The new rule was put into force because of many complaints from the Atlantic Transport Company, the North German Lloyd and the White Star line. These lines complained that so many dock passes "to meet incoming friends" were issued as to make it impossible for the companies to keep track of their patrons' personal effects. Thefts of luggage from the Atlantic Transport line have continued for months, it was stated today, and the efforts of private as well as municipal detectives to find the guilty ones have been unsuccessful. The line has several suits against it for luggage lost on the pier.

In the case of the White Star line it is claimed that the granting of admission tickets to the customs enclosure resulted in one instance in friends taking so many alien immigrants from the pier that the company has been fined $9,000 by the immigration authorities. The law requires that every alien coming second cabin or steerage be transferred to the immigration bureau on Ellis Island for registration. Many immigrants were secretly taken from the pier to the city without complying with the law by friends who, it is claimed, had custom house passes.

Son of Our Own Hero.

F. B. Hawkins, first lieutenant in the Twenty-seventh United States infantry, is a guest at the York hotel, having arrived this morning from Fort Sheridan. As Pittsburgh people well know, Mr. Hawkins is a son of Col. A. L. Hawkins, a monument to whose valor was dedicated in Schenley park a short time ago. Lieut. Hawkins comes to New York on the same prosaic errand that takes society women to Paris—the replenishment of his wardrobe. He says there is only one place in the country to buy military trappings for men, and that place spells Fifth avenue, New York. Mr. Hawkins is a clear-cut son of his father—and that's a mighty high compliment to the young soldier.

Be Careful Where You Drink.

The "striker farm" tragedy, in which almost a score of lives were lost from drinking a decoction of wood alcohol labeled whisky, has caused unwonted activity on the part of the police. In West Forty-seventh street today John Lyne started to take a drink out of a bottle when Policeman Leacraft snatched the flask from his hands. Naturally Lynne was angry and said that he was wet outside and dry within, and wanted to equalize conditions. Leacraft concluded to arrest Lyne for intoxication, and the whisky flask was sealed up and sent to the board of health to be analyzed.

Babies Furnish Many Tales.

New York papers today were full of baby stories. On the Oceanic, from Liverpool, for instance, J. Nicholas Butler, aged 4, of Providence, R. I., arrived. This autocrat has blue eyes, blond, curly hair, straight, chubby legs, a winning smile, a sweet disposition and something like $10,000,000. He confided to the reporters an ambition to go west and kill Indians with an air rifle which he proudly displayed. Another baby is the subject of a "For Sale Ad" at Elizabeth, N. J. It was left with Mrs. John Arndt some weeks ago, and she is paid regularly from some mysterious source for its care, but she wants to get rid of it and would sell it or give it away, she says. Then there is Mrs. Frances Bell, who told the police today that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rose McDermott, is trying to deprive her of her 4-year-old daughter. Mrs. McDermott proudly exhibited a bill of sale, which testifies that she purchased the child for 1 cent. It proved too much for the police magistrate to decide. The body of a male child three days old was found in the doorway of Holy Trinity church in Brooklyn today.

Jealous of Sister, Kills Her.

But the most pathetic baby story comes from Nyack. Emmett Robinson, aged 3 years and 8 months, killed his baby sister because he was jealous. After the arrival of the baby Emmett missed the attentions he was wont to receive. If he wanted to play he was told not to make a noise. "Little sister has to sleep." The kisses and pettings that were once his seemed to be transferred to the newcomer, and Emmett sulked in a corner. At last came his chance. He was alone with baby. His mother came in answer to his cry: "Oh, mamma! come and see baby." What she saw was Emmett standing by the crib with the iron bar in his hand. It was covered with blood and baby was dead, her little head being battered frightfully. Today at the funeral he broke down and cried, but "I'm glad she's gone!" he declared defiantly.

A Place Hard to Fill.

"Don't die, Grandpa! Who will sing 'The Star Spangled Banner' on the Fourth of July?" was the plaintive appeal of the little grandson of John C. Lascomb of Lebanon on Monday, as he stood at the bedside while the aged veteran's life fast ebbed away. "Little one," whispered the dying man, "I've forgotten that. I sing 'Rock of Ages' now," and he sank back dead. Lascomb, a veteran soldier of 71, once sang his favorite song standing on the steps of the national capitol, on the occasion of McKinley's first inauguration.—Media American.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Ah, who can tell how hard it is to climb
The steeps where Fame's proud temple shines afar?
—James Beattie.

No one can tell what it will cost to become famous; nor can any know what the cost has been to those who have achieved fame.

The ease with which a great musician plays, or with which a great speaker speaks, or with which a great master does things for which he is famous, is very misleading to those who look on and enjoy and become enthused over that which is done.

Men have been crowned great because they won victories, or, rather, because they were the commanders of victorious armies; whereas those whom they nominally defeated displayed the greater genius and skill, and were really defeated by an accident of war. But the really great generals, those who will go down in history as truly great, won on merit and by diligent effort.

The first two years of the War of the Rebellion were devoted to trying out the officers and men; that is, to proving them as to their fitness to command and to serve.

Every campaign in the eastern army resulted in the unseating of a commander who had been honored as great and wonderful, until near the close, when the tried out armies were given into the hands of men who had been tried out and found to be unselfish, earnest and ambitious to bring the war to a close rather than to become renowned as champions of bloody fights.

It was during these two years that so many blazing military lights were snuffed out, or went out for lack of oil.

Among these was Gen. Buell, of whom mention was made in this column recently in connection with the battle of Perryville.

Since then several letters have been received concerning this brilliant but ill-fated officer—ill-fated because it seems that he did not do as well as he knew how, for he was one of our best educated soldiers.

Among these letters is one from a staff officer in McCook's command, which will be read with interest, although it settles no single point at issue.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer—There was something in your conclusions after citing some important points determined by the commission appointed to investigate Gen. Buell's management of the East Tennessee and Perryville campaigns that seems to me unjust to an unfortunate commander of the Union forces.

You doubtless know that the censure Bragg was subjected to throughout the south and at Richmond for his failure to destroy the Federal army and maintain himself in Kentucky was as great, if not more severe than that which resulted in deposing Buell from command of the army.

Bragg, Wheeler, Basil Duke, Maj.-Gen. Gilbert—a score or more participants in the campaign—are on record, and all agree that both armies were misinformed upon matters of vital importance. Buell's review of the campaign contains more than 15,000 words; Gen. Wheeler's review makes 11,000. No detail bearing on results is overlooked. I do not think anybody can find in any expression of any commander of a division or corps anything that warrants even the surmise that Buell was jealous of Gen. Alex. McDowell McCook—or of any other general.

Buell was selected and sent west after Anderson resigned the command in the west because he was rated the best disciplinarian in the Army of the Potomac. His brigade was cited as an example—a model. Unfortunately the bulk of the Federal forces in the west were not "built" in a way that could, by any possibility, be made receptive when a commander disposed to exact rigid adherence to details of minor importance persisted in the east, where dress parades for the gratification of fashionable folk in Washington and endless drills and guard duty wearied the life of volunteers. There was enough of that to take the heart out of "citizen soldiers." In the west matters were managed more nearly in accord with the American idea—and the men fought just as well, as hard, long and successfully as the drilled to death men.

I was in a position where, of necessity, I had to visit division and corps headquarters frequently, where I would hear all the gossip flying from all headquarters, and it is pleasing to remember that I never, save in one or two instances, heard anything belittling or derogatory to or in disparagement of any commander. Even then, I only recall one instance where malice was manifested.

Perhaps the truth may be best illustrated by an incident that fell under my observation.

When Gen. Alex. McD. McCook (commanding the advance—his own and Crittenden's troops—about 17,000 men) was ordered to proceed from Battle Creek up the Sequatchie road toward Chattanooga, the commands were in column from 9 o'clock at night until 3 or 4 next morning before they marched. The men were in a lovely temper, of course. Gen. Willich's regiment was at the head of the column. Willich was riding with McCook. I was riding beside Willich's adjutant, 100 feet interval possibly separating us. About 10 o'clock I saw a man in butternut approaching us at a rapid gait. The adjutant informed me when he was able to see the man's face that he was one of the best spies McCook had. I think he was a member of the Forty-second Ohio infantry.

The moment the man neared them Gen. Willich turned around, said something to his adjutant in German and the adjutant ordered a halt. McCook and Willich dismounted and sat on the roadside talking to the man in brown. It seemed a long seance to me. Suddenly McCook got up, mounted his horse and said: "I am not afraid to fight, but I don't want to fight all Bragg's army." It was said in a laughing way—the general was the soul of good humor. His next words were addressed to me:

"Mr. Blank, go back and tell the commanders of regiments to 'about face' and march by the left back immediately."

"What about the wagons, General?"

"Oh! let them smash through fences and pull out in the woods any way."

That was the way we sauntered up and down the Sequatchie valley. We got back to our starting point about 4 p. m. (Headquarters did.) While the tents were going up I went in quest of water. Passing Gen. McCook's tent he was saying—and saying it loud enough for several around to hear him: "I'm going to stay where I am. This is the fourth order I've received in an hour—all of them conflicting."

We stayed. A shower came up by the time coffee was made. I asked one of my men to bring in the Sharp's rifles lying outside the tent that they might be kept dry; he pulled one in; the second caught, the bullet passing clean through his neck. Supper was forgotten in the fright, but as water was handy and towels around, what with my thumbs on each side of the victim's neck, compresses made by folding towels and almost choking the wounded man twisting a wet towel around his neck. Very soon we sat down again, every man satisfied that our comrade's time was brief.

The surgeon said I had done all that could be done; possibly the man might live, but he wouldn't if I didn't see that the cloth was kept cool. I liked Sharp too well to trust the job to anybody else, so I sat beside him until we moved the next morning, then took him in a wagon to a stockade four miles out of the way the column was marching.

It was the accident endangering Sharp's life that made ponder that dreary night over the "mix-up" that made Buell apprehensive lest Bragg might gobble up some of his scattered divisions.

Talking to Confederate commanders years afterwards, I learned they were in similar straits. I relate the details of the return to Battle Creek because the chain of events riveted facts in my mind in a way they could not easily be loosened.

At last accounts W. J. Sharp of New Wilmington, Lawrence county, Pa., was still living. The bullet did not interfere with his tongue. And there must be others ready to testify that they earned a month's pay in two days—less time—hauling cannon and wagons up mountain sides before they struck the Higginbottom road.

McCook was absent from his headquarters when the enemy began the attack on his command. There were numerous witnesses to the fact that Buell did not know that Bragg was hammering McCook's command until the mischief was done. Of course that did not help Buell any. But it does relieve him from the suspicion that he could be guilty of the perfidy of permitting McCook to suffer for lack of help.

If this screed is an awful bore, blame yourself. If you dabble in history you ought to be punished in some manner.

GENERAL MIXUP.

Political Drift

Mayor Johnson of Cleveland has opened his campaign in Ohio with his famous tent and red devil automobile, which he promises to keep pretty busy from now till election day. Johnson says he will make the issue of taxation a leading one, and it is likely to cut considerable figure in that county, where many persons are of the opinion that the large corporations are not paying what they should toward the defraying of the country's expense. On the other hand, the Republicans have named one of the best tickets in many years, and in a county normally Republican by a safe margin they surely have a little the best of the race at the starting post. One thing is certain, the election in Cuyahoga will be decided purely on local issues. The general opinion is that Ohio will give Roosevelt 60,000 Republican, and bets are made that it will be over that. Chairman Dick says it will be 70,000, and his estimates are usually very nearly correct.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Chairman John B. Hanna of the Maryland Republican state central committee expresses every confidence of the success of Roosevelt and Fairbanks in this state, along with a full congressional delegation. The leaders pin great faith in the fact that Maryland in the past two presidential elections has given good Republican pluralities and claim that, conditions being the same, the state will again be found in the Republican column. Looking at the congressional situation from a purely unbiased viewpoint, and eliminating the race issue, says the Washington Star correspondent, it seems most likely that the Republicans will carry the First, Third, Fifth and Sixth districts, and the Democrats the Second and Fourth districts.

Minnesota Republicans have nominated R. C. Dunn for governor. He is a young Irish-American and likely to draw Democratic votes. The Democratic candidate is John A. Johnson, whose Swedish parentage is likely to attract some votes of Republicans of that nationality. Democrats concede the state to Roosevelt by from 50,000 to 75,000, but they are making a fight on the governorship. To show how one-sided the state is on other matters it is enough to say that 70 out of 116 Republican nominees for the house are running without Democratic opponents. The Democrats have 49 candidates for 116 places, and are not likely to elect more than 20 at the outside. The senate, which stands 52 to 11, holds over. It is therefore certain that the Republican caucus will have at least two-thirds of the legislature.

The message from the Republican national committee which dispelled any hopes the "stalwarts" in Wisconsin may have had of recognition was sent to Chairman W. D. Connor of the LaFollette state committee and said the national organization would recognize his committee throughout the campaign. Chairman Connor was invited to come to the Chicago headquarters for a conference regarding the campaign. The message to Mr. Connor was as follows:

"W. D. Connor, Chairman Republican State Committee, Milwaukee, Wis.—National Republican committee expects to assign speakers to your state through your committee from this time on to the end of the campaign, same as we assign speakers to other states through regular Republican organizations. I would be pleased if you and the director of your speakers' bureau would call here at the national headquarters to confer on the subject of whom you may want, that we have on our list and are available. This will save time and, I think, be more satisfactory than to arrange it by correspondence. Let me know arrangements for Fairbanks meeting. JAMES A. TAWNEY,
"Director Speakers' Bureau."

John Hay, secretary of state, has notified Alexander I. Mason, Republican leader of the Twenty-ninth assembly district in New York city, that he would be present and speak for President Roosevelt at the Republican mass meeting which Mr. Mason's district committee is arranging for Carnegie hall on the evening of October 26. The speech in New York city by Secretary Hay is at the request of President Roosevelt, who for a time was a member of the regular Republican organization of the district. Lucien L. Boneur, one of Mr. Mason's lieutenants, last week went to Washington and asked the president to have Mr. Hay speak at this meeting. Mr. Bonheur expects also to have Attorney General Moody and his predecessor, Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, at the meeting, in addition to Senator Depew and Lieut.-Gov. Higgins.

For some unaccountable reason the Populist party in Kentucky has failed to have its nominees for congress placed on the official ballot for the coming election. Whether they have been left off by somebody's neglect or purposely by the party managers cannot be ascertained. Saturday was the last day for filing the names of such nominees with the secretary of state, and the Populists sent in only their list of electors.

Mayor McClellan of New York city, who will preside at the Democratic mass meeting in Madison Square Garden next Monday, will be introduced by John Fox, president of the Democratic club. Among the speakers will be Judge Herrick, Representative Cockran, Senator Stone of Missouri and Borough President Littleton of Brooklyn. Carl Schurz and Mayor Patrick A. Collins of Boston will be present.

William J. Bryan has altered his determination to stay out of Illinois, and will speak in that state under the auspices of the Democratic state committee from October 26 to 31. One meeting will be arranged for him in Chicago if possible. A special train will be provided for Mr. Bryan, who will begin at East St. Louis and tour the state.

But if the divorced wife was unbaptized, then the Catholic husband may remarry, for in the eyes of the church the marriage of a Catholic to an unbaptized person is invalid. The Catholic church, moreover, has granted a divorce to a Catholic man and wife, on the discovery that the marriage was within the prohibited degree of kindred. If they could secure a legal divorce in this country they were then permitted to marry someone else.

WANTED THE NAME OF HIS OPPONENT

W. H. Graham Visits Democratic Headquarters, but Fails to Secure Information.

BIG REPUBLICAN MEETINGS

In the hope that he could accurately ascertain the name of his opponent in the Twenty-ninth congressional district, William H. Graham, the Republican nominee, yesterday visited Democratic headquarters. He was told that it was "believed" that W. H. S. Thomson is the candidate.

Mr. Graham made a diligent search through his district, but failed to learn whether the Democrats had a man in the field. Yesterday he decided to go to Democratic headquarters for information. His appearance caused surprise. Addressing Timothy O'Leary, Mr. Graham said:

"I am desirous of learning the name of my opponent and decided that this is the place to secure the information. I have heard that W. H. S. Thomson is your nominee, but have not been able to confirm the report. The Republican congressional campaign committee has written me requesting the name of my opponent."

Mr. O'Leary said that he believed that Thomson is the candidate. Secretary Cargegie was then asked for information and he told Mr. Graham that he is of the opinion that Thomson is the man.

"Well, I guess I'll take a chance on sending in Thomson's name," said Mr. Graham, as he left the headquarters.

Democrats Raising Campaign Fund.

The Democrats are preparing to raise a campaign fund of $12,500. At a meeting of the finance committee yesterday a resolution was adopted binding each member of the committee to produce $100. There are 128 members. This is a new department and many of the men who accepted membership on the committee are regretting that they did not decline. The committee is to meet twice a week until the money is raised. The campaign committee has decided that each congressional, senatoral and assembly candidate shall appoint three men to assist him in the campaign. This organization is to have a meeting at headquarters Saturday afternoon.

A Republican meeting was held last night in the Thirty-second ward headquarters. The speakers were Dr. A. J. Barchfeld and F. C. Beinhauer. Dr. Barchfeld said in part:

In order to accomplish certain results in Republican national politics we must be in perfect accord in our precinct, ward, city, county, state and nation. There should be no division, but one solid array of Republican hosts going out to do battle with the Democratic party. Such a condition we know exists today and we hope always will continue. The Republican organization today in city and county is in perfect accord with the state organization and as such can bring success to the national ticket and all its congressional candidates.

Must Control Congress.

We have nothing to fear about the election of our standard-bearer for president. The American people, always to be trusted to do the right and proper thing at the right and proper time, have already discounted the election of Theodore Roosevelt, but the American people should see to it that this grand man is supported by a working majority in the lower house of congress.

Did it ever occur to you that of the present membership from the states south of the Mason and Dixon line, 121 out of a possible 125 are Democratic? Did it ever occur to you that the Democratic organization in the Greater New York can elect 16 out of 18 members? When this is taken into consideration we have 14 states out of a possible 48 furnishing 137 out of a possible 194 to constitute a majority. In other words, all the Democratic party is constrained to do is to elect 57 members out of the remaining 31 states. If the south is so thoroughly orthodox in its Democracy why cannot the north, east, middle west and west be alike interested in Republican success? Why should a state like Pennsylvania furnish a single member of congress to the Democratic party? This state lives and flourishes under Republican rule and its industries and agriculture die and wither under Democratic rule.

Wants Democracy Embalmed.

Mr. Beinhauer thinks the Democracy should be embalmed and buried. He said:

The question for us to consider is what is to our best interest in the coming election. After careful consideration we must confess that the Republican party has been tried for many years and during its stewardship our country has advanced, its industries have been fostered, its people made happy and the nation has acquired a position among the nations of the world where it is respected by all.

The Democratic party stands for reformation, destitution, illiteracy and discontent. The Republican party stands for prosperity, which embraces all good things. Let us see the kind of reformation brought about by the Democratic party. During the years of its rule the Democratic party so completely reformed everything that if it had continued a little longer I suppose the majority of us would have succumbed and been standing at the door knocking for St. Peter to let us in.

The people can be fooled sometimes, but not all the time, and those trying times of Democratic rule are still fresh in the minds of many who suffered therefrom. The best thing to do with the Democratic party is to embalm it, cremate it, and then bury it so deep that there will be no danger of its resurrection.

Twentieth Ward Meeting.

One of the best meetings in the East End during the campaign will be the Republican gathering at Friendship school house tonight under the auspices of the Twentieth Ward Republican committee. Maj. A. P. Burchfield, Col. Samuel Harden Church and Daniel Ashworth will be the orators of the occasion. Preparations have been made for a large attendance.

Francis J. Torrance agreed yesterday to act as chairman of the Republican mass meeting in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, Saturday evening. With Congressman Edward B. Vreeland of New York, Maj. Alexander McDowell, clerk of the national house of representatives, Hon. W. H. Graham and John C. Haymaker as speakers, a fine program of vocal and instrumental music and the turning out of many organizations to listen to the orators, a great crowd is expected to be present.

The supreme court yesterday heard arguments in a case appealed by the Municipal league of Philadelphia. The league did not name candidates for presidential electors or judge. It requested the Philadelphia commissioners to print the ballots so that the voter would have to place a mark after each candidate he wanted to support, with the exception of the presidential electors, these to be designated by a single mark. The commissioners declined to do this, but said that they would print the tickets with the list of party names, so that a single cross would vote a complete ticket. The league lost in the Philadelphia courts and appealed the case to the supreme court. The attorneys for the league hold that to treat a mark against a party name an equivalent to a vote for every candidate of the party is unconstitutional.

WASHBURN PREDICTS BIG MAJORITY FOR ROOSEVELT

Calls at White House and Discusses Situation in Northwest With the President.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Ex-Senator Washburn, of Minnesota, was at the White House today and discussed with President Roosevelt the political conditions in the northwest.

"Every northern and northwestern state will give a plurality for Roosevelt," said Mr. Washburn. "It is not impossible that one or two of the western states by reason of local fights and disturbances may go Democratic. Business men of nearly every class, find nothing in the Democratic nominees or platform to attract them, and that feeling is so overwhelming I cannot see what the Democrats can hope for. As to Minnesota, the majority will be not less than 75,000, the greatest ever given a presidential candidate. The president is the most popular Republican nominee for chief executive the party ever had. This is particularly true of the west, and I am informed that the popularity of the president increases in the east every day."

SCHOOL HOUSE FOLLOWS FLAG

Fairbanks Says Both Parties Will Agree on This—Discusses Imperilism in Iowa.

TALKS TO TEDDY'S HAWKEYES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DAVENPORT, IOWA, Oct. 12.—With a speech in this city tonight, Senator Fairbanks concluded his tour of this state. He came into this city this afternoon, and after crossing the river and speaking at Rock Island, Ill., returned. He also spoke during the day at Des Moines, Colfax, Newton, Kellogg, Grinnell, Brooklyn, Marengo, Iowa City, West Liberty and Durant, all in this state. Most of the day stops were of only brief duration, and when there were requests from the crowd for more time the senator would respond: "This is a Republican train and it moves on schedule time."

The longest day stop was made at the state university town of Iowa City, where the meeting was attended by a club of 200 students calling themselves "Teddy's Hawkeyes." To them as to the students at Grinnell, Senator Fairbanks addressed himself especially, advising them that "The Republican party stands for principles as fixed and enduring as the stars."

At both Davenport and Brooklyn Senator Fairbanks discussed the question of imperialism, a trite statement being that the school house follows the flag. At Brooklyn he said:

"Our Democratic friends have suggested from time to time that there is some danger of imperialism. The Republican party has been the loyal, intelligent supporter of Republican institutions from the time Abraham Lincoln took the oath of his office in the national capital, down to this beautiful morning.

"We have carried into the Philippines the principles of Republican government. We went there with no thought of territorial aggrandizement. We went there because national duty compelled us to go. William McKinley organized civil government in the Philippines, succeeding the military government. He carried to those people the blessings of Republican government in the fullest measure possible. We have been educating them in the ways of civil administration, inviting them to the fullest possible part in the management of their own affairs. The Republican party has improved the administration in the Philippines. There has been some doubt as to whether the Constitution follows the flag. There is some difference about that, but upon this proposition Republicans and Democrats will all agree, that is that the American school house follows the American flag."

The speech at Rock Island was devoted to a defense of the currency and to policies of the Republican party, and the speech made here tonight was on general lines.

PROHIBITIONISTS WIN.

Secretary of Commonwealth Ordered to Certify Nominations in Mercer.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Dauphin county court today made an order directing Secretary of the Commonwealth Fuller to certify the nominations of E. J. Fithian, R. S. Madge and E. W. Hodge, Prohibition candidates for state representatives in Mercer county, and Charles E. McConkey, Prohibition candidate for president judge of the Mercer county courts.

Secretary Fuller recently refused to accept the certificates of nominations of these candidates on the ground that the Prohibition party in Mercer county was not entitled to nominate by certificate.

ADDICKS MEN BACK DOWN IN INTEREST OF HARMONY

WILMINGTON, DEL., Oct. 12.—The state committees of the regular Republicans and the Union or Addicks Republicans, met here today and completed a compromise congressional and state ticket. Preston Lea, a regular Republican, accepted the nomination for governor, the Addicks men waiving the condition that, in the event of his election, he should appoint as secretary of state any one of three men to be named by them.

Crane Succeeds Senator Hoar.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Gov. John L. Bates today appointed former Gov. W. Murray Crane United States Senator, to fill the unexpired term of the late George F. Hoar. Mr. Crane has informed Gov. Bates that he will accept. He is a personal friend of President Roosevelt.

"YOUNG" DAVIS QUITE STRENUOUS

Harder to Keep Up With Than "Stonewall" Jackson, Declares Daniel.

SECOND GLADSTONE SAYS HILL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Oct. 12.—The second day of the Davis campaign through Maryland and West Virginia has been more satisfactory than the first. Candidate Davis repeated his record of yesterday with a dozen speeches, and added one more for good measure. Despite the rain large crowds heard him. At Grafton and Clarksburg, there were especially large meetings. In the latter place an elaborate marching escort and several bands were in waiting, the party was conducted to the court house and the speeches were delivered from the portico of the jail building adjoining to the largest outdoor audience yet assembled on the journey.

Mr. Hill has dubbed Mr. Davis "the grand old man of West Virginia" and tells some of his audiences that Gladstone and Bismarck are nowhere in comparison.

Senator Daniel declares that he is having a more strenuous time in keeping up with "young Davis" than he had in following the lead of Stonewall Jackson in a gray jacket during the war.

"I suppose you know I am Davis, who is flying through looking for friends and votes," is Mr. Davis' way of introducing himself. Local issues in West Virginia have formed the text for his speeches. He demands a registration law, relief from state taxes for the farmer and a heavier burden on corporate interests. The way to be sure of these, he declares, is to elect a Democratic governor and legislature.

The special today touched at the following places: Oakland, Md.; Terra Alta, Rowlesburg, Tunnelton, Newburg, Grafton, Clarksburg, Gypsey, Hynnston, Enterprise, Worthington, Monongah, with a rally tonight at Fairmont, where the train was sidetracked for the night.

SENATOR PENROSE WILL SEE PRESIDENT TODAY

He Declares the Outlook for the Republican Ticket Could Not Be More Promising.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Senator Penrose reached Washington tonight from New York, where he has been in consultation with National Chairman Cortelyou about the campaign. Tomorrow the senator will discuss the political situation with President Roosevelt.

"It looks to me as though the election would be a landslide for the Republicans," said he. "I do not think there is any doubt that New York will go Republican so far as the national ticket is concerned. The Roosevelt sentimental scene to be gaining throughout the west and the outlook for the Republicans could not be more promising." L. W. STRAYER.

FLOOR ART

Art was crude when they laid skins of animals on the earthen floor.

Civilization was then a long way off.

Asiatics spread the highest type of floor covering on the ground long before this continent was known to exist.

They made Prayer Rugs—and prayed much.

Worked but little—and remain barbaric to the end.

We—Europeans and their descendants—prayed and prospered.

Prayer and good works.

But we imitate those crude and ancient peoples to this day, as near as we can, according to our means.

Only we have finer homes now, and lay Rugs upon the floor—not on the bare ground.

This store has for sale a fine collection of genuine Oriental Rugs made the old way.

Sizes and other properties so varied as to completely fill your conception of what you want for any space or place in particulaar.

We have also a very large assortment of American made imitations.

And let it be known now no country imitates them so well.

Smyrna Rugs—not from Asia Minor—but from Philadelphia, Pa., where they make them best.

In nine sizes from 1½ by 3 feet to 4 feet by 7 feet—75c to $6.75.

Best makes of Wilton Rugs—21 different sizes—1½ by 3 to 12½ by 14½ feet—fine Oriental designs and colors—$1.75 to $62.50.

Brussels Rugs in Oriental designs and colors—room sizes only—4½ by 7½ to 12½ by 15 feet—$11.50 to $50.00.

To see if you read this we offer to give you Hartford Axminster Rugs, 27 by 60 inches, oriental designs for $1.85 today.

CORSETS.

The Hose Supporters attached to Warner's Rust Proof Corsets are of the same guaranteed quality as the Corsets themselves.

Only a superior quality of webbing is used and the clasp has the famous "Security" Rubber Button—the supporters are attached at the precise points where they are most effective in aiding the figure to assume the correct poise.

There is a wide range of styles and prices.

Warner's Rust Proof No. 121 is a long skirt model for the medium form; the corset skirt curving over the hips, shaping them into the correct outline for good style—the hose supporters as attached are necessary for producing the desired figure—price $1.50.

No. 221 Batiste, $1.50.

Loma—our own exclusive importation—all the latest correct corset models, including the new high bust and long hip designs—these models are made of finest materials, both in boning and coutille—the word Loma applies only to the best—prices $5.00 to $15.00.

A hundred and fifty different kinds of Corsets here, 50c to $15.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Over 1,200 Delegates in Annual Session Hear President Wanamaker's Address.

PROMINENT GUESTS ARE HERE

Fully 4,000 people heard the Hon. John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, president of the State Sabbath School association, deliver his annual address at the convention now in session in the Sixth United States Presbyterian church, last evening, while upwards of 1,000 were turned away for lack of standing room. Meanwhile crowds were being turned away from the Emory Methodist Episcopal and East End Presbyterian churches, where the art and educational exhibitions were on display.

Comparing the Sunday schools of today with those of other days, Mr. Wanamaker held that the difference is as great as are business conditions. The state association, he declared, is run on straight business lines by business men. He held there were, however, never so many discontented people in the churches as at present. He said the chromo-giving scheme or trading stamp method of running Sunday schools, was a thing of the past and made a strong plea toward drawing grown people into the schools, while he paid a tribute to Pittsburgh business men for their support of Sunday schools.

The Rev. William Patterson of Bethany Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, spoke on "The Sunday School Idea," holding that it was not a means of rescue but prevention. The Rev. Alexander Henry of Philadelphia also spoke. The Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh of this city presided. Mrs. J. W. Barnes, international primary secretary, addressed the meeting in the Sunday school room.

One Hundred Voices in Chorus.

Before and after the night session a chorus of 100 voices, led by Prof. Benjamin Franklin Butts, entertained the audience.

The fortieth annual state convention opened yesterday morning with 600 visiting delegates, who were increased to 1,200 before night.

Following a meeting of the state executive committee at 10 o'clock in the morning H. J. Heinz entertained Mr. Wanamaker at luncheon at the Union club during which he introduced him to about 75 representative business and professional men. Mr. Wanamaker is the guest of Mr. Heinz while in the city, as are also Prof. Koenig of Bordeaux, France; the Rev. Charles Wagner of Paris, author of "The Simple Life," and Dr. and Mrs. Blackall of Philadelphia. Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton university, who will address the convention this evening, will also be the guest of Mr. Heinz.

The afternoon session, beginning at 2 o'clock, was divided into three sections meeting simultaneously, the aim of each being to raise the standard of efficiency. In the church proper General Secretary Hugh Cork of Philadelphia conducted a meeting for county and district officers where the following subjects were discussed: "Duties of Officers," "Ways of Helping Schools," "Conventions and Institutes" and "Progress and Statistics."

A Meeting for Teachers.

In the Sunday school room Mrs. M. G. Kennedy of Philadelphia, conducted a meeting for teachers of primary departments. Addresses were made on "The Purpose and Plan of the Organization," and "The County Primary Superintendent's Opportunity." The third session was held in the art and educational exhibition rooms, where lectures on the exhibits were given.

At 4:30 o'clock a reception was tendered the delegates, when the ladies of the Sixth United Presbyterian church entertained nearly 600 at a luncheon.

It can be said to the credit of the local association that the entertainment committee has made comfortable provision for the host of visiting delegates. Upon arrival, after identifying themselves, the delegates are quartered at the homes of members of various local churches which includes breakfast, and lunches are being served in the church. A postoffice, writing room, bureau of information, cloak room and baggage checking room are some of the provisions found in the church proper.

The convention continues with three sessions today and tomorrow. This afternoon President Wilson of Princeton will preside over a meeting for pastors, while Mr. Wanamaker at the same time will take charge of the meeting for superintendents. H. J. Heinz will be in charge of the session for teachers.

Tonight President Wanamaker will present diplomas to graduates of the Teachers' Training school and addresses will be made by Dr. Wilson and the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton of Allegheny.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE HAS GRAVE QUESTION TO DECIDE

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Teachers' Training Alumni association of the State Sabbath School association will be held today to determine whether ladies of the almuni should have the privilege of taking their husbands to the annual banquet to be held in Bethany Lutheran church Thursday evening. Graduates are eligible to attend at 25 cents per plate, while students must pay 50 cents. No one else can attend. One of the delegates announced that his wife was a member of the Alumni association and asked if she would be privileged to bring him.

"I cannot answer that now," replied the Rev. L. W. Hainer, president. "I will call a session of the executive committee tomorrow to hear their opinion on the matter."

THE DEATH ROLL

Samuel R. Shumaker's Funeral.

The funeral services of Samuel R. Shumaker, vice president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, who died suddenly Sunday morning at his home in Sewickley, were held at his late home yesterday. The Rev. William O. Campbell conducted them. Many bankers of the city with whom the deceased was intimately associated were present, and a number came from a distance. Among the latter were William H. Peck of Scranton and D. S. Kloss of Tyrone, the president and secretary, respectively, of the State Bankers association. The remains were taken to Indiana, the former home of Mrs. Shumaker, for interment.

Isaac Rubinovitz.

Isaac Rubinovitz, aged 60, one of the best known Hebrew scholars in this section and for many years a teacher in the Pittsburgh Hebrew school in Crawford street, died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning of a complication of diseases, after a long illness, at his home, 4 Townsend street. Funeral services were held at his late home and public services at the Washington Street synagogue. Interment was made at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Rubinovitz came to Pittsburgh about 10 years ago from Russia. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Louis, engaged in business in Greensburg, and Harry, a student at a theological seminary in New York, and two daughters.

Col. Richard Ellsworth Fast.

Col. Richard Ellsworth Fast of Morgantown, W. Va., one of the most prominent men of the state, died yesterday morning at Pasadena, Cal., where he went in search of health a year ago. He was 46 years old and a widow and three children survive him. He was commander of the First regiment, West Virginia National Guard, for six years. He was three times mayor of Morgantown and served two terms in the West Virginia senate.

Caleb Lynch.

Caleb Lynch, aged 84, of Madison avenue, McKeesport, is dead as the result of a complication of diseases, at Mt. Clemens, Mich., where he went about two weeks ago in search of health. The remains will be brought to McKeesport today.

Obituary Notes.

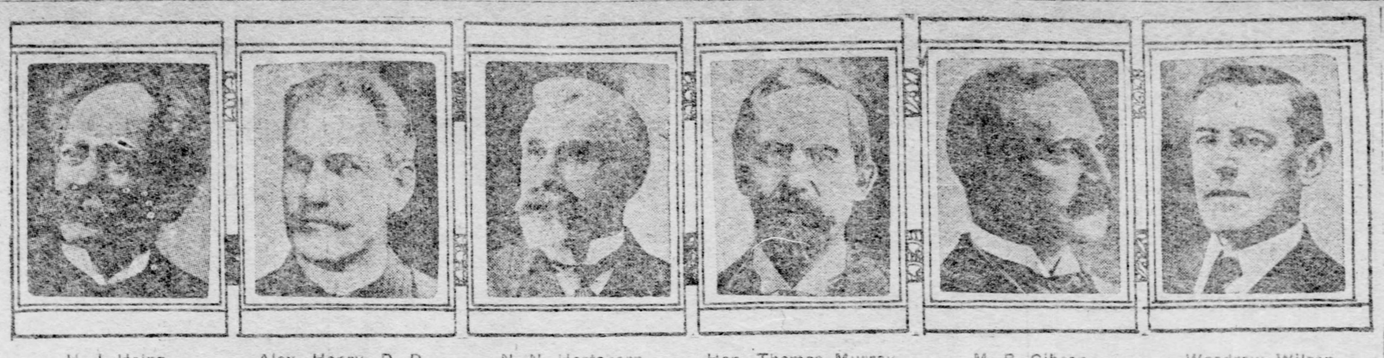
Charles N. Everson of East Liverpool, aged 64, died at her home there yesterday morning from pneumonia after an illness of two weeks. He was well known in business circles.

Henry Watkins, aged 62, one of the oldest operative potters in East Liverpool, died there yesterday morning of heart trouble. He is survived by the following children: John, Richard, Will, Sarah, Ellen and Henry Watkin, all of East Liverpool.



H. J. Heinz, Chairman State executive Committee.

Alex. Henry, D. D., Philadelphia, Secretary State Executive Committee.

N. N. Hartshorn, Boston, Chairman International Executive Committee.

Hon. Thomas Murray, Clearfield, First Vice President State Association.

M. B. Gibson, Second Vice President State Association.

Woodrow Wilson, President of Princeton University.

WORK IS PROCEEDING ON BOULEVARD SLOWLY

Only Single Track Being Laid in Dilatory Fashion—Opposition Not Yet Shown.

Work is being continued on the Grant boulevard traction line in such a dilatory fashion as to indicate that the building of a complete double-track system is somewhat remote. No efforts are being made to dig up the boulevard except for a single track, and this on the inside of the roadway. But few rails and ties are on the spot. Although the work has been in progress for three days, not more than three rails' length of single track have been laid, and this in such an uneven manner as to be unfit for transportation use.

Nearly the whole body of workmen are employed in excavating and laying broken stone at the bottom to support the ties. The excavators have advanced about three blocks east of the foot of Washington street, where the work began. The impression is growing that the work is not a genuine beginning of a traction line, but a move to force the hand of the Verner syndicate, which claims not to have yet reached an agreement with the Philadelphia Company, or to ascertain whether the Hall syndicate or other parties intend to dispute the legal right of the present traction monopoly to the boulevard.

The statements published yesterday that the Voters' Civic league intend to begin injunction proceedings to stop work on the boulevard are denied by the officers of that organization.

"There is nothing in those statements," said Starling W. Childs, president of the Voters' league, last night. "They are only guess work."

Director Bigelow was authority for the statement yesterday that ex-Senator Flinn was instrumental in preventing a quorum of select council last Monday.

"Flinn did it," he said, "but he will not do it again next Monday."

Friends of ex-Senator Flinn denied the statement that Flinn broke up the quorum, stating that he only happened to pass along Smithfield street that afternoon and into the Duquesne hotel and was seen by some of Bigelow's lieutenants, who were trying to drag councilmen into the City hall.

PRESIDENT SURPRISES BRITISH NAVAL EXPERT

Shows Technical Knowledge in a Conference With Sir William White.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—An informal conference was held at the White House this afternoon, at which the president, Sir William White, K. N., retired, and formerly chief constructor of the British navy, Secretary Morton, Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation; Rear Admiral Capps, chief constructor of the navy, and Rear Admirals Evans and Fred Rodgers, discussed naval architecture, with special reference to the American navy.

Sir William was surprised at the technical knowledge displayed by the president in his searching inquiries about naval architecture. Sir William declared the present war had demonstrated the overwhelming supremacy of the modern battleship. He gave his opinions regarding the most effective type of cruisers and their relative position in warfare. He expressed the opinion that the battleships now building in this country stood at the front of the best types of the modern battleship.

CHAIRMAN EASTON ANGRY.

Special Committee Insists in Keeping Away from Meeting.

For the fifth time the special committee of Allegheny councils, appointed to inquire as to the right of the Pennsylvania company to occupy that part of Church avenue from Federal street to Marion avenue, failed to meet last night for want of a quorum. Only the chairman of the committee, Dr. Andrew Easton, Director E. J. McIlvaine of the department of public works, and City Clerk Lafayette Wills attended. Chairman Easton was disgusted and stated he will not issue a call for another meeting.

He will report to the select branch of councils his failure to secure a meeting of the committee, and will recommend that the city solicitor be instructed to make the inquiry as to the right of the railroad company to occupy that portion of the avenue in question.

WILL SERVE HIS TIME.

Washington Frenchman Returns Home to Finish Nine Days Military Duty.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—When Joseph De Camp of Coal Center, this county, left France six years ago for America he lacked nine days of having served out his full time in the French army. He came to Coal Center, where, with his wife and three children, he lived happily until a few days ago, when he received an official document bearing the seal of the French republic, ordering him to return and report for duty and serve out his unexpired time.

Yesterday De Camp, with his family, left for France, transportation having been forwarded by the French government, and he will serve out his nine days. De Camp says he will then return to Coal Center.

RAMSEY IS TO TALK.

President of Wabash to Attend Homestead's Home Gathering.

Arrangements were completed in Homestead last evening for a home gathering of Homestead people to be held on October 20. Former Homestead residents from all parts of the country will attend. The meeting will be held in the Hotel Victoria, the first hotel in the borough, built in 1880. President Ramsey of the Wabash, who was born in Homestead, and C. C. Wills of Claysville, first burgess, will make addresses. The reunion will be managed by George J. Gessner, J. B. Jones and Joseph Wort.

Boy Run Down by Auto.

Clarence McDermott, a traction newsboy, in getting off a Liberty avenue car near the Union depot yesterday afternoon, was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Pilgrim, of 2826 Penn avenue. The boy was knocked down and seriously injured infernally. Pilgrim placed the boy in the auto and took him to his home in Pike street.

Kimmins Held for Bigamy.

AKRON, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—John N. Kimmins, whose wife came here from Pittsburgh and caused his arrest Tuesday night on a charge of bigamy, was indicted by the grand jury Wednesday morning. The indictment was returned against Kimmins before the transcript in the case had been filed in court.

TRAIN IS NOW READY FOR M. & M. JOURNEY

Roster of Passengers Who Will Preach Gospel of Pittsburgh's Commercial Greatness.

Assistant General Passenger Agent Frank Van Dusen of the Pennsylvania lines yesterday completed arrangements with the Pullman Company for the equipment of the special train which will be used by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association in its trade extension excursion through Ohio next week. Three 16-section sleeping cars and three drawing-room cars of the latest type will be provided, together with a combination car and a Pullman dining car at each end of the train. It will be the first single section train that ever left this city with two diners.

Immense streamers will be carried and the platforms of all the cars will be gaily decorated with the black and gold colors of Pittsburgh. A giant Atlantic type locomotive will haul the train and in the point of rolling stock it will be the finest ever seen in Southern Ohio. Mr. Van Dusen has given personal direction to the work and provides every comfort for his passengers. The complete roster of the association members and their guests who will make the journey is given below:

CAPTURED IN NEW YORK.

H. A. Highbee, Wanted Here for Forgery, Arrested at Imperial Hotel.

Detective James W. Eagan was sent to New York last night to bring back H. A. Highbee, arrested there Tuesday on a charge of forgery made by James Riley of the Hotel Schenley.

Highbee was a guest there on August 20 and had a check for $120 cashed. It was made out in his favor, drawn on the Union Trust Company and signed by A. C. Van Pelt. Higbee represented himself as a solicitor for a world's fair hotel, and the check proved to be a forgery. Higbee was arrested at the Imperial hotel.

FAYERWEATHER WILL CASE.

Arguments Heard in United States Supreme Court—Root Counsel for Schools and Colleges.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The United States supreme court today heard arguments regarding the will of Daniel B. Fayerweather, a New York leather merchant who died in that city in 1890, leaving an estate valued at upward of $6,000,000.

Judge Parker presided over the trial of the case in the New York general court. Ex-Secretary of War Root entered his appearance as counsel for the colleges and schools which are beneficiaries.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

WOMAN SAID SHE HAD VISITED IN HEAVEN

So Declares, After Having Been in Trance, Which Overcame Her at Religious Meeting.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MARION, IND., Oct. 12.—Rising from a trance in which she had lain for 18 hours, after being prostrated at religious services in the home of W. H. H. Mook of West Marion, Mrs. Laura Hill declared she had visited heaven. Before she fell in the trance Monday evening she began shouting and shaking hands with the persons in the house. As she was bidding them good-by she fell to the floor. Efforts to arouse her were without success and a physician was called, but he was unable to revive her. She suddenly awoke this afternoon and rising up in her bed she exclaimed: "I have been with Jesus and He is waiting for me."

The young woman then told of being in a heavenly world, and of seeing her grandparents, a cousin and other relatives and friends who had been dead for a number of years. The woman's grandparents have been dead for 34 years, and never were seen in life by Mrs. Hill.

"I saw my grandparents," she said, "and they were at my side. And the angels were all about me. Everything was so beautiful."

She spoke of seeing and being with girl friends who have long been dead.

EXPLOSION OF LANTERN STARTED COSTLY BLAZE

Stable and Boiler Plant Consumed at Liberty and Twenty-Ninth Streets—Loss $15,000.

A lantern exploded in the stables of the Pittsburgh & Buffalo Coal Company in Liberty avenue, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, last night about 11:30. The stable was burned to the ground, 50 horses being rescued. The flames spread to the large frame building, 100 feet square, of the James A. McNeil & Co.'s boiler testing plant where it ignited the tar.

The boiler plant was totally destroyed, also the small office building of the coal company. The blaze spread to a large stock of coal in the yard and threatened a row of frame tenements. The fire burned over an area of three-quarters of a square. About 12:30 the fire was under control.

The total loss is estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000. One horse was burned to death and a quantity of harness was destroyed.

Parcel Post Starts Soon.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—(Special Cable.)—It is officialy announced the arrangement for parcel post between the United States and France, including Corsica and Algeria, will come into force on November 1, under contracts with the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique and the American Express Company.

Death Rate Is Increasing.

There were 124 deaths in the city last week as compared to 120 the previous week and 120 the same week last year. The principal causes were diphtheria, 9; typhoid fever, 5; consumption, 17; pneumonia, 6, and violence, 9. During the week there were reported 30 cases of typhoid fever, 33 of diphtheria and 7 of scarlet fever.

Fire Destroys Bellevue Barn.

The barn at the Beulah home in Bellevue was destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock last night. W. A. Skelton, the janitor, attempted to throw a blazing oil stove out of the window. The stove upset and Skelton barely escaped with his life. The loss is about $2,000.

AMERICA'S DISCOVERY FITTINGLY REMEMBERED

Pittsburgh Italians Give Banquet in Honor of 412th Anniversary of Landing of Columbus.

The fact that Christopher Columbus discovered America 412 years ago yesterday was not forgotten in Pittsburgh. It was the occasion of a well-appointed banquet given by a number of the more prominent Italo-Americans at Ferdinando Colella's restaurant, Webster avenue and Tunnel street. There the glorious story of the new world's discovery was eloquently told and the big part which Italians have played in the colonization of the country was recounted.

The number attending last evening's celebration here was considerably smaller than in other years because yesterday at the St. Louis World's fair a national celebration of the great date was held, and fully 75 Pittsburgh Italians were present at those exercises. Nevertheless, in good-fellowship and in enthusiasm the dinner last evening was a thorough success.

When the elaborate menu had been disposed of Dr. G. Conti was called upon by Joseph Gotti to speak upon the toast "Cristoforo Columbo." Dr. Conti spoke eloquently upon that gallant sailor's efforts and his final success and was rewarded with abundant applause. Mr. Gotti then spoke upon "Societies," with particular reference to the "Societa Cristoforo Columbo di Beneficenza," under whose auspices the celebration took place. His address was well received and was followed by one upon "America," delivered by Prof. Calroli Gigliotti, editor of the "Giuseppe Garibaldi."

Among the well-known Pittsburgh Italians attending the dinner last evening were Joseph Gotti, D. Biasi, Vincenzo Rizzo, P. Muncuso, Vincenzo Pilondo, Manuele Grondinetto, Gallo Puntieel, Marco Sacco, Domenico Popello, Gigliotti Lenerio, D. Conti, N. Gallo and P. Gallo.

To the Editor:

Dear Sir—Some time ago I noticed in one of the daily papers a communication from old Dr. Oliver. He said that if a person would carry a buckeye on his person he would never be troubled with rheumatism. I know for a fact that my entire family carry buckeyes. My father has carried one in his pocket for 40 years. He is now 70 years old and was never troubled with rheumatism. Yours, etc.

SPEED OF AUTOS MUST BE CURBED

Pittsburgh Policemen Instructed to Arrest Reckless Chauffeurs Who Endanger Life.

LAW OF THE STATE IS STRICT

The danger to life and limb which menaces pedestrians who have to cross public thoroughfares, because of careless and reckless drivers of automobiles, is reaching such a stage that the police department has given strict orders to all officers to arrest on sight any chauffeur who seems to be driving faster than the law permits, and any infraction of this rule on the part of the officer means his suspension, and, if repeated, his dismissal.

Director Moore has taken this matter up in earnest, and will see to it in the future that citizens who are compelled to cross streets will get all the protection the department can throw around them. Owners of automobiles who have failed to register will have to face the consequences if they are discovered.

Although Banker Bros. and other owners and dealers in automobiles cannot estimate just what number of these vehicles are owned in this city and county, they all agree that the number registered in the prothonotary's office, as required by the act of assembly is just about half or less than are really being used by private individuals or corporations.

The exact number registered is 999, the last registration being that of J. R. King of Braddock. About 308 of these have registered since J. B. Hamilton took office, although many of the machines were in use before that time. Only those who reside in the cities are required to take out a city license. It is hard to get at the exact number without considerable work, but at least 1,200 machines of the auto car order are owned and used in the county. Every owner who does not register his machine is liable to a fine and imprisonment on conviction.

Police officials who are either afraid or who refuse to do their duty in arresting the man or woman who drives faster than the law permits are being given some severe lessons. Nearly every day fast automobiles flit past policemen, and when instances of this kind are reported to the public safety department the officer offending is summoned before the trial board. Director Moore said yesterday:

Our department is for the safety of the citizens of the city and we will shirk none of our duties. One of them is to obviate danger to life and limb from reckless automobilists, and we will leave nothing undone that will render the streets safe in this respect. At present there is an ordinance before the corporation committee of councils that I had draughted regulating the speed of street cars and vehicles of all kinds. The ordinance is more for street cars than anything else, as we have little trouble from horses, and there is an act of legislature regulating the speed of autos.

Limit of Auto Speed.

The act specifies, I believe, that auto cars shall run eight miles an hour in city limits, 15 miles in the suburbs and unfrequented streets, and 20 miles in the country districts. Now a policeman has no way of ascertaining the speed of a machine, but he is supposed to exercise some judgment, and if he sees a car jeopardizing life he is supposed to caution the driver or arrest him for a repetition of fast driving.

One of our policemen was before the police board trial this morning about this very matter. We have issued instructions to the men to watch machines closely and if they are found derelict in their duty they will surely be before the board and dealt with harshly for not obeying orders. Policeman Wall was the man up today. An automobile was driven recklessly across the corner of Highland and Ellsworth avenues last Monday, and he not only failed to arrest the driver, but did not report the incident to headquarters. Wall explained this morning that mud obscured the number of the machine on the rear and that he consequently could not make a report. He was exonerated of violating the police rules, but was reprimanded, and advised to be more diligent in the future.

If the men will not remain active in maintaining a reasonable rate of speed in the main streets we will dismiss them and get men who will. I am in earnest about this, and the men will soon find that out. We will enforce the act of legislature within reason, and when it is backed up by the city ordinance the men will receive more stringent instructions. Day before yesterday I ordered a chauffeur who had been arrested in Highland park for fast driving held for court for violation of the act of assembly, and his case will come up in court soon, I suppose. It will be watched with interest.

Supt. Wallace Is Active.

Supt. Wallace said he had issued instructions to the men three months ago to watch automobiles and enforce the speed limit. He said:

The order of three months ago still holds good, and the policemen are expected to head the order until it is rescinded. In this matter, as in all others, they are supposed to use some judgment. The law fixes the rate of speed in the city at eight miles an hour. A horse can walk that fast, and it is impossible, probably, to run a machine so slow all the time.

It is unreasonable to expect strict enforcement of the law, but if we are lenient with drivers we expect drivers to use some care and judgment also. As long as the machines are run with reasonable speed the men should not interfere, and we leave it to their judgment to decide when drivers are endangering lives. Persons are being killed all over the country, but we want to keep Pittsburgh free of this fault. It is a matter of judgment all around, and if the drivers exercise care and the policemen good common sense there should be no friction between automobilists and the police.

While no ordinance regulates the speed of automobiles, the act of assembly, approved April 23, 1903, is clear and specific. It reads:

An act relating to automobiles, or motor-vehicles; providing for the registration thereof; regulating the speed limit upon the public highways within this commonwealth; providing for the licensing of the operators thereof, and fixing the amount of the license; regulating the service of process and of proceedings in actions of damages arising therefrom, and prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of the same.

Preserving the People's Rights.

Whereas, It is of the utmost importance to the rights of the people of this commonwealth that the public highways of the cities, boroughs, counties and townships of the commonwealth should be as free as practicable from the reckless use of dangerous motor vehicles; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That no vehicle, commonly called an automobile, whether propelled by steam, gas or electricity, shall be operated or driven upon any public highway in any city, borough, county or township in this commonwealth until the same has been registered by the owners or owner thereof in the office of the prothonotary of the county of the counties of this commonwealth as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Every application for registration shall set forth, in writing, the name and residence of the owner or owners, the name of the manufacturer and the manufacturer's number of the motor vehicle to be registered.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the prothonotary to enter every such application in a book, to be kept for that purpose, and, if all the requirements of section 2 of this act have been complied with, to issue a certificate of registration to the applicant or applicants; for which registration the applicant or applicants shall pay to the prothonotary, at the time of filing the application, $2, which shall be the full cost of filing and entering the same and issuing the registration certificate; provided, that in the cities and counties in which the prothonotaries are paid by salary, $2 shall be paid into the city or county treasury, for the use of the county.

Details of the Registration.

Sec. 4. Every registration certificate issued must contain the name of the owner or owners, the name of the manufacturer, the manufacturer's number, the date of registry, the name of the prothonotary issuing it, and the name and the seal of the county in which the registry was made, with the number of the book and page in which it is entered. The registration of such motor-vehicle shall not be valid until the certificate, so issued, is posted in a place in the motor-vehicle, so registered, where it can be readily examined, and the registration number is posted in a conspicuous place upon the back of the said vehicle; and the registry shall be null and void if the motor-vehicle is used or operated upon the public highways, as aforesaid, when either the certificate or number are removed therefrom.

Sec. 5. No persons or persons shall be allowed to use, operate or drive any motor-vehicle, as aforesaid, upon any of the public highways of the cities, boroughs, counties or townships of this commonwealth at a speed greater than eight miles an hour, within the corporate limits of any of the cities and boroughs; outside the corporate limits of any city or borough, as aforesaid, the rate of speed shall not exceed one mile in three minutes; provided, however, that upon sharp curves, sharp declines, upon the immediate approach of any person or team, and at the intersection of any crossroad, the speed shall not exceed one mile in six minutes; and provided further, that nothing in this section shall permit any person or persons to drive an automobile at a greater speed than is reasonable, regarding traffic, danger or injury to property, at any time or at any place.

Sec. 6. No person shall be allowed to use or operate any such motor-vehicle upon any of the public highways aforesaid until the owner thereof shall have procured a license from the treasurer of one of the cities or counties of this commonwealth.

Must Pay an Annual License.

Sec. 7. No license issued as aforesaid shall be valid for a longer period than one year. They may be issued on the first day of January or at any time thereafter, but shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next ensuing. The annual license fee shall be $5.00 and shall be paid to the city or county treasurer for the benefit of such city or county. The treasurer of the city or county in which the treasurers are paid by fees shall be entitled to receive a commission of 5 per centum upon all such license fees paid into his hands, which shall be in full compensation for his services in issuing the license, provided that this amount of license shall not apply to any city or other municipality in which the authorities have imposed a license fee for the same purpose, and, provided further, that no person shall be required to pay a license fee in more than one city or municipality in any one year.

Sec. 8. Every person using or operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways as aforesaid shall have displayed in a conspicuous place on the back of such motor vehicle, in large numerals, not less than three inches square, the number under which it is registered. Every such automobile shall carry, during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, at least two lighted lamps, showing white lights, visible at least 100 feet in the direction towards which such automobile is proceeding, and shall also exhibit at least one red light, visible in the reverse direction. Every automobile shall also be provided with good and and efficient brake or brakes, and shall be provided with bell, horn or other signal device. He shall sound a gong or other alarm when approaching a street crossing or road crossing, and shall have no more right of way, or preference as to use of such street or road than the driver of the vehicle about to be passed, but shall stop the motor vehicle when signaled to do so by the driver of any horse or other animal until the animal or animals have passed.

Sec. 9. Every person so licensed shall carry with him, when using or operating such motor vehicle upon the public highways as aforesaid, his license and when, as required by any constable or police officer of the commonwealth, shall produce the same and the certificate of registration for inspection.

Penalties for Infraction of the Law.

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of the constable and police officers of the cities, boroughs and townships of this commonwealth to arrest, upon view and without warrant, any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act, provided that in the event of an arrest for a violation of any of the provisions of this act, if the defendant is unable to give sufficient bail for a hearing or for his appearance to answer at court the magistrate before whom he is first taken shall, in lieu of such bail, hold in custody the motor vehicle found in the possession of the defendant, and the court, after the trial of the defendant, if no sufficient bail according to law has been given in the meantime, shall make such order as to the disposition of such motor vehicle as may seem to it just and proper.

Sec. 11. All civil actions for damages arising from the use and operation of any motor vehicle as aforesaid, shall be brought in the city or county in which the alleged damages were sustained, and service of process shall be made by the sheriff, in person or by deputy, in any part of the commonwealth. In like manner as process may now be served in the proper county.

Sec. 12. Any owner, lessee, bailor, bailee, operator or user of any motor vehicle, as aforesaid, violating any of the provisions of this act, shall, in addition to his, her or their civil liability, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for each and every offense, be sentenced to pay a fine or not exceeding $100 or to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding 30 days.

Sec. 13. This act shall not apply to any race course or private road, nor to any passenger railways or steam railroads confined to tracks, nor to steam or other street rollers, nor to any of the motor vehicles which any manufacturer or vender of automobiles may have in stock for sale and not for his private use or for hire.

Chauffeur Was Discharged.

R. W. Williams, chauffeur for W. L. Mellon, and J. H. Daley of 807 Euclid avenue, who were arrested by Officer Arthur Ebrenfeld at Craft avenue and Forbes street at the point of a revolver, were discharged by Magistrate Negley at the Oakland police station yesterday morning. The policemen alleged that he had been knocked down by the automobile while leaving a street car. He climbed into the auto and forced the men to run the car to the police station. The magistrate said he was inclined to believe the story of the men and discharged them. Williams claimed the auto only brushed the officer's clothing, and he intends to lay the matter before the police trial board.

Williams says they were driving slowly when he felt a cold muzzle pressing against his neck. He looked about and thought a boy was trying to hold them up in the street, he said. When commanded to come down from the automobile he picked up a monkey wrench and gave the fellow a gentle crack over the head. He was told then that the man was an officer, but Williams says he did not have his uniform on, nor his badge exposed. When the badge was shown they rode to the station house, and instead of being permitted to put up their machine as a forfeit, were locked in a cell, from which they were released three hours later.

MORE NIGHT POLICEMEN.

Supt. Wallace Places Twenty Extra Officers in Oakland to Keep Away Burglars.

Supt. Wallace has placed 20 extra policemen in the Oakland district to guard the residences at night. These men will be stationed there for two months to keep away burglars and housebreakers. Now that the lake season is about closing, many sailors take to tramping for the southern states. Some of these men are criminals of a lesser order, and while on their route often commit burglaries and robberies in the cities they pass through. In a few weeks the park policemen will be detailed in this district at night in citizen's clothes.

Supt. Wallace is of the same opinion that his predecessors, John McAleese, A. H. Leslie and Sol Coulson, and others, "that Pittsburgh has not enough policemen to guard the city properly." The police beats throughout Oakland and East End are too large for one man to cover every hour.

Eight policemen were before the trial board yesterday and with one exception all were exonerated. One policeman was given a 10-day suspension.

FOR GREATER PITTSBURGH.

Chamber of Commerce Preparing List of Committeemen.

As soon as the election is over the movement for a Greater Pittsburgh will be launched. The start in securing petitions will be made in Allegheny, where any difficulties the project may encounter will be found.

Secretary George H. Anderson of the chamber of comerce is preparing a list of a committee of 25 men to take hold of the movement, which, if successful, will make Pittsburgh a city of more than 750,000 people, the fourth in population in the United States. Mr. Anderson said the names of the committeemen would be announced in a few days. He considers Allegheny the keystone to the situation.

GERMAN STEEL MEN WILL VISIT THIS CITY

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—(Special Cable.)—A number of the most prominent German steel manufacturers, and among these Councillor of Commerce Broker and Herr Kirberg, will leave for the United States in a few days to be present at the meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute. They are assured of a hearty welcome by the people of Pittsburgh and have also received an invitation to visit President Roosevelt.

The Pianola-Piano

Combines the Piano And Pianola in One Instrument.

In the Pianola-Piano you have an instrument on which you can play with your hands as on other pianos.

Inside is a Metrostyle Pianola Piano Player by means of which ANYBODY, whether he has ever learned the notes or keys or not, can play this same piano.

You simply sit at the instrument as you would if you were manipulating the keys yourself and you produce the same effects as you would be capable of doing if you were an accomplished musician.

There is no instrument to move to and from the piano and this Pianola-Piano takes up only the same amount of room as other pianos—no more.

The tone of this Pianola-Piano, the technique and the artistic effect, are the same as any virtuoso might be proud of producing.

The Weber piano is used with the Metrostyle Pianola in some instances. You will be delighted with what this Pianola-Piano can do.

We shall be glad to show it to you.

CHURCH LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

REPORTS SHOW PROSPERITY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
LEECHBURG, PA., Oct. 12.—The eighty-first annual session of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, opened in the First Methodist church of Leechburg today, Bishop Charles H. Fowler presiding. The only sensation in the session was the report that charges had been made against the Rev. W. D. House of Fayette City.

Presiding Elder J. F. Murray of the McKeesport district reported that the charges made against the Rev. Mr. House had been sustained by the investigating committee and that he had been suspended September 26 for a term of three weeks. Elder Murray requested a committee of five be appointed to take up the case. Bishop Fowler appointed the Revs. D. S. Johnson, T. H. Woodring, J. T. Pender, R. H. Ross and M. A. Rigg as the committee.

Upon organization N. L. Brown was elected secretary, with C. L. Smith, M. L. Lichliter, William Medley, E. H. Flinn, assistants; statistical secretary, H. P. Johnson, assistants, J. F. Jose, H. C. Pipes, F. S. Teats, W. L. Wilkinson, George Grant; treasurer Joseph O. Horner; assistants, W. G. Mead, A. M. Sanner, W. E. Barcus, W. G. Hunter, J. S. Ferris, N. B. Firestone. The remainder of the session was taken up with reports.

The first report of the day was from Presiding Elder G. W. Terbush of the Allegheny district. Five churches were dedicated in his district. A new church for Bellevue will be built. Ten churches were remodeled. Nine hundred and fifty accessions were reported in the district.

Presiding Elder S. S. Mitchell of the Blairsville district reported 1,200 converts in his district, and advocated more vigilance in missionary work in the country districts. Presiding Elder James Mechem of the Washington district, who is retiring at the expiration of his six-year term, spoke of his satisfaction at the work done in his district. During this period of six years they built 14 new churches, 10 parsonages, seven of the churches in places not before represented, and the number of the charges is now 55. The value of church property has increased $100,000.

Presiding Elder J. F. Murray of the McKeesport district reported the accessions to the churches in his district number more than 900. The death of Dr. J. C. R. Stuckslager of McKeesport was reported. Dr. Stuckslager left the church $10,000.

Rev. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district, reported a year of "active and aggressive work." He paid tribute to the memory of the late John G. Holmes. Mr. Holmes was for many years custodian of the Pittsburgh conference. Three new churches were built. Capt. S. S. Brown will erect a memorial church on Squirrel Hill in memory of his mother. The entire debt of the Emory and Oakmont churches was wiped out. Dr. Boyle reported beneficial results from the Polish mission work.

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Pittsburgh conference reported that the "Elizabeth A. Bradley Home for Homeless Children" had not yet been opened, as the $1,500 endowment was yet to be raised.

At 2 o'clock the Rev. J. G. Fast of Irwin, Pa., delivered an eloquent sermon to the assembled ministers. At 4 o'clock Pentecostal services were held. Rev. T. G. Leach presided, assisted by the Rev. O. H. P. Graham. Evening services were held at 7:30 p. m., conducted by the Rev. H. P. Johnson. The Rev. Dr. W. F. Anderson, secretary of education for the Methodist Episcopal church, delivered an address on "Christian Education." The singing was conducted by J. Will Peterson of McKeesport. During the afternoon the board of examiners examined theological students. Sixty-four students passed examinations and 17 of these will apply today for admission to the conference, the others having been previously admitted. The applicants are as follows: G. A. Allison, Ralph Bell, W. N. Buzza, Harry Critchlow, C. B. Emerson, J. S. Ferris, Judson Jeffries, J. H. Lancaster, John W. Langdale, W. J. Law, E. L. Pierce, C. P. Sallade, A. C. Saxman, Alexander Steel, A. K. Travis, A. W. Renton, Ernest Fryskland.

Tomorrow the sessions will open at 8:30 a. m. with devotional services and the conference session will open at 9 a. m. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock a temperance meeting will be held and at 4 o'clock Pentecostal services. At 7:30 p. m., anniversary services of the "Permanent Annuity Fund" will be held. It is said Bishop Fowler will speak at this service. Bishop Fowler has been ill last week and is still very weak. He was to have spoken tonight but did not do so.

HUNGARIANS TO REMAIN AS AMERICAN CITIZENS

Reformed Church Synod Refuses to Agree to Count Dagenfel's Proposal.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
IRWIN, PA., Oct. 12.—Count Degenfel's appeal to the members of the board of home missions of the Reformed church of the United States was of no avail at the meeting today. He made an impassioned address and made private appeals to those composing the body in session here.

He said the object is to retain the Hungarians as subjects of their native land and to educate their children in parochial schools. The board had communications from nearly all the missions for Hungarians reiterating their allegiance to the American church and American institutions, and therefore Count Degenfel was given notice that no action would be taken and the church would continue to popular support and supervise the missions established by the board.

The board decided to send a pastor to the Christ church at Homewood, an appointment to be made later. It was also decided to open an English mission at Omaha, Neb.

AFRICAN METHODIST MEETING.

Conference Meets in Uniontown and Elects Officers for Organization.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The 37th annual conference of the Pittsburgh district of the African Methodist Episcopal church, began here today and will continue six days. Over 100 ministers are present. The presiding officer is Bishop W. B. Herrick, D. D., LL. D., of Flushing, N. Y.

The Rev. P. A. Scott of McKeesport preached the annual sermon. The Rev. J. G. Xaba, presiding elder of the Cape Town district of South Africa, lined the first hymn. The Rev. W. H. Brown of Allegheny led in prayer. The organization resulted as follows: The Rev. S. P. West of Elizabeth, secretary; the Rev. C. J. Powell, Monongahela City, engrossing clerk; the Rev. P. A. Scott, McKeesport, statistician; the Rev. W. B. Anderson, Pittsburgh, the Rev. J. T. Gibbons, West Virginia, and the Rev. R. Bazier, Wheeling, reporters.

Got a Big Donation

INDIANA, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Today's sessions of the Lutheran synod was taken up largely in hearing reports from the committees and delegates. The report of the treasurer is considered the best that has been rendered for several years. Over $20,000 has been contributed, and $8,000 of that was for home missions. The report of the directors of the Theological seminary at Gettysburg included $10,000 from J. Harry Fritz of Somerset toward endowing a chair in that institution to be known as J. Henry Fritz's chair of pulpit elocution.

Pythian Knights Meeting.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias of West Virginia, and the West Virginia brigade of the uniform rank convened here today for a three days' meeting. An address of welcome was made by Mayor P. H. Shields and Grand Chancellor Oscar C. Wilt responded in behalf of the knights. There are now 152 lodges, with a membership of nearly 11,000, in the state.

TWO FINE PROGRAMS.

Walter Damrosch and His Orchestra Continue to Delight Large Audience at the Exposition.

Walter Damrosch has introduced numerous delightful features into the classical programs his orchestra is playing at the Exposition. In this afternoon's first concert there will be a trumpet solo by Mr. Rohenkirchen, who will play Nessler's song from the "Trumpter Sakkingen." In the second afternoon concert at 4 o'clock Mr. Damrosch and his brother-in-law, Mr. David Marine, the violinist, will play Beethoven's beautiful sonata for violin and piano in F.

In the first evening concert at 7:30 tonight another delightful feature will be a duet serenade for flute and oboe. The concerts for this afternoon are in full as follows:

2 P. M.
Walter Damrosch, Conductor.
Mr. Rohenkirchen, Trumpeter.

Variations on a Russian theme by seven Russian composers.

SAY HE STOLE BILLS AND COLLECTED $200

Fred Lloyd, a colored man, was held for court yesterday by Alderman Negley on a charge of larceny made by S. E. Straight. Lloyd, it is alleged, was given a ride on a milk delivery wagon during the early hours of the morning a few days ago and while riding stole a number of bills. After leaving the wagon, it is alleged, he began calling on the customers and collecting. It is said he got about $200.

Not Charged With Partiality.

On three charges of larceny Joseph Pugh was yesterday committed to jail by Justice Elsessor of Etna. Three men who boarded at the same house with him 18 months ago charge that he robbed them. Joseph Gunjae swears he stole $220 from him, Joseph Zuglick says he took clothes from him and George Nadenon accuses him of taking 75 cents.

UTTER NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Rhode Island Republicans Nominate Ticket—Express Loyalty in Message to the President.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 12.—The Republican state convention today nominated George P. Utter for governor and candidates for the minor state offices and presidential electors. The platform indorses the national platform and the nominations of Roosevelt and Fairbanks and pays a high tribute to the administration of President Roosevelt.

A telegram expressing loyalty was sent to President Roosevelt.

WOMAN SOUGHT SURCPEASE FROM TROUBLE IN RIVER

Mrs. Mamie Lynn, whose husband and two children live in Auburn street, this city, was taken from the Allegheny river about 1:30 yesterday afternoon. Officer Joseph Gausman arrived as she was wading out into the stream, and the supposition is that she intended to commit suicide. The woman says she had a quarrel with her husband some days ago and had since been living at 61 Robinson street. She and her husband met yesterday and the quarrel was resumed. Later she started to drink and the trip to the river was the result. She was kept a prisoner in the Allegheny Central station last night.

TWO MILLION TONS OF RAILS NEEDED

No Reduction by U. S. Steel Corporation—New York Central Buys Cars.

ORDER TO WESTERN BRANCH

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.

The estimates of heavy steel rails, needed within the next 12 months for relaying purposes alone, is conservatively placed at not less than 2,000,000 tons. This is exclusive of what may be needed for wholly new extensions.

According to a person in close touch with the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation there is substantial foundation for the report that the company proposes to erect a rail mill in Canada. The cost will be less than $2,000,000, instead of $13,000,000, as estimated by the state department of Halifax. An expert on steel says that in his opinion the Steel Corporation will be compelled to use its own ores in the manufacture of Canadian rails. Canadian ore, he claims, is not suitable to the manufacture of rails of a quality equal to the American rails.

Very positive statements were circulated in Wall street today that the United States Steel Corporation will not make any reduction in its price for steel rails. The meeting of the rail manufacturers to decide on the pool price for rails for the 1905 delivery will be held next month.

In addition to its other recent contracts for improvement, the New York Central railroad has ordered from the American Car and Foundry Company and the Western Steel Car Company, the western branch of the Pressed Steel Car Company, 3,000 wooden box cars, constructed upon steel frames. There is a big demand for cars, and the Pressed Steel Car Company has been receiving more orders for cars of different makes than at any time within a year. One of the largest orders has been 300 all steel cars for the Pennsylvania railroad.

NOT AFRAID OF THE HOODOO.

The Rev. Dr. Cartwright Finds Good in the Number of Thirteen.

SCOTTDALE, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—It is possible the hoodoo number "13" only exerts its influence in matters of a secular nature. At any rate this seems to have been the experience of the Rev. Dr. Charles L. E. Cartwright, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this place.

Dr. Cartwright has been in the ministry 13 years. In these 13 years he has received into membership in the Methodist Episcopal church 1,313 persons, and the present membership of the Scottdale church is 713. The number of persons received into the Scottdale church during the past five years was 533, 41 times 13. Dr. Cartwright's report for the conference year ending last Sunday shows the church to be in a most flourishing condition. The total membership is 713 and of these 75 were received during the past year.

Water Famine Stops Ovens.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Fifty coke ovens at the Continental plant No. 1 and 30 at the Continental plant No. 2 of the H. C. Frick Coke Company have been banked this week on account of a lack of water. At the Brownfield plant of the Frick company none of the 446 ovens are in operation, those that were running having been closed down over a week because there is no water. Rain is badly needed throughout this section.

PEACE DOVECOTE IN PITTSBURGH

MEETING IN TEMPLE TONIGHT

An international peace society, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, is expected to be the outcome of the peace meeting to be held in the Eighth street temple this evening. Rabbi Levy is hopeful that this gathering will be representative of the best elements in the religious and ethical life of the community.

As many of the speakers must leave Pittsburgh on the 10 p. m. train for the east, the meeting will begin promptly at 7:45 and adjourn at about 9:30. The speakers have promised to talk briefly, though pointedly. Rabbi Levy is in receipt of a large number of letters and telegrams from some of the most celebrated men of the age, and a few of these will be read during the meeting. They are stirring indorsements of this undertaking and represent the opinion of men to whom the world looks for guidance. The program is as follows:

Organ selection.....W. K. Steiner
Prayer and opening remarks.
Rabbi J. Leonard Levy
Remarks by presiding officer.
Chancellor McCormick
Address.....The Hon. John Wanamaker
Address.....Pastor Charles Wagner
(Author of "The Simple Life.")
Selection, "Peace Anthem".....Choir
Address.....Prof. X. Koenig
(Professor of University of Paris.)
Hymn, "The Golden City"...Choir and audience
Address.....Dr. W. Evans Darby
(Secretary of the British Peace society.)
Address.....George H. Perris
(Secretary of the Cobden club, London.)
Reading of telegrams, etc.
Remarks.....The Hon. Josiah Cohen
Remarks.....The Rev. Father Lambing
Remarks.....The Rev. S. Edward Young
Hymn, "Onward".....Choir and audience
Closing remarks, etc....Rabbi J. Leonard Levy
National anthem.....Choir and audience
Benediction.
Processional.....W. K. Steiner

It is very rare that Jew, Catholic and Protestant stand upon the platform of a house of worship and find themselves in a position to be able to indorse a public undertaking. The sight of rabbi, priest and pastor united in a common work is one that brings a message of peace which is a token of the better day which is coming.

The department of public safety has arranged to take charge of the large audience and a squad of police will be on hand to superintend the arrangements outside of the temple. Printed programs will be given to all who attend, and a souvenir containing all the addresses will probably be issued a little later, if it is found that the rabbi received sufficient requests to warrant the publication.

It is especially desirable that the citizens of Pittsburgh should understand that all who desire to attend will be made welcome, and Jew and Gentile, white and colored, are equally asked to be present and will be granted seats as far as the building will permit.

MAY HALT BRIDGE WORK.

Injunction Being Prepared to Prevent Rebuilding of Bridge Over Ohio.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 12.—It is reported here, though not officially confirmed by the United States district attorney, that he is preparing a bill for an injunction to prevent the reconstruction of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad bridge across he Ohio river at this point.

All the spans have been rebuilt except the two channel spans, and it is reported that the courts will be called upon to prohibit the construction of the two remaining spans.

GRIEVING OVER BURNED MODELS

Augustus St. Gaudens Loses Those of Famous Monuments Destroyed With Studio.

WORK IN HAND ALSO RUINED

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Augustus Saint Gaudens, whose studio at Windsor, Vt., was destroyed last night, received news of the disaster in this city, where he has been the guest of friends for several weeks. He started for Windsor this morning. He was deeply grieved by the irreparable loss he has sustained in famous models and medallions and work which he could hardly replace in a lifetime.

The loss of the model for a statue of Charles Stewart Parnell, only recently inspected and approved by John E. Redmond, is a matter of particular distress to him, as he considered this one of his best works. The model of Marcus M. Daly, the copper king of Montana, was also destroyed.

Models of work which made him famos and which St. Gaudens particularly treasured, also destroyed in the fire, are: The Sherman monument, Central park, New York; Admiral Farragut, Madison Square, New York; the Puritan, Springfield, Mass; Lincoln, Lincoln park, Chicago; the Shaw monument, Boston commons; the Garfield monument, Philadelphia; Peter Cooper statue, Cooper union, New York; Diana, Madison Square garden, New York; Grief, Rock Creek cemetery, Washington, D. C.; bronze group, Boston library, Boston; Col. Robert Gould Shaw, Boston, and John A. Logan, Chicago.

It had been Mr. St. Gaudens' intention to place himself under the care of surgeons while here for an operation. He will return later in the month for this purpose.

IDENTIFIES FRIEND'S HAT.

Believed That Missing Patrick Finacune Lost His Life in Falling from Point Bridge.

Patrick Henry Finacune, who disappeared from his home in Cresson street Tuesday, is believed to be the man who fell from the Point bridge on that evening. Harry Frye, a neighbor of Finacune, last night went to West End police station and identified a hat found in the Ohio river yesterday as that of his missing friend. Finacune went out on the reconstruction of the Point bridge to sell some tickets for a raffle for the benefit of Mrs. Irwin Wise, whose husband was killed recently on the Pennsylvania railroad. He was seen walking among the floor beams of the bridge toward the west end shore. Watchman John Harris said he saw a man of Finacune's description fall off the bridge into the river.

Finacune was formerly a theatrical man and played over the vaudeville circuit as a hoop juggler. He was about six feet tall, weighed 190 pounds and had red hair.

August Fraas, aged 26, of McKeesport, committed suicide in a field at that place yesterday by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He was despondent by reason of alleged domestic infelicity, although married but a month.

William Reason, aged 45, of 108 Anderson street, Allegheny, was killed in the Soble iron works, Thirteenth street and Allegheny Valley railroad, yesterday, by falling into an ore crusher.

Mrs. Dorothy Washlefski, aged 68, of 1351 Penn avenue, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday from burns received from an explosion of a lamp at her home Tuesday night.

Expo visitors will find "The Big Store" a most interesting place to visit.

BEAUMONT'S GREAT CATCH SAVED PIRATES FROM DEFEAT

OPENING GAME ENDED A TIE

Pittsburgh and Cleveland Fought for Fourteen Innings, Both Doing Great Work.

BEAUMONT WAS THE STAR

The greatest ball game of the season was the opening contest of the local end of the post-season series between the Pittsburgh and Cleveland teams at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The game went 14 innings, and when Umpire Klem called time on account of darkness at 5:30 the score was 3 and 3.

The contest was a magnificent battle between two well-matched teams, and there were plays made that brought the 3,800 spectators to their feet with prolonged cheers. When the Pirates tied the score in the ninth inning the cheers of the crowd could be heard for blocks. There was no necessity for the game going into extra innings, and it would have ended in the ninth in the local's favor but for a decision of the umpire which cost the Pirates the winning run. The decision was a close one, however, and the umpire's mistake was an honest one, still it called forth loud protests from the spectators as well as the players.

This decision was made on Ritchey who had tried to score the winning run from second base when Phelps drove a fine single to middle field. Ritchey made a slide for the plate with his arms extended, and his left arm was clear across the plate when Catcher Bemis put the ball on him, touching him on the shoulder, but the umpire ruled that the runner was out, and the protests of the players and spectators went for naught. This made the third out, forced the game into extra innings, and a tie score.

Of course the interest of the game was largely centered in the work of the opposition stars, Wagner and Lajoie, and while both put up a grand display of baseball, yet the real star of the afternoon was "Ginger" Beaumont, the Pirates' middle fielder, who contributed two catches which were sensational in the extreme, and which had a lot to do with saving the game for his team. This was particularly true of his catch from Bradley's bat in the tenth inning when there were two runners on the bases and two out. The hit looked like a sure home run, but by great sprinting Beaumont just managed to get under the ball and he caught it while on a hard run.

It was Claude Ritchey who come pretty close to the undoing of his team in the ninth inning when he made a throw which was directly responsible for the two runs scored by the visitors in that inning, and it was the same player who saved the game for his team in their half of the ninth when he drove the ball down the right foul line for a two-base hit and brought home Bransfield and Leach with the runs that tied the score. The excitement in that one inning was something to be wondered at, and the spectators seemed to lose their wits entirely.

The pitchers for the afternoon were Adrian Joss, who is one of the American league stars, and Charley Case, and the local man had much the better of the argument, holding the heavy-hitting visitors to seven hits in the 14 innings, while the Pirates touched up Joss' delivery for over double that number. It seems sort of odd to see 15 hits and only three runs chalked up for the Pirates, but the trouble was that the majority of the hits were made after two were out, besides the Cleveland players were putting up a grand fielding game, and the runners were kept close to the bases. When the umpire called the game at the end of the fourteenth inning the two pitchers met half way on the field and shook hands, an act that was applauded by the crowd. The steady work of the pitchers was remarkable, as not a base on balls was given by either twirler during the 14 innings.

Umpire Klem, who made his first appearance here, had quite a number of close decisions to make, and this made his task a hard one. In the thirteenth inning, when he called McCormick out on a very close decision at first base, the player entered an emphatic protest and for which he was put out of the game, Gilbert taking his place in right field. In justice to the umpire it must be said that he also gave some close decisions against the visiting team, and while his judgment was a bit faulty, yet he did not play any favorites.

The visitors were the first to score, Beaumont making a run in the fifth inning when Lajoie led off with a single, went all the way to third on a wild pitch, and scored on an out at first. The Pirates tied the score in the seventh which Wagner opened with a base hit and went to third on an infield single by Bransfield. Hans got home while the Cleveland infield was dividing up Bransfield's grounder.

There was nothing further doing on either side until the ninth was reached, and then Vinson started trouble when he drove a grounder to Wagner and reached first because Hans handled the ball too slow. Bradley the next batter, tried for a sacrifice and dumped the ball down towards the first base. Ritchey tried for the play which had to be a fast one, but his toss to Bransfield missed that player and the ball rolled into right field allowing Vinson to score and Bradley to reach third. Flick followed with a fine drive to right for three bases on which Bradley scored.

It looked all over for the locals with the visitors' two runs to the good, and when the first two batsmen in the Pirates' half of the ninth went out in order, the crowd got up and some were foolish enough to go home. Bransfield, who was the third batter, managed to beat out an infield bounder and Leach placed a timely single in middle field. Ritchey then made good his error by driving the ball to right for two bases, scoring both Bransfield and Leach. On Phelps' single Ritchey tried to get home with the winning run, but was called out at the plate. Both teams worked hard during the next five innings, but neither could get the run necessary to win the game. The score:

QUAKERS WILL BE SOLD.

Sheriff Will Sell Club to Satisfy Loans Made This Year.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 12.—To satisfy judgment notes aggregating $30,000, the Philadelphia National league baseball club will be sold at sheriff's sale. Action has been brought by Arthur E. Newbold as trustee for the stockholders, and announcement of the public sale will be made by the sheriff within a few days.

President Potter of the club said today that the action of Mr. Newbold is founded upon certain loans made by him and other officers of the club in November, 1903, and during the present year. The loans amounted to about $30,000. As the stock of the company is full paid, no assessments could be levied and the past season being profitless, the club could not repay the loans. Additional loans would be necessary to continue next season, Mr. Potter said, and many of the stockholders insisted upon Mr. Newbold proceeding against the company.

Banquet Given Ohio Works.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Two hundred men attended a banquet given the Ohio Works team at the close of the season tonight. It was one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the kind ever given in the city. Each member of the team was given a watch fob with a gold baseball attached bearing the inscription "Ohio Works Champions 1904." Addresses were made by the Hon. W. J. Williams, Captain "Reddy" Mack of the team, Thomas McDonald, superintendent of the Ohio steel works, the Hon. R. W. Taylor, ex-congressman from this district; M. J. McGown of Niles, William Evans, S. S. Conroy and Manager Marty Hogan. The Ohio Works has decided to continue next year, and the men are being signed.

BIG EVENTS WERE WON IN STRAIGHT HEATS

John Caldwell Captured the West Stake and Jack Axworthy Took the Lexington.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 12.—The two stake races on the card today attracted an unusually large crowd to the trots. John Taylor, the 2-to-5 favorite, won the unfinished 2:09 trotting race in the fourth heat easily.

The West, the $2,000 stake for 2:29 trotters, was won in three straight heats by John Caldwell, the 1-to-5 favorite. There was no pooling on the race, the victory being conceded to John Caldwell. Direct Well was distanced for running.

The Lexington stake, worth $2,000, for 2-year-olds, trotting, went to Jack Axworthy in two straight heats. Bon Voyage, the favorite in the race on the strength of his winning the 2-year-old division of the Futurity, was formally transferred to W. A. Clark, Jr., of Butte, Mont., just before the race was called. Charles Mervin sold Bon Voyage to Clark the day he won the Futurity for $10,000. He apparently had each of the heats today won until the very finish. Bertha Bennett and Elmford divided third and fourth money. Summaries:

COLUMBIA HOLDS SWATHMORE SIX INCHES FROM GOAL LINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—By a score of 12 to 0 Columbia defeated Swarthmore at American League park this afternoon. In the first half Columbia clearly outclassed Swarthmore at all points except punting, and kept the ball constantly in Swarthmore's territory. Columbia scored once in the first period and nearly scored again. In the second period Swarthmore, by using relayed passes, got the ball to within six inches of Columbia's goal, where Columbia recovered it on downs and punted to the 25-yard mark. Swarthmore then rushed the ball back to within a foot of Columbia's goal and again lost it on downs. Columbia advanced the ball to Swarthmore's 4-yard line, and then Metzenth ran 85 yards for Columbia's second touchdown. The game was very rough and Bower and Brown were ruled out for rough work.

St. Louis Americans Beat Nationals.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—The third of the post-season games between the local American and National teams was today won by the former. The winning runs were made in the first inning, Burkett and Wallace scoring when Shannon's throw from the left field to the plate got past Grady. Attendance, 2,600. Score:

Tigers Won't Stand for Dashiel.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Considerable surprise and indignation has been aroused in Princeton over the rumor that Princeton is trying to force Yale to accept Jack Minds as umpire in the coming game and refuses to consider Paul Dashiel, who is Yale's indicated choice. As a matter of fact, no effort has been made to do anything of the kind. Princeton is willing to take any umpire Yale chooses to name except Dashiel. Princeton's objection to Dashiel extends back to 1899. During the Yale game of that year his decision showed such partiality to Yale that that fact alone was sufficient to make him objectionable to Princeton, and after the game he went to the Yale dressing rooms and expressed his bitter regret at Yale's defeat.

Crawford Is High Gun.

BROWNSVILLE, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—A sweepstake meet with 10 events was shot at Masontown yesterday under the auspices of the gun club at that place. C. S. Crawford was high gun, with 161 birds. Moore and R. F. Crawford tied for second place. West was third and J. T. Crawford fourth. Scores out of a possible 175: C. S. Crawford, 161; Moore, 159; J. T. Crawford, 156; West, 157; T. H. Thompson, 147; R. F. Crawford, 159; Dougherty, 140; G. Thompson, 132; Hawkins, 94; Jackson, 54; McDowell, 122; Titlow, 135, and Bryan, 67.

Season Closes at Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The most successful year in the baseball history of Youngstown closed today with a benefit game for Manager Marty Hogan between a local team and the Ohio Works, the latter winning, 3 to 0. A battery was loaned the amateurs. Score:

| | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| East Ends ..... | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Ohio Works ..... | 0 | 2 | 0 |

Officials for Big Game.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 12.—Announcement was made today that Paul A. Dashiell of Annapolis for umpire, Matthew A. McClung of Lehigh for referee, and Joseph C. McCracken of University of Pennsylvania for linesman had been selected as the officials for the Yale-Columbia football game in New York and the Harvard-Yale game in this city. The Yale and Princeton officials have not reached an agreement on an umpire for their game. Princeton refuses to accept Mr. Dashiell.

Pittsburgh Enters A. A. A.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Harlan W. Whipple, president of the American Automobile association, received a message from Pittsburgh today announcing that the Pittsburgh Automobile club had decided unanimously to join the American Automobile association. This was the last of the important clubs of the country to remain out of the association, and its accession gives the national organization a solid front to present to any opposition such as was threatened last winter.

McCormick Coaches Edgar.

Harry McCormick of the Pirates coached Edgar, the W. U. P. guard, who does the punting, in kicking in yesterday's practice, which was held after the Pittsburgh-Cleveland game. McCormick formerly played fullback for Bucknell. Westminster college will meet W. U. P. Saturday at Exposition park. Coach Mosse, who is ill, was somewhat improved yesterday.

Brown Wins in Second Half.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 12.—Brown defeated Wesleyan today, 12 to 0. The entire game was played in a downpour of rain. Wesleyan lost the ball on a fumble on Brown's four-yard line and in the latter part of the first half Brown did the same thing on Wesleyan's eight-yard line. During the second half Brown's offensive play improved and Webb was twice pushed over the line for touchdowns.

Players Will Attend the Grand.

On the invitation of Manager Harry Davis the players of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland team will attend the Grand opera house tonight and occupy boxes, which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Notice to Manager Dillon.

Manager Dillon of the Braddock football team is to call up The Gazette sporting department tonight.

Stocker Beat McCourt.

In last night's pool tournament Stocker beat McCort 150 to 118 in an interesting match.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 12.—Yale defeated the Springfield Young Men's Christian Association training school team 6 to 0, this afternoon in a game marred by fumbling of punts and a slippery ball. The game was a disappointment to Yale, while the Springfield team left the field in high spirits. Early in the second half it looked as if the visitors would carry the ball across Yale's goal line, gains for several rounds of nine yards being made through the Yale center and between tackle and left end.

Yale had rushed the ball to within a few feet of their opponents' goal in the first half, when one of the forwards was offside and the ball was called back, although Morse had stepped across the goal line. By bucking the line, using Morse, Stevenson and Shevlin in alternate plunges, Yale finally scored a touchdown.

In the second half Shevlin made a sensational run, but Yale was unable to score again. The line-up:

| Yale—6. | | Springfield—0. |
|---|---|---|
| Cates | L. E. | Lowman |
| Bloomer | L. T. | Buckwalter |
| Kinney | L. G. | Steigerwaldt |

| Hutchinson | Q. B. | Metzdorf |
| Stevenson | L. H. | Mason |
| Morse-Quill | R. H. | Post |
| Shevlin | F. B. | Hill |

Touchdown—Morse. Goal from touchdown—Bloomer. Referee—Dr. McCurdy, Springfield. Umpire—Dr. W. C. Wurtemberg, New Haven. Lineman—T. B. Hull, New Haven. Time of halves—20 minutes.

PRINCETON'S CLOSE CALL.

Lafayette Gives Tigers Hard Game, Losing by 5-to-0 Score.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Princeton defeated Lafayette this afternoon 5 to 0. The game was the most hotly-contested of the season so far, and also proved to be Princeton's closest call to being scored on. The greatest part of the work on both sides was made up of very good and heavy mass play-ing, though Lafayette frequently had to resort to a kicking game. Short was finally jammed over for a touchdown on which Stannard made an attempt to kick goal, which resulted in an excusable failure. The Tigers' playing then began slowly to lose its former snap, while Lafayette's playing showed corresponding improvement. The lineup:

| Princeton—5. | | Lafayette—0. |
|---|---|---|
| Crawford | L. E. | Thomas |
| Young | L. T. | Wren |
| Waller-Dutcher | L. G. | Doud |
| Rafferty | C. | Hoskins |
| Short | R. G. | Logan |
| Stannard | R. T. | Newberry |
| Miller | R. E. | Hopper |
| Burke-Ritter | Q. B. | Morrison |
| King-Symons | L. H. | Vanatta |
| McCormick-Bard-Daub | F. B. | McAvoy |
| Foulke | R. H. | Billcott |

HARVARD'S DEFENSE WEAK.

Light Bates Eleven Keeps Crimson on Jump at All Stages.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Harvard defeated Bates today 11 to 0, 12 points less than last year. There was a steady downpour of rain all through the game, and the field was like a swamp. The Bates team was light, but fast, getting the jump on Harvard at every turn. Harvard was again powerful on the offensive, while wretchedly weak on defense work. This, coupled with fumbling, was responsible for Harvard's low score. Five times there was a slip-up in getting the ball to the backs, three of which resulted in giving Bates the ball. The line-up:

| Harvard—11. | | Bates—0. |
|---|---|---|
| Fitley-Whitman-Jones | L. E. | Mahoney |
| Meier-Paul | L. T. | Reed |

FRIENDSHIP PARK SECURED FOR BIG COLLEGE GAME

The Washington and Jefferson-State college game for Saturday, October 22, at Friendship park is assured fact. Friendship park was yesterday secured for the game, and these two colleges will meet as scheduled. The game will be one of the best in Western Pennsylvania this year and will be the first big event in Pittsburgh. The East End lyceum, which plays at Friendship park, has Saturday, November 12, open for Friendship park, which Manager Welsh would like to fill.

Johnstown Swamps Tri-State Champs.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Johnstown swamped Penn Park of York today. McHale was batted for 22 hits with a total of 43 bases, which established the batting record of the season. Johnstown has won two out of three games from the Tri-State champions. Zanesville plays here the remainder of the week, when the Johnstown club will disband. The score:

Amherst Beats Bowdoin, 23 to 0.

AMHERST, MASS., Oct. 12.—Amherst today defeated Bowdoin in a rough game, 23 to 0. Rain fell steadily. Line plunging by R. Crook and Coggeshall netted good gains for Amherst, and the play of Rollins at tackle was superb. Twice by end runs Kinsman brought the ball within a few feet of Amherst's goal, but Bowdoin lost it there each time.

Politics Led to Murder.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Solomon Dishman, a middle-aged man who lives on the Big Sandy river near Fort Gay, engaged in a political argument with Walter Fremont, an aged neighbor, who was years ago connected with a railroad when H. G. Davis was engaged on that line. Fremont pulled a revolver and shot Dishman through the heart.

OISEAU WON THE CHAMPAGNE STAKES

Race Was Run on a Muddy Track and Jockey Odum Showed His Skill.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—On a muddy track Oiseau, with Odom up, won the Champagne stakes for 2-year-olds, 7 furlongs, at Morris Park today. Tradition was second and Pasadena, an added starter, third. Oiseau and Tradition were both quoted at 11 to 10. At the lifting of the barrier Odom sent Oiseau to the front, followed by Burnt Hills and Tradition. Rounding into the stretch Oiseau was leading by two lengths from Tradition. In the run to the wire Tradition closed on the leader, but Oiseau won, driving by half a length. Tradition was three lengths in front of Pasadena.

DeReszke, the 1 to 2 favorite, won the New Rochelle selling stake by a head from Andrew Mack. Summaries:

First race, last six and a half furlongs of the Withers mile—Orthodox, 104, Martin, 16 to 5, won; Graceful, 105, Travers, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Jack Ratlin, 105, Hildebrand, 11 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:23¾.

Second race, the Withers mile—Alanadale, 116, Collins, 4 to 5 and out, won; James F., 107, Heappy, 3 to 2 and 2 to 5, second; Tolsan, 97, Henning, 50 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:44¾. Only three starters.

Third race, the Champagne stakes, last seven furlongs of the Withers mile—Oiseau, 122, Odom, 11 to 10 and 1 to 4, won; Tradition, 119, Lyne, 11 to 10 and 1 to 4, second; Pasadena, 122, Martin, 40 to 1 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:29.

Fourth race, the New Rochelle selling, the Withers mile—DeReszke, 109, W. Davis, 1 to 2 and 1 to 4, won; Andrew Mack, 101, Travers, 8 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Old England, 100, Schilling, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:43¾.

Fifth race, selling, last seven furlongs of Withers mile—Monacodor, 100, Travers, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, won; R. L. Johnston, 99, Hildebrand, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Sufferance, 87, Powers, 60 to 1 and 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:31¼.

Sixth race, selling, one mile and a sixteenth over the hill—Proceeds, 106, Phillips, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Thistle Heather, 98, W. Davis, even and 1 to 2, second; Midshipman, 95, Schilling, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:49½.

NOW HE ADMITS IT.

Steinfeldt Is Married, but Barred from His Wife's Home.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Although Harry Steinfeldt, the third baseman of the Reds, now admits his marriage to Myrtle Lockwood, another complication has arisen. The girl returned to her home in Bellevue, Ky., after the ceremony was performed and her father refuses to allow "Steiny" to enter his door. He and his wife had a stolen interview today, and last night he and her father met, but failed to agree. The girl declares that she will cleave to her husband, but that she cannot leave home now because of the shock it would be to her mother.

It will be recalled that some months ago Sam Leever of the Pittsburghs denied the records of marriage in Newport, Ky.

NOT LOWER THAN 95.

Limit Placed on Net Return from Sale of Proposed Issue of Crucible Bonds.

The price to be realized for the proposed issue of bonds of the Crucible Steel Company of America will not be less than 95 net, over and above all expenses and commissions, according to an official statement made last evening by President Frank B. Smith of the company.

At the meeting of the stockholders to be held next Wednesday the question of a bond issue will be formally submitted in the president's annual report. It will be stated that it is the purpose of the board of directors at this meeting to offer a resolution under which the stockholders will authorize the issue of these bonds from time to time as the needs of the company may require, the price realized not to be less than that stated above. The first right to subscribe is reserved to stockholders.

VETERAN MASONS CELEBRATE.

Entertainment and Banquet Given With Nearly 200 Persons Attending at Masonic Hall.

With an entertainment and a banquet at Masonic hall the Association of Masonic Veterans celebrated last evening the rounding out of its eighteenth year. The association is composed of those who have been master Masons for 20 years or more.

There were close upon 200 present and, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, the festivities lasted until nearly midnight. Among those taking part in the entertainment features were: Messrs. Stephens, Prichard, Clarke and Amberson, who made up a quartet; Gertrude Hartman, Miss Prichard, Arthur Lane, Mrs. Edwin Miller, the Misses Bender, E. C. Clark and Irene Killen.

The banquet committee was composed of George B. Moore, Charles R. Dallas and W. S. Bell.

PERSONALS

T. C. Link, architect of the Wabash railroad, is at the Lincoln. He stated that he is busy preparing plans for a Wabash station to be erected at Toledo.

W. R. Thompson left last night for New York on a business trip.

William Witherow, proprietor of the Hotel Duquesne, left last night over the Pennsylvania railroad for Philadelphia.

H. C. Frick passed through the city last evening over the Pennsylvania railroad. He was on his way west, presumably to confer with officials of the Union Pacific, of which road he has been made a director.

Rudolph Kabatsch, who is in charge of the members of the Lower Austria Merchants' and Industrial association, has arranged for the party to return to Pittsburgh. They will arrive this morning and while here will visit all local industries. The party was here two weeks ago, but left before inspecting any of the local plants.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Residents of nearby towns at the local hotels last night were:

Duquesne—W. G. Kranz, Sharon; Thomas M. Arnold, Clarion.

Henry—C. A. Grady, Marietta, O.; F. Armstrong, Wheeling; R. W. Hall, Meadville; L. W. Squires, Greensburg; C. W. McKean, Sharon.

Griswold—J. L. Krepps, Bellevernon; J. M. Walsh, Youngstown; George K. Welsing, Wilcox.

Seventh Avenue—G. Marshall, Indiana; John E. Gruber, Punxsutawney; S. D. Steffey, Blairsville; O. K. Taylor, Brownsville.

Lincoln—T. M. Morris, Hazleton; J. Hill, Washington; T. L. Wilson, Clarion.

Monongahela House—T. W. Meyers, Connellsville; F. W. Jones, Latrobe; C. R. Simpson, Dunbar.

Colonial—F. W. Smith, Greensburg; B. Y. Morris, Jeannette.

Boarders and Roomers.

"Penny wise and pound foolish" is the boarding house keeper who has an empty chair at the table or a vacant room in the house, and yet does not use The Gazette "want ad" columns. That vacant place costs you money every day it remains so. Life is an effort to secure a season of leisure and respite from toil, but the leisure you obtain through a shortage of boarders or roomers is too expensive to be pleasureable.

It would cost one cent a word to advertise for boarders once in THE GAZETTE. The same ad would run seven times for the price of six.

FOWNES IS THE GOLF CHAMPION

Won the Title Yesterday When He Defeated Professionals on the Oakmont Links.

BYERS PLAYED VERY POORLY

W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont Country club won the title yesterday of open golf champion of Western Pennsylvania in the annual competition for the honor held this year at the Oakmont Country club. The competition was at 36 holes of medal play and had 20 entries.

Ernest Way, professional at the Pittsburgh Golf club, finished second and Jack Dingwall, professional at the Allegheny Country club, third. Mr. Fownes waived his right to the first prize, $30 in plate, in favor of Way. The professionals are only eligible to the second and third prizes in the open competition.

Mr. Fownes, the winner, was the runner-up in the amateur championship competitions in 1901, 1902 and 1903. He played a very steady game yesterday. His brilliant work was at the fifteenth hole, when, short of the green in three, he holed a mashie in four. He was a little unsteady for the first five holes in the second round, sliding his tee shot going to the first and putting the same shot going to the second, and he had a bad iron in the sixth, but the last nine holes were played without a mistake. He went out in bogey, 40, and came home one under bogey, 39. His 38 for the last nine holes equaled that of Dingwall and was the best of the day. He played with Way, who was decidedly off on the greens yesterday. Way was second in the open competitions in 1902 and 1903.

Dingwell, who finished second, won the open championship last year. He was off on the greens yesterday, having four putts on four greens and three putts on 11 greens. The showing made by E. M. Byers, the Allegheny Country club crack, was a disappointment yesterday. He was the winner of both the open and amateur championships in 1902, but did not defend his title last year. He was in poor form on the greens, and losing his ball at the seventeenth hole in the second round, withdrew from the contest. His cards were:

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Out | 5 | 4 | 6 | 6 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 3 | 6 | —42 |
| In | 4 | 4 | 6 | 2 | 5 | 6 | 4 | 5 | 4 | —40—82 |

| In | 5 | 5 | 6 | 3 | 6 | 5 | 5 | 6 | 5 | |

The absence of George A. Ormiston of the Oakmont Country club was commented upon yesterday. He won the amateur championship last year and holds the record of the Oakmont course, 76. He said last night that business kept him off the links yesterday, but that he would be on hand today to defend his title.

The summaries of the competition are as follows:

INDEPENDENTS TO FIGHT AMERICAN

Glass Manufacturers Ask Workmen to Accept Reduction to Meet Machine Prices.

JOBBERS ARE INTERVENING

The window glass jobbers are taking an influential part in the arrangement of a new scale between local assembly, No. 300, Knights of Labor, and the independent window glass manufacturers. Three conferences were held yesterday bearing on question, but a settlement could not be reached. It is evident the men are being asked to agree to a big reduction, and no doubt they will accept, rather than permit the rival organization, the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers' union, to step in with their agreements to the disadvantage of Knights of Labor workmen.

The first meeting took place yesterday morning, when the window glass jobbers met in conference and prepared an argument to be presented the independent manufacturers. It was learned semi-officially that the points brought out were to the effect that the jobbers and manufacturers must harmonize in order to compete with the American Window Glass Company, which controls the machine glass making plants, and which company continued operating during the usual summer shut-down period. The jobbers claim the American company is in the market with cut prices and to meet the competition the manufacturers must reduce the cost of material, and to do this the workmen must suffer a big reduction.

This complicates the situation, as local No. 300 has a contract with the American Window Glass Company to run continuously. Consequently, part of the membership of the union will work in the machine-equipped factories 12 months a year, while the other members will have to work on a low-wage basis only eight or nine months a year.

The jobbers and manufacturers held a joint session immediately after the meeting of the jobbers. It was brought out that the Western Association of Window Glass Jobbers has been strengthened, and arrangements are being made to organize a national association. A few factories are in operation under a scale that can be terminated if not a satisfactory one, that will be uniform all over the country, is formed. The united action of the jobbers, manufacturers and workers will permit the manufacturers to compete with the machine-made glass.

Thus the members of one union will be working for two bitter competitors, which may result in contention among the members. To accept the scale as proposed by the independent manufacturers will cause the men to work for 50 per cent less wages than those employed by the American Window Glass Company.

The independent manufacturers and the wage committee of the union met at the Hotel Henry yesterday afternoon. Both sides submitted propositions resulting in a deadlock. The workers asked for time to consider the matter, which was granted. The wage committee then retired to its headquarters in the Fidelity building, where they met until a late hour last evening. It is not likely the committee will be prepared for a joint conference until tomorrow.

LOCAL GLASSWORKERS TO INSTRUCT THE JAPANESE

A. Spraggel of Charlerol, who represents the Japanese government, has been requested to send skilled glass workers to Japan to teach the natives the American methods of making all kinds of glassware. He called at the headquarters of Paul St. Peter's organization yesterday. St. Peter agreed to furnish the names of persons who would probably agree to accept such positions. Spraggel said Japan has appropriated a large sum of money to be devoted to the introduction of glass making in that country.

Distributing Strike Benefits.

Secretary John Williams of the Amalgamated association left yesterday for Lebanon, Pa., to distribue strike benefits. M. F. Tighe, assistant secretary, will leave this morning for Youngstown and Girard on a similar mission. It is costing the association nearly $5,000 a week for strike benefits.

"A LITTLE STRONGER—FROM WATER TO MILK"

That there is still humor and wit and stability in the advertising business, is evidenced in a small announcement recently sent to newspaper publishers by J. W. Barber of Boston, who has been an advertising agent for nearly 40 years, a long, long time as advertising agents run. His office at 7 Water street, Boston, was recently removed to 24 Milk street, and he announces it thus:

"A little stronger, thank you—from Water to Milk."

Mr. Barber's success can be explained best, perhaps, by one word, "Reliability," and he exacts from his clients the same token. There are few advertising agencies—probably not another one—which can say as he does:

"For 1902 and 1903 business not a dollar contracted for remains unpaid, and not a dollar—there was 79 cents in the year 1903—has been charged to loss."

Such conduct of business, where millions of dollars are involved, is remarkable enough in these piping days of strenuousness to comment upon.—Brooklyn Standard Union, September 28, 1904.

SOCIETY

SENATOR AND MRS. PHILANDER CHASE KNOX have telephoned to Frank M. Lowry, M. F. H., of the Harkaway hunt of Pittsburgh, asking him to drive the four-in-hand which will convey President and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt from Devon station to Valley Forge farm, the Knox country place, to attend the wedding of Miss Rebekah Page Knox and James Robert Tindle on Saturday. The wedding guests will all be driven from the station to the Knox farm, where the marriage will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Among the Pittsburgh guests, beside the relatives of both the bride and bridegroom-elect, will be Mr. Lowry and Percy Donner of this city, also a member of the Harkaway club. The Harkaway Hunt club will be well represented today at the Clinton country fair. The members of the club will go down to the hunt club house in McDonald this morning and will be driven to the fair in Clinton, 10 miles from the club house. William Thaw will drive a four-in-hand, his guests being chaperoned by his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr. In Mr. Thaw's party will be his mother and his sister, Mrs. Henry Lafayette Collins, Miss Isabel Pontefract and George Nicola. Among other members of the hunt club who expect to visit the fair are Mr. Lowry, who will also drive a four-in-hand, and Mr. and Mrs. James Chatlin, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bradin, Miss Eva Stoner, Miss Blanche Harper, Percy Donner and Edward McDonald. They will all return to the club house in McDonald for dinner in the evening.

Harrison-Brydon.

One of the most fashionable weddings ever solemnized in Somerset, Pa., was that of Miss Nellie Louise Harrison and Mr. John Crosby Brydon in Trinity Lutheran church at 8 o'clock last night. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William L. Fisher of New Castle, Pa., formerly pastor of the local Christian church. The flower maid was Miss Rebecca McCutcheon of Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Beatte of Somerset was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Edna Brydon, sister of the groom, of Bloomington, Md.; Misses Grace and Ethel White, daughters of Gov. and Mrs. White of West Virginia; Miss Myra Ross of Addison, Pa., Miss Myra Love of Hitez, Pa.; Miss Bess Humbird Roberts of Cumberland, Md., Miss Sarah Bigler of Clearfield, Pa., and Miss Helen Graham of Piedmont, W. Va. E. B. Brydon of Crafton, W. Va., was best man and the ushers were E. R. Brydon and S. B. Brydon of Bloomington, Md., Henry Dangerfield and Charles von S. Kalekmann of Baltimore, Douglas H. Frye of Keyser, W. Va., J. G. B. Roberts of Cumberland, Md., Charles J. Harrison, Jr., of Somerset, and Z. T. Kalbaugh of Piedmont, W. Va. A reception, attended by 200 guests, followed at the Highland inn, among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grant McCutcheon and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Duff and Mrs. E. V. Babcock, Dr. James H. Thompson, William Howard Clark, Miss Ray Thomas and Miss Alice Thomas of Pittsburgh, Thomas B. Davis, Jr., and Joseph B. Davis, nephews of Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia; the Hon. John J. Cornwell, Democratic candidate for governor of West Virginia, and Mrs. Cornwall of Romney. The bride is the only daughter of Capt. Charles J. Harrison. Mr. Bryden is general superintendent of the Somerset Coal Company and a member of the Baltimore and Commercial clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Brydon left at midnight for a southern tour.

Will Have Four Ushers.

Four ushers, David S. Cook, Jr., and Harold Cook, brothers of the bride-elect, and Frank F. Brooks and Jarvis Geer will be in the bridal party attending Miss Helen Stockton Cook and J. Bissel Speer at their wedding next Tuesday. The procession will be completed by the bride's only attendant, Miss Susan Shields Williams, who has been chosen as maid of honor. Eugene L. Messler will act as Mr. Speer's best man. The wedding will be an afternoon event at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Cook, in Highland Park, near Chicago. Mr. Speer will leave for Richland Park on Saturday evening, and will be followed later by his best man, Mr. Messler and by Dr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Speer, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Speer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faber Brooks, Mr. Geer, Miss Mary I. Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lect Wilson, Mrs. L. Halsey Williams and Miss Susan Williams. After their wedding trip Mr. Speer and his bride will come to Pittsburgh to take possession of their home in St. James street, near Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside.

Out-of-Town Weddings.

The marriage of Miss Clara Dorsie, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John Dorsie, of Hiram, O., to the Rev. W. S. Rounds of Crafton was solemnized yesterday morning by the father of the bride in Hiram. Mr. Rounds recently accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christian church of Crafton. Mrs. Rounds for a number of years has been closely identified with the work of the Young Women's Christian association and for two years was factory extension superintendent of the Y. W. C. A. in Pittsburgh. After October 20 Mr. and Mrs. Rounds will be at home in Dinsmore avenue, Crafton.

The marriage of John C. Cleary of Carnegie to Miss Nellie Ferry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ferry of Crafton, took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Philip's Roman Catholic church, Crafton, the Rev. Father W. C. Kelty officiating. After a reception at the home of the bride Mr. and Mrs. Cleary left for Indianapolis, Louisville and St. Louis. They will be at home after November 1 in Ingram.

Sandles-Rose.

The largest and handsomest wedding of the season in Braddock was solemnized last evening in the First Presbyterian church. Miss Ida Marie Sandles of Braddock and George E. Rose of Greensburg were united by the Rev. W. O. Reagle. Miss Eleanor Spiglemire of North Braddock was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Nellie Brown and Miss May Schooley of Braddock, Miss Caroline Benn of Hawkins station and Miss Edna Guffey of Irwin. Little Mary Stephens was flower girl. Edwin B. Wilson of Wilkinsburg was best man and the ushers were Maurice L. Rose of Greensburg, brother of the groom; Dr. C. C. Sandles of the East End, James E. Mitchell of the East End and Allen Kirkpatrick of North Braddock. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. W. A. Sandles. After an eastern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rose will be at home to their friends in Braddock.

Bell-Simpson.

A brilliant society event of last evening was the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Foster Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bell of Carnegie, and Dr. Karl Stanley Simpson. Miss Bell's father is vice president of the Colonial Trust Company and Dr. Simpson is resident physician of the Homeopathic hospital and a graduate of the Hahneman school of Philadelphia. The ceremony took place at 6 o'clock in the house, the officiating minister being the Rev. W. R. Wilson of the First United Presbyterian church of Carnegie, assisted by the Rev. Joseph M. Duff, pastor of the Carnegie Presbyterian church. The maid of honor was Miss Tillie Bell, and the best man was Mansfield Brown Christy. Mary Riddle of Burgettstown and Miss Mary Elsie Bell. The ushers were Dr. Carl Hart of Connecticut, Dr. Howard H. Webster of Dayton and John A. Bell, Jr. After February the bridal couple will live in Carnegie.

Gibson-Robinson.

One of the oldest houses in the city, the home of the bride's parents, was the scene of the wedding last evening of Miss Eleanor Turnbull Gibson, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Gibson and William McIlvaine Robinson, a lawyer of this city. The Rev. Dr. Gibson performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, the attendants including the matrons of honor, Mrs. Alfred Hine, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Moore, the maids, Miss Katherine Chambers and Miss Helen Walter. David Aiken Reed served as best man and the ushers were Marshall Thompson, William Thompson, Robert Dodds and Foster Robinson. After the wedding supper and reception Mr. Robinson and his bride left for their wedding trip, at the conclusion of which they will be at home in Harriet street, East End, after December 1.

Vogel-McCrory.

The Rev. W. I. Wishart, pastor of the Eighth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, officiated last evening at the wedding of Miss Bertha Vogel and J. Robinson McCrory, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel, in Federal avenue extension, Allegheny. Mr. and Mrs. William McCrory as best man and matron of honor. Miss Elsa Vogel as maid and William C. Rotzler and Clifford Ziegler as ushers composed the bridal party. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. McCrory will be at home in Duquesne avenue, Allegheny.

Informal Fall Affairs.

Mrs. James Dickson of South Highland avenue will entertain with an informal luncheon this afternoon at the Duquesne club in honor of Mrs. Clarence Deville of Hollywood, Cal., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Palmer Pears, also of South Highland avenue.

Mrs. John Hartwell Hillman's bridge whist yesterday was a delightfully informal affair, the guest of honor being Mrs. John L. Garner of Denver, Col., who is the house guest of her mother, Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams of Fifth avenue.

Wedding Invitations Issued.

Invitations went out yesterday for the wedding of Miss Ethelwyn Satterwaithe and George K. Rose to take place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. K. S. George, in Bellevue on Thursday evening, October 27. The ceremony will be performed at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by a reception and supper. Thursdays after December 1 have been announced as at home days in Ellsworth avenue, East End. Miss Hortense Colin of Clifton avenue, Allegheny, will give a luncheon in honor of the bride-elect next Thursday, and the rehearsal for the wedding will take place the night before. Mr. Rose is a well-known business man of this city.

Westmoreland Couple Wedded.

Parlor G at the Hotel Duquesne was the scene of a pretty little wedding yesterday afternoon, when Miss Cora Sweitzer of Jeannette became the bride of Frank Peroee of Manor. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. McKee of Turtle Creek. The couple were accompanied by members of their immediate families and a few friends. Both the young people are well known in the social circles of their respective towns. Mr. Ferree is a substantial young farmer of Manor. Miss Sweitzer was one of the leaders of the Jeannette social set.

McKown-Schlotter Nuptials.

Miss Josephine McKown, daughter of Mrs. A. B. McKown of Elizabeth, and the Rev. Franklin G. Schlotter were married at the home of the bride's mother at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. L. Cotton, pastor of the Coraopolis Presbyterian church. The couple took a wedding trip east, and after November 1 will be at home at Mamont, where Mr. Schlotter now lives.

Rounded a Half Century.

GREENVILLE, PA., Oct. 12.—The Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Mossman of this place celebrated their golden wedding at their home here today with an informal reception to old friends and neighbors. Several hundred called during the afternoon and evening to pay their respects.

The Rev. Mr. Mossman is one of the oldest retired clergymen in the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, having been in the ministry more than a half century. Their only children, a son and a daughter, were present at the anniversary this evening. There were no formalities, the only approach to such being a few words of felicitations spoken on behalf of the guests by the Hon. James A. Sheakley, former governor of Alaska, and the Rev. W. P. Bignell, a member of the same conference.

McGill-Wright Wedding.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Miss Gertrude McGill, a prominent young society woman of this county, and G. Frank Wright, a young business man of Monessen, were married this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McGill, at Dawson. The Rev. J. D. Ryszon of the Cochran Memorial Methodist Episcopal church officiated.

Olson-Yeaney.

The wedding of Miss Ella Olson of Coralco, Pa., and Dr. Gillespie Blain Yeaney of Clearfield took place yesterday at noon at the home of the bride's mother. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank D. Britt. They will be at home after November 1, after an extensive trip through the eastern cities.

Children's Party Today.

Mrs. Joseph Jones of South Negley avenue will be hostess at a children's party tomorrow afternoon in honor of her two little daughters, Miss Rebecca Jones and Miss Katherine Jones. The hours are from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock and about 30 invitations have been issued.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Women of the New Era Club Meet.

The New Era club yesterday observed one of the most enjoyable president's day in its history. The club met at the home of Mrs. Norwood Johnston, South Rebecca street, and as is customary on president's day, its own president, Mrs. James R. R. Kibler, was the guest of honor, other invited guests being the presidents of other women's clubs in the two cities. Though social features predominated during the afternoon, a short formal program was presented, opening with the president's address, in which Mrs. Kibler outlined the policy which will be followed this season. The reports of the delegates of the club to the meeting of the general federation last spring in St. Louis were given by Mrs. Mattie Patterson and Mrs. George Francis Brown. Miss Helen Grimes, the chairman of the program committee, presented the outline of work for the coming season as known in the year books. The music was given by Miss Myra McFall. Three of the four members of the club who are among the brides of the past summer were present yesterday, adding not a little to the interest in the occasion. They were Mrs. Lillian Wallace Haller, Mrs. Francis Finley and Mrs. Lillian Schulte Holmes. Nearly all of the presidents of the different clubs were in attendance. The officers with the members of the social committee, Mrs. Charles Reisfar; Mrs. Thomas M. Foyle, Mrs. A. Fraser Logate, Mrs. H. McManus and Mrs. Harvey S. Patterson, received.

Travelers' Civic Committee Appointed.

Mrs. William Macrum, the president of the Travelers' club, has appointed a committee with Mrs. James C. Dick, chairman, which will take up the various lines of civic work in which the club women of Pittsburgh are interested. The committee includes the following women: Mrs. Dick, chairman; public baths, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery; Mrs. Lucian Livingston: streets and garbage, Mrs. J. C. Schreiner, Mrs. Theodore Slicker, Mrs. John D. Hamilton; abatement of smoke, Mrs. Julian Kennedy, Mrs. Julia Nelson, Mrs. Benjamin F. Veach; tenement house reform, Mrs. W. P. Price, Miss Margaret Nelson, Mrs. T. P. Henderson; forestry, Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, Mrs. Alfred E. Clark; education, Mrs. Z. T. Miller, Miss Rebekah Witherow, Mrs. J. W. Sproul and Miss Ella M. Fraser.

Joint Committee Will Close the Year.

The joint committee of women's clubs will hold its annual meeting to close its accounts for the season this afternoon in the Twentieth Century club at 2:30 o'clock. The chairman of the various sub-committees in charge of different features of the work of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools the past summer will make their reports, the election of new officers and standing committees will be held and Miss Beulah Kennard, the general chairman, will make an address, speaking particularly of the differences between the summer work as conducted in Pittsburgh, in New York and in Boston, having visited New York.

French Matinee and Tea.

The first matinee of the Pittsburgh branch of the Alliance Francaise was held yesterday afternoon in theTwentieth Century club. Over 50 people were present, when Mr. Skalwelt introduced the speaker, M. Eugene Merlet, who talked of the dramas of Rostand. Mr. Merlet has only recently come to Pittsburgh as professor of the Berlitz school of languages. After the lecture tea was served in another room, and Mrs. Augustus Burgwin presided at the table.

NO CANTEEN THE CAUSE.

Boynton Declares This the Reason for Slight Disorders in the National Parks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The war department has just received the report of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga national park commission, submitted for the commission by Gen. H. V. Boynton, chairman. The commissioners state that during the year monuments were erected and dedicated by the states of Maryland, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Referring to some slight disorders which have occurred, Gen. Boynton says: "The discords are largely attributable to the vile conditions which obtain about all army posts since the abolition of the canteen, which action has substituted for the restraining influence of the post exchange as formerly administered, the surreptitious sale of the vilest liquors in the vilest resorts."

OIL CITY GOT GOLD MEDAL.

Movement to Move State Building from St. Louis to Harrisburg.

OIL CITY, PA., Oct. 12.—Supt. C. W. Babcock has been notified that the public schools here have been awarded a gold medal for the excellence of their exhibit at the palace of education, World's fair.

Supt. Bacock of this city, Supt. Andrews of Pittsburgh, Supt. Jones of West Chester, Supt. Hopper of Wilkesbarre and State Superintendent Schaeffer, forming the executive committee of the Teachers' association, are furthering a movement to have the Pennsylvania state building removed from St. Louis to Harrisburg as a permanent home for state exhibits of all kinds.

Early Curtain at the Nixon.

At the Nixon theater tonight Mr. Sothern and Julia Marlowe will be seen in Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," the only performance of this piece that will be given here. Tomorrow night a sumptuous production of "Hamlet" will be given, and the management calls attention to the fact that owing to the length of the play the curtain will rise at 7:45 o'clock sharp. Those arriving late will not be seated until after the first scene.

Dewey May Direct Maneuvers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Admiral Dewey has again offered to assume command of the combined fleet in the Caribbean sea and direct the winter maneuvers, if his services can be spared from the presidency of the general board at that time Secretary Morton certainly will accept the admiral's offer.

Mrs. H. B. Davis Improving.

Mrs. Harvey B. Davis, wife of the assistant city clerk of Pittsburgh, who has been dangerously ill at Statesville, N. C., of pneumonia, is improving. City Clerk Edgar W. Hassler yesterday received word from Mr. Davis, who is in Statesville, that Mrs. Davis is somewhat better.

DEMOCRATS FOR ROOSEVELT.

Moody Says He Found a Large Percentage in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Attorney General Moody, speaking of the national political situation today, said:

"Rhode Island and Connecticut will assuredly give their electoral votes to President Roosevelt. I found on visiting these states a large percentage of solid and progressive Democrats, who are not at all backward in declaring that they intend to vote for the president for his stand in the Philippines, if for nothing else. I am one of the large majority of those who consider the president's election a foregone conclusion."

Cost of Feeding the Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The annual report of Brig. Gen. J. F. Weston, commissary general of the army, says the total cost of feeding the army during the past fiscal year was $8,281,750. He recommends that bakers be enlisted.

FERD. T. HOPKINS, Prop'r, 37 Great Jones St., N. Y.

I Advise Suffering Women Strongly, to Take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This advice comes from a woman who had suffered all the miseries women can suffer from disease, and had been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Read Mrs. Kempson's letter and, if you are sick, follow her advice.

"Although it has been quite a time since I wrote you," says Mrs. Fred Kempson, of Cambria, Hillsdale Co., Mich., Box 57, "still your name is a blessing in our house, and I think it my duty to let you know that I am still enjoying good health, thanks to you and your 'Favorite Prescription.' When I think how I was five years ago, and then see how I am now, I say, God bless Dr. Pierce's works, and may he live long to help poor suffering women. I have never had any return of my weakness and am well and hearty. Can do all my own work without any pain. You saved me from the grave when all others failed. I advise suffering women strongly, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as I know it will cure in all cases, if indeed there is a cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative, suited to the use of delicate women.

STOCKS OPENED STRONG, BUT LATER SOLD OFF

Some New High Prices Were Made, but Final Net Changes Were Small—Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Strong and Higher.

By JOHN C. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

At the close of the New York market yesterday it was a difficult matter to determine its exact tone from the net changes which had occurred as a result of the day's trading. In every group of securities there were some stocks which closed higher and some lower than the day before. The changes were not entirely logical, inasmuch as some stocks that are classed high grade closed lower than stocks which have a mere speculative value. The irregularity was a more or less marked feature of the trading all day. At times there were palpable efforts to bring about a reaction, but it only required the purchase of a few blocks of some one of the leaders to turn the whole list in an upward direction, and then the market would appear to be as strong as ever.

It is a trying market on the nerves of the average professional trader. His experience tells him that a reaction is overdue, and that when it comes it is likely to be all the sharper because of the delay. His observation tells him that the market is under absolute control and evidently has the sympathy of the large banking interests. No better evidence of this sympathy is needed than the action of the money market. It was "as easy as an old shoe," and apparently all interests in the sudden advance in the rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany on Tuesday, or its significance as bearing on the foreign financial situation, had disappeared. The net result was that the prominence that $3,000,000 gold had arrived from Australia at San Francisco and would be transferred to New York. Call loans were renewed at 2 per cent, and the closing quotations were 1½@2 per cent. There was no change to note in rates for time loans.

There was also evidence of manipulation in London's quotations for American securities. A firmer tendency in continental discounts, and especially in Germany, where investors have been taking an increasing interest in American securities, would naturally be followed by some relaxation in strength for the same, and yet London prices were higher and foreigners were apparently buyers on balance. This gave tone to the market here at the opening, which was strong and higher. By the end of the first hour, however, profit-taking caused a reaction, followed by quiet trading. Then attention was directed to those stocks which have been leaders and the market turned buoyant. Atchison advanced to 85, the highest of the year, and Union Pacific made a new record by advancing to 105¾. The movement in the latter was taken as an expression of the street's opinion on the entrance into the Union Pacific directory of H. C. Frick and William G. Rockefeller. Mr. Frick is looked upon as a "Pennsylvania railroad man," and he has also been spoken of as the favorite of the Rockefeller interest in United States Steel. There have been no connection between the rise in this and other groups of stocks and the reactionary tendency in Missouri Pacific and Wabash, and if there was any feeling that "Gould stocks" were being neglected in this rise, it was weakened by the fact that some low-priced Gould issues scored the largest net gains for the day. In fact, there were so many cross-currents in the market that it was difficult to reach any satisfactory conclusion.

Baltimore & Ohio was another prominent stock to advance to the highest price of the year, and it closed ¾ per cent higher for the day, while Pennsylvania and Reading closed a fraction lower. Louisville & Nashville advanced to 129½, a new high mark for the year, and closed at a net gain of ⅝ for the day, while Northern Pacific closed ½ per cent lower, and Rock Island ⅜ per cent lower. Brooklyn Rapid Transit jumped to 62, highest for more than a year.

The dealings in industrial stocks was the larger distributed than for a long time past, and the stocks of the railroad equipment companies scored larger net gains than in any others. United States Steel stocks did not make any new records, and both the common and preferred closed lower, but the sinking fund bonds advanced to 85⅛ and closed at 85 bid. Pressed Steel Car common closed 3 per cent higher and the preferred 1¼ per cent higher. Locomotive common and American Car and Foundry common both closed 1@1½ per cent higher. Amalgamated Copper after selling up to 68⅝ lost the gain and closed ½ per cent lower. United States Leather common and preferred and United States Rubber were active, strong and higher.

Wall street paid little attention to the strength of wheat and corn, which closed at practically the best prices of the day.

The strongest stock in the local market yesterday was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which opened at 68¾, advanced to 71, the highest of the year and closed at 70¾ bid. The sales for the day were only 1,600 shares, and at the close of the session there were no offerings of the stocks. The common was also firmer, advancing to 16 and closing at 15¾ bid. There was no news to account for the movement, but the urgency of the buying at times gave color to the reports of an extensive short interest. River Coal preferred declined at small fraction to 23½. The Pittsburgh Coal preferred dividend scrip sold at 105⅝, the highest price ever quoted. The most active stock in the market was Crucible Steel preferred, which on sales of a little less than 2,000 shares declined to 41⅜ and closed offered at that price. The common stock was neglected. It was reported that the directors were considering the advisability of issuing an annual statement in advance of holding the stockholders' meeting on the 19th inst., and there were intimations that the showing as to net earnings would be less favorable than expected. United States Steel stocks were dull and closed fractionally lower. Westinghouse Electric advanced a small fraction to 83¾. There were no sales of Philadelphia Company. Manufacturers Light and Heat closed a shade lower at 38¾, and Ohio Fuel Supply a fraction higher at 39⅞. The rest of the list was dull and unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges increased $222,000 over the same day last year.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred advanced to 71, the highest of the year.

River Coal preferred declined a small fraction to 23½.

Crucible Steel preferred declined to 41¾ and closed offered at that price.

IN WALL STREET.

Stocks active and irregular, closing at small net changes.

Sales foot up 307,600 shares stock and $5,080,000 bonds.

Atchison and Union Pacific advanced to the highest prices of the year.

Baltimore & Ohio and Nashville also made new records on this movement.

Railroad equipment stocks active and scored large gains.

Steel bonds a shade higher, but the stock closed lower.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The rise in Pittsburgh Coal preferred yesterday to 71 represents an advance of $10 a share in exactly two weeks. Less than 7,000 shares of stock has changed hands during this period. The recovery from the low point of the year amounts to $23 00 a share. In the opinion of friends of the company the present movement is in sympathy with the rise that has taken place in other stocks of the same general class. As one broker expressed it yesterday: "United States Steel preferred and Pittsburgh Coal preferred sold at lower prices earlier in the year than warranted by the worst condition of trade. United States Steel preferred, having the benefit of a broader market, which was restricted for support to the local market. These two stocks have always sold pretty close together, because the business of each is closely related. If Steel preferred is worth its present price, then Pittsburgh Coal preferred was selling too low." That is one view of the situation. Another is that Pittsburgh Coal preferred, like United States Steel preferred, was unwarrantably depressed by short sales; that some of the bears sold more stock short in order to get a better average, and that the sustained rise in the general market has scared these shorts into covering.

The heaviness of Crucible Steel preferred yesterday was thought to be due partly to the reactionary tendency in United States Steel preferred in the eastern market, and partly to rumors that the annual report would not come up to the more sanguine expectations. It was said that the buying was better than usual, and that while the reaction might go further after the annual report came out, there would be a recovery if the proposed bond issue met with large support, and if general market conditions remained favorable.

Among unlisted local securities sales were reported of Fayette County Gas at 87. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas at 68, and Union Natural Gas at 95. Crystal Water was offered at 55.

The gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the first week in October increased $38,000. For the same week Southern Railway reported an increase of $59,000, and Missouri Pacific an increase of $47,000.

On the New York exchange yesterday one house bought a block of $150,000 Union Pacific convertible 4s at 108¼, and another bid that price for a block of $50,000. Regarding the market for the highest grade of bonds, a dispatch said: There are plenty of gilt-edged bonds in the market. Banks, trust companies and even insurance companies are still willing to sell bonds which do not yield them 4 per cent; and consequently the bond demand is not quite as good as it looks. The underwriting syndicate for a recent large issue of municipal bonds, which are selling on 3.35 per cent basis, has not disposed of all its holdings and in consequence of this overloading in the bond market will not press its remaining bonds until next spring. One consequence of such a situation is that railroad borrowers will have to give a fairly good inducement in order to market bonds which are not a highly attractive prior lien. There is, however, money for investment in Europe and a disposition to take good issues. A fairly competent observer just returned from Paris says that the banks there have something like $500,000,000 on deposit at almost nominal rates, while French investors are inquiring daily for good bonds here recommended by houses of repute.

St. Louis & Southwestern reports an increase in gross earnings for the first week in October of $56,668. For the same week, Texas Pacific reports an increase of $16,269.

A seat on the New York stock exchange was sold this week at $76,000, an advance of $3,000 over the previous sale.

A Wall street dispatch said: A rumor which has received a certain amount of circulation, though probably little credence, is to the effect that John W. Gates has been soliciting proxies from Atchison stockholders to be used at the annual meeting in opposition to the re-election of the four directors whose terms have expired. Mr. Gates, when asked about the story replied: "That is the first I have heard of it."

The election of Mr. Frick to the Reading boards reduces the Drexel-Morgan representation to three directors; in 1903 it had five of the nine directors. President Baer says the stock certificates in exchange for voting trust certificates should be delivered now in a very few days just as soon as the engraving is done.

The advance in wheat attracted attention to the small receipts in the southwest and to the strong advices relative to future movement and to the amount of the crop already marketed. The secretary of the Kansas Grain Dealers' association places the per cent marketed in that state at 50 and no stocks in millers' hands. Broomhall reports the Argentina acreage as officially estimated at 20 per cent larger than a year ago.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues were very strong, and there is talk of a refinancing of that company.

Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central, Manhattan, Peoples Gas and Union Pacific were stocks that acted very well throughout the day.

There were various prominent stocks which were held back throughout by the continuous realizing going on in them. Conspicuous in this line were St. Paul, Reading, Erie, Southern Pacific, United States Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper.

Wall street laid some stress on the fact that Mr. Frick, one of the new Union Pacific directors, is also a director of the Chicago & Northwestern, as are several of the older directors. This was pointed to as indicating progress in the supposed plan for harmonizing the western railroad situation. The former prominence of this capitalist in the steel industry led to gossip of the possibility of a transfer of his investments from that industry to railroad property being in progress.

The declaration of only the regular dividend on Central of New Jersey exploded one of the rumors that has been used to advance Reading.

The international exchange and money markets were further affected by the rise in discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany and surmises were still rife of possible further war loans impending for both Russia and Japan.

Exports of domestic products for September increased $12,782,283 in values, compared with the previous September. Although values of breadstuffs exports declined over $8,000,000, the expansion of $12,562,428 in value of cotton exports established the next increase.

STEEL DEMAND GROWS LARGER

Steady Improvement Marks the Trade in Many Lines of Product.

MORE FURNACES NOW ACTIVE

Steady improvement in the number and the size of orders received by the manufacturers of the finished lines of iron and steel has been the feature of the past week. Efforts to obtain lower than the association prices on these lines have been without success in any regard. Even in blets the market price of $18 50, fixed by the association, is believed to be still holding, although some consumers are trying to beat down that figure.

Within the week the figures showing the condition of the blast furnaces of the United States on October 1 have been compiled. These figures show that a total of 205 furnaces with a weekly capacity of 827,415 are in blast and 218 with a capacity of 171,270 weekly are out. Since September 1 there has been an increase of nine in the number of active coke and bituminous furnaces, with an increase of 35,504 tons in active daily capacity.

This showing is considered very satisfactory, and the fact that the improvement is continuing is even more so. It was stated yesterday that the United States Steel Corporation's output for the last week of September showed an increase of 20 per cent over the preceding week and that the first week of October showed a further increase of 20 per cent.

All appearances indicate that there will be considerable difficulty experienced in this district with the arrival of cold weather in securing satisfactory railroad service. The outlook for this is causing some of the buyers to secure their iron and steel now rather than take their chances on slow and unsatisfactory deliveries later.

Efforts have been made in the past to secure some large tonnage of pig iron, but at present prices, about $12 00, for Bessemer, the iron was not found available. The furnace operations apparently have sufficient confidence in the future to refuse to load up their capacity with orders on the present basis.

This tendency is also discernible on the part of steel manufacturers. Orders accepted at the present level of prices are for immediate delivery only. The aim is plainly to keep away from sales on the basis prevailing now which will require them to operate plants for returns which they believe will soon be considered low. When the election is over there is every reason to believe that the market will be decidedly more active.

Among the rumors in the local market this week is that Pegram & Co., who have a part of the Pennsylvania railroad's New York work, are in the market for 25,000 tons of No. 2 foundry iron. The bulk of the iron for this work is already under contract.

A considerable tonnage of structural shapes is about to be let. James Stewart & Co., the Pittsburgh contractors, have been awarded the general contract for three important buildings. The structural steel for the Postal Telegraph Cable Company in New York, a 12-story building in Norfolk and a big bank building in Baltimore.

Current Quotations.

Below are given current quotations on various lines of iron and steel:

Bessemer pig iron—A ton, $12 00, valley furnaces.

No. 2 foundry iron—A ton, $12 65@12 75, Pittsburgh.

Basic—A ton, $11 00@11 25, furnaces.

Billets—Bessemer and openhearth, association prices, $19 50 for small billets and sheet bars, $21 50; extras for carbon same as heretofore.

Muck bar—A ton, $24 00, Pittsburgh.

Steel rails, etc.—Standard sections, 50 pounds and over, in lots of 500 tons and over, $28 00; carlots and less than 500 tons, $29 00; less than carlots, $33 00; 16 to 40 pounds, $18 00@29 00; hexagon nuts, $2 40@2 45; fish plates, $1 60 on orders accompanying large rail contracts, otherwise $1 80@1 83 is asked.

Structural shapes, association prices—Beams and channels, 15 to 15 inches, $1 40 the 100 pounds; 18 to 24 inches, $1 50; tees, $1 85; zees, $1 40; angles from 3 to 16 pounds, $1 40; universal plates, $1 30.

Steel plates—Tank plates, $1 50, Pittsburgh, the 100 pounds; flange and boiler, $1 40; locomotive fireboxes, $1 90.

Bars—Iron, $1 40 to open hearth, $1 85, base; Bessemer $1 50, base. All subject to half extras as per standard steel card.

Wire—Wire nails, $1 60, Pittsburgh; plain wire, $1 45; galvanized barb wire, $2 05.

Merchant steel—In carlots, Chicago delivery, spring steel, $1 75 the 100 pounds; smooth finish machinery steel, $2 25 and upward, according to quality; toe calk, $1 90; ordinary grades of tool steel, 6@8c; specials, 12c and upward. cold rolled shafting in carlots, 62c, and in less than carlots, 47 per cent discount from list.

Specifications for less than 2,000 pounds of a size, but not less than 1,000 are subject to an extra charge of 10 cents the 100 pounds; less than 1,000 pounds to an extra charge of 30 cents the 100 pounds.

The Hardware Market.

Orders for hardware continue to come in freely from the salesmen on the road and from the trade generally, the tone of business being very much improved. This has been for some time, and apparently growing better steadily. A remarkably heavy demand exists on nails and wire, a very large quantity of these moving into the hands of the retail trade. Judging from the insistence for shipment the goods are being used up almost as fast as they are shipped. The demand continues very heavy for cold weather goods, there being apparently a greater call than for years past for stoves, coal hods, fire shovels, fenders and goods of like kind. The demand for sporting goods, loaded shells, shotguns, rifles and for general sporting accoutrements is unusually heavy. An improved business is noted in window glass, the demand for which seems to have increased considerably with the coming of the fall weather. Prices on this line are also firmer, owing to the fact that stocks up to this time have been low and sizes scarce. There does not seem to be much change in sight in this condition for the next 30 days. Prices on general lines continue firm, no particular change having taken place. The prospects are that with the rush of business prices are liable to be higher rather than lower. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base, $26 00; 32 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, the ton, $27 00; window glass, L. C. L., 0 and 15 per cent from list October 1, 1903 on first three brackets; all brackets above, 90 and 5 per cent; Albion sewing machines, in count, 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion gas stoves, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; fire shovels and pokers, 40 and 10 per cent.

IRON INDUSTRY IS NOW IN BETTER CONDITION

Iron Age Says Business Is Working Into Improved State It Will Maintain.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

Further proof of expanding consumption is furnished by the monthly blast furnace returns, which are significant in some respects. One figures through that the production of coke and anthracite pig iron was 1,552,677 tons in September, as compared with 1,167,672 tons in August. All of this increase was due to the enlarged operations of the steel companies, since their output rose from 747,579 tons in August to 936,494 tons in September. This leaves for the merchant furnaces 420,102 tons in August and 416,183 tons in September. The merchant furnaces were therefore unable to meet the requirements of an enlarged consumption from current make and drew upon stocks, which were reduced from 630,801 tons on September 1 to 555,447 tons on October 1.

Statistically, the iron industry is therefore looking a better shape every day, and even if we do not do better than maintain the present rate of consumption, the incubus of accumulated supplies must be removed in a comparatively brief period.

That there has been some awakening among buyers is clearly reflected in the reports of our correspondents at the leading distributing centers. There is greater firmness in all and an advance in some, accompanied by heavier purchases for long delivery. The southern furnaces are nearly unanimous in asking an advance, and some larger transactions have been closed at higher prices.

In the finished iron and steel markets no very large transactions are reported, but the interest is greater, and there is quite a stream of small orders coming in and specifications on contracts are being received more liberally. Reports concerning the export trade continue favorable. Among the recent sales of steel rails is one lot of 22,000 tons for the Argentine Republic.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5 points on scattering liquidation and selling against purchases made in Brazil on a slightly lower exchange. There was a good demand at the decline, however, partly from Europe and sources, and the market, after the opening, showed a steady undertone, with final prices net unchanged to 5 points lower. Sales were reported of 47,500 bags, including November at 6.00c, December at 6.70@6.75c, March at 7.00@7.05c, May at 7.20c and September at 7.45@7.50c. Rio steady. Rio No. 7 invoice, 8¾c; mild quiet. CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 12.—Turpentine and Rosin, nothing doing.

FLOUR PLAYS PARADOX ON ALL LOCAL DEALERS

Dropped 10 Cents a Barrel in Face of Rising Wheat Market—Produce Firm.

All lines in the local market remained firm yesterday except flour. That commodity did a remarkable thing. In the face of the fact that wheat went up 2 cents on the opening of the market yesterday morning, flour dropped 10 cents a barrel. Wholesale dealers made no effort to explain the paradox. It was something they did not understand and they were uncertain and uneasy in the situation.

Wholesalers invariably advised against a change of the quotation on flour as the market, they felt sure, would rally again during the day. They were confident that if wheat held the figure it opened at flour would get back to the former quotation and, possibly, exceed it. As wheat closed strong at $1 10¾, the action of the flour market this morning will be awaited with interest. It is not likely that flour will drop off again with wheat up over 3 cents a bushel.

Canned goods are being delivered sharply on futures and present prices are much more satisfactory to the buyers than they were a year ago. The usual run of corn, tomatoes, etc., will sell this year at 10 cents and a big business is being looked for in all this line.

In the produce market everything held firm yesterday and there was not a single change of price to note from the quotations of the day before. Onions will probably move up a cent today and apples may take a little rise before the end of the week. The fact that the immense apple crop does not argue a heavy stock of winter keepers, is being borne home to the dealers and they are preparing to meet the situation. Receipts of fruit and produce are just about equal to the demand, which was extremely heavy yesterday, a big improvement over any day of last week.

Reports from the railroad yards yesterday showed the following receipts of fruit and produce: Apples, 3 cars, making 22 cars; bananas, 10 cars, making 17 cars; grapes 3 cars, making 49 cars; onions 4 cars, making 18 cars; potatoes, 11 cars, making 56 cars; miscellaneous, 5 cars, making 18 cars.

HAY AND GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Receipts of hay and grain at the several railroad yards yesterday were as follows: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—3 cars oats. Baltimore & Ohio—17 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 1 car feed. Pennsylvania lines—18 cars hay, 12 cars oats, 3 cars rye, 5 cars straw, 7 cars corn, 6 cars feed.

The grain market continues in good condition. Oats are sagging a little owing to the heavy crop reported and the visible supply increase. It is more than probable they will drop ¼ to ½c today. The market is fair, with supplies about equal to demands. Straw is dull and shelled corn in good demand, it goes at quotations. Some new ear corn is being offered, but none of it is in yet. Mill feed is slow and it is evident that prices will have to drop off considerably before there will be anything doing in that line. The rye demand is good and the grain moved up a little yesterday. There is no trouble finding a market for good grain. Taking it all around, the market is in a most satisfactory condition.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Black Warrior Company Amalgamated directors have received the report of Prof. Ricketts, the New York mining expert, who has made physical examination of the property, and it is expected that they will shortly call a meeting of the stockholders, recommending the raising of new capital to go on with the work.

George K. Fischer, the United States Company's chief mechanical engineer, has left for the company's Mammoth properties in Shasta county, Cal., where he will take the preliminary steps looking to the equipment of the property with a smelting plant.

The old Horseshoe hoist of the Horseshoe Company of Pittsburgh at Terry, S. D., is again the scene of busy activity, as the company has determined to develop the property.

Steps are now being taken to secure the money necessary to make the next payment on the Calumet & Duluth property in Arizona, and also the money for doing the annual assessment work.

At the meeting of the directors of the Portland Gold Mining and Milling Company at Colorado Springs a six-cent dividend was declared on all outstanding stock. The total to be paid out amounts to $180,000. This brings the total disbursement to $5,877,050.

The Waldo Smelting and Mining Company of Grant's Pass, Ore., through its general manager, Col. T. W. M. Draper, has made a final payment of $25,000 on the Monumental mine, just south of the Oregon-California line, in Del Norte county.

Officials of the Lake Superior & Arizona Mining and Smelting Company have been informed by Superintendent Sibbett that the average net returns from the second carload of ore, recently shipped from the Anderson tunnel, was $53 32 per ton.

The New York Commercial says: According to a circular just received in this city by the stockholders of the Ethel Consolidated Mines Company the complete collapse of the enterprise seems a certainty. This was surmised six months ago when it was officially announced that for the want of ore the company had closed up its plant at Index, Wash., and all operations were at a standstill. It was intimated at the time that George S. McManamon of St. Louis, who had handled considerable quantities of the stock, would attempt to devise a plan by which the stockholders could be protected. The present circular states that he has organized the Madison Lead and Land Company of Fredericktown, Mo., with a capital of $900,000. The proposition which he makes to the stockholders is to exchange the Ethel stock at the ratio of 200 shares of Madison for 1,000 shares of Ethel, the difference in the capitalization of both companies making the exchange equitable. As a condition precedent, however, for a stockholder to participate in this offer he must subscribe for at least $25 worth of debentures in the new company. The circular likewise states that only those whose names were on the company's books on October 1 will be entitled to share in this munificent philanthropy. November 15 is the date set for the stockholders to either indorse the plan or else withdraw. The estimated earnings are appended to the circular as well as engineer's reports and other data regarding the possible production of the Madison property. There is also a paragraph devoted to conserving the dividentures to government lands.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The tin market showed firmness and an advancing tendency with London cabling an advance to £129 12s 6d for spot and £129 for futures. Locally, spot tin is quoted at $28 00@28 50. Copper also was higher. In London, spot is now quoted at 59 18s 9d and futures at 60 2s 6d. Locally lake is held at $13 00@13 25; electrolytic at $12 87½@13 12½, and casting at $12 75@13 00. Lead was unchanged at £12 2s 6d in London, but ruled a little firmer here on the outside price with the range standing at $3 20@4 30. Spelter also remained unchanged in London at £22 15s, while the local market was steady at $5 15@5 20. Iron closed at 59s 6d in Glasgow and at 43s 9d in Middlesboro. Locally iron is unchanged but easier. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $14 25@14 75; No. 2 foundry northern at $14 00@14 50; No. 1 foundry southern, No. 1 foundry southern soft at $13 75@14 25.

NEW HOTEL TO BE NAMED "FORT PITT"

Iron City Improvement Company Will Build Model Business Men's Hostelry.

TWO GOOD SALES ARE MADE

The new hotel to be erected at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Tenth street by the Iron City Improvement Company will be known as the Fort Pitt. Definite plans for the building are now being worked out by Architects Alden & Harlow, and it will be erected by the A. & S. Wilson Company. The building will be five stories high and will have a frontage of 100 feet in Penn avenue and 110 feet in Tenth street, running back to a 16-foot alley. In two weeks the excavating for the structure will be completed and the steel frame started. The fronts will be of Harvard brick construction, which is well adapted to a smoky city like Pittsburgh. The building will be strictly fireproof and will lack none of the modern conveniences. In its finish it will be plain and substantial. Two entrances will be provided, each 21 feet wide, from two streets. The first floor will contain the lobbies, offices, cafe, lounging rooms, kitchen, serving rooms and baggage rooms. A big skylight will be over the main lobby and above this an open court will extend to the top of the building and back to the rear, thus affording not only abundant light but the best of ventilation. There will be 272 rooms in the building, exclusive of those in the first floor and basement. The outside rooms on all the floors will be arranged en suite, with 18 bathrooms on each floor. In the basement there will be billiard rooms, a barber shop and a grill room. It is possible that four large rooms on the first floor will be reserved for store rooms. The intention of the owners is to adapt the hotel especially to business men, and rates will be arranged from $1 50 a day up. The location, near the Union station and the business center, could hardly be bettered for such a project, and several well-known hotel men are now negotiating for long leases on the building, which will be finished, it is expected, about April 1.

Interesting Deal in East End.

The sale is reported of the Thomas Kerr property at the southeast corner of Penn and Lang avenues, Twenty-second ward. The Commonwealth Real Estate Company, which is agent for the property, would not deny that the sale had been made, but the name of the buyer is kept secret. The consideration is understood to have been $20,000. The lot, which is improved with a frame house, faces 83 feet in Penn avenue and 275 feet in Lang avenue. Owing to the fact that it is considerably above the street level and directly opposite engine house No. 16, it is much less desirable than other Penn avenue frontage in that locality, so that the price is considered fair to both buyer and seller. The sale is likely to be followed soon by an interesting building announcement.

The old project to build a cold storage warehouse for produce men is being revived again and options have been sought on properties near the corner of Pike and Twenty-first streets. If a site can be secured in this vicinity, it is said that a company will be formed at once to build a large warehouse. The corner is near the produce yards and the big fruit auction houses, so that such a building well constructed should rent readily. Since the general movement of commission men to the Lawrenceville district and the success which real estate investor who bought large properties there have had in renting them for commission purposes, much remark has been caused among business men who did not believe the deals would prove profitable, and the venture now under way is likely to be much easier put through for this reason.

New Firm Makes Good Sale.

Borland & Waddell, who started business as real estate brokers in the Keystone building two weeks ago, have sold for Sallie P. E. Price to Elizabeth Z. Pritchard four houses in Elsinore square, near Craft avenue, Fourteenth ward, for $28,000. The houses are built in doubles, each two having 10 rooms. They were built about two years ago and command a rental of $60 a month, or about 7 per cent on the investment.

Two deeds were registered yesterday for the properties bought last June for the site for the Masonic temple in the Fourteenth ward. Both deeds were made out to the Tuscarora Trust Company, the considerations named being $50,000 and $40,000 respectively. The larger property, 150x170 feet, on the north side of Forbes street, near Craft avenue, was conveyed from Edwin L. Porter. The other lot, 100x264 feet, was obtained from the rector and vestry of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church. It is rumored that the committee in charge of the building are trying to buy two or more small properties adjoining to give a better shape to the site, but thus far no deals have been consummated. The church property extends through to Fifth avenue. No plans for the temple have been made, so far as known, and no architect has been formally selected.

Downtown Hotel to Cost $75,000.

Architect S. A. Hall is taking bids on the six-story hotel which P. P. Manion will build at the southwest corner of Third avenue and Grant street. The building will be a fireproof structure, 40x90 feet, and will cost at least $75,000.

Estimates are being taken by Architect T. Ed. Cornelius for a three-story store building in Cornopolis for D. Dersimo to cost $8,000 and for a similar building in Second avenue, Hazelwood, for A. E. Davies to cost $9,000.

Charles S. Howell, formerly superintendent of the West Penn hospital, has associated himself with the real estate firm of L. A. Clark & Co. as a salesman.

The Currier Company, which lately started in the real estate business in the Keystone building, has rented a fine office at No. 702 Tradesmens building.

Meadow street: The Elderkin-Stanton Company sold for Mrs. Mery A. Long to Alice E. M. Bennett an eight-room frame house on 25x80 feet at No. 230 Meadow street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,100.

Wellesley avenue: The Land Title & Trust Company sold for James J. Booth to Mrs. Elizabeth Stengler 46x146 feet in Wellesley avenue, near Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $3,600. The buyer will build a $6,000 house.

Minor Real Estate Transactions.

Sheffield street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for J. T. Arnold, president of the National Casket Company, to Allen McFadden No. 1231 Sheffield street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, a 10-room brick house on 20x115 feet, for $7,000.

Sewickley: Samuel W. Black & Co. sold for Walter E. Patton to W. P. Martsolf 38x102 feet at Nevin and Centennial avenues, First ward, Sewickley, for $1,000.

West Carnegie: The Realty Corporation sold for the West Carnegie Land Company the following lots: To Frank Stalmerski, No. 245, for $250, and to R. H. Jordan, Nos. 248-251, for $500.

Heberton avenue: George L. Taylor sold to Ada S. Ionet an improved lot, 20x100 feet, on the west side of Heberon avenue, near Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $7,000.

Evaline street: Henry T. Lynch sold to Alfred E. Jacobs 35x126 feet on the east side of Evaline street, near Coral street, Twentieth ward, for $2,600.

Lawrenceville: Thomas Kennelly sold to Michael J. Carroll an improved lot, 22x108 feet, on the south side of Forty-fifth street, Seventeenth ward, for $3,200.

Overhill street: Henry C. Hachmeister sold to Pietro Mancusco an improved lot, 48x100 feet, on the south side of Overhill street, Eleventh ward, for $7,800.

Brushton: Frank Stewart sold to Roy K. Cramer through the office of Haller & Dibert, an improved lot, 25x130 feet, on the west side of Brushton avenue, near Bennett street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $8,000.

Linden avenue: Melissa M. Lindsay sold to Daniel D. Gage 50x120 feet on the northeast side of Linden avenue, near Fair Oaks street, Twenty-second ward. The consideration named in the deed was $10.

Through the office of John A. Sharp, William Walker sold lot No. 80, Ingleside plan, Nineteenth ward, to Henry Ambrill for $850 cash. The lot has a frontage of 25 feet in Graham street.

A. A. Kerr & Son delivered the deed for the property sold for Wise & Minor to Benjamin R. Marshall for $2,800.

A permit was issued in Allegheny yesterday to J. G. Marshall for a two-story brick veneered house in the Dunlap plan, Tenth ward, to cost $7,100.

Building permits were issued yesterday to the Highland Auto Company for a one-story and basement brick storage house in Beatty street, Twentieth ward, to cost $5,500; W. H. Ganter, two-story brick dwelling in Pacific avenue, Twentieth ward, to cost $7,000, and to Joseph Wentz, two-story frame dwelling in Mifflin street, Sixteenth ward, to cost $3,600.

Union Pacific Control Seems to Have Passed from Harriman

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Short Line railway, held at Salt Lake City yesterday, the election of directors was postponed until November 11. The Oregon Short Line is a part of the Harriman system and yesterday's action, following the election to the Union Pacific board of directors yesterday of William G. Rockefeller and Henry C. Frick, has caused much comment in railway circles.

The large Harriman holdings of Northern Pacific stock are vested in the Oregon Short Line Corporation. It is believed the control of the Union Pacific system has passed from the Harriman to the Gould-Rockefeller interests and that the postponement of the Oregon Short Line directorate election foreshadows some exceedingly important changes affecting the western railroad situation. There is much interest expressed in the possible effect the change in the Union Pacific may have on the construction of the Western Pacific railroad from San Francisco to Salt Lake city. This road was intended as a Pacific coast outlet for the Gould lines.

Want Reduction in Baggage Rates.

A meeting of representatives of business organizations of all the important cities of the middle west has been called for October 27, and organizations in Columbus, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Toledo and Pittsburgh, will be asked to send one delegate each to the meeting in Cleveland. The development of wholesale jobbing and manufacturing business in the Central Passenger association territory has required a considerable increase in the amount of sample baggage carried by commercial men in excess of the limit of 150 pounds. The merchants suggest the issuance by the Central Passenger association of a coupon excess baggage ticket, giving $30 in coupons at a cost of $20.

Party Traveled in Tourist Car.

The first tourist car to be run out of Pittsburgh for the west left yesterday afternoon over the Wabash system. It carried about 35 persons from Wilkinsburg, who are going to make their homes in California. This is the first time the Wabash has sent out a tourist car from Pittsburgh. It is an innovation that the Wabash intends to push and is a feature of railroad travel introduced by the Gould system.

Railroad Notes.

The Pennsylvania railroad officials are studying plans to decrease the amount of smoke issuing from locomotives.

The Japanese government has purchased a small engine from the Baldwin locomotive works, to be used in scaling a mountain.

H. H. Adams of Pittsburgh was elected vice president of the American Association of Railway Mechanics and Electricians at the annual meeting at St. Louis.

Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, is attending the monthly meeting of the Central Passenger association being held in Chicago.

C. G. Waldo, general manager of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, has been forced to resign by the new interests which have secured control of the system.

TIFFANY FIRM OWED $109,000 BY SULLY

Once Allowed His Child to Select Gifts Costing $58,500 for Her Mother.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Debts aggregating $100,000, held by Tiffany & Co. against Daniel J. Sully, were testified to today in a hearing before Magistrate Cox, referee in bankruptcy proceedings, against Mr. Sully.

Mr. Bogart, salesman for Tiffany & Co., testified that both Mr. and Mrs. Sully bought goods at the store of the firm and had them charged to the account of D. J. Sully. February 2 Mr. Sully's daughter came into the store to wait for her father. When he arrived he allowed the child to select a $40,000 diamond and emerald corsage and a diamond pendant, valued at $18,500, as gifts for her mother.

PILOTS HAVE RETURNED HOME.

News of the Streams Which Have Made Pittsburgh's Commerce so Great.

The pilots who made the trip down the river to inspect the bottom during the low water have returned, tired and well pleased with the result of their work. The trip proved beneficial in many ways. The men worked all the way down, painting the marks along the river and doing a variety of work which will render navigation easier and pleasanter when the rivers rise. The participants in the trip are now preparing a report, which will be furnished to all the members of the local harbor.

Unless rains come soon in the Monongahela valley it may be necessary to suspend navigation on that stream. The Morgantown boats are finding difficulty in getting enough water for lockage. It is many years since such a condition of affairs prevailed in the Monongahela river, and the navigators of that stream are anxiously whistling for clouds.

The Defiance on the marine ways at Elizabeth being completely overhauled for the winter business.

J. Frank Tilley and Capt. James H. Morris are in Cincinnati attending the hearing in the matter of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad bridge.

J. M. Hammitt, the Marietta boat builder, was in the city yesterday and called at Harbor 25. The name of Hammitt is inseparably linked with boat building on the rivers, and some of the most famous boats have been planned and built by the Hammitts.

An invitation from the committee having in charge the Merrill dam opening celebration has been posted in the Harbor rooms. All members are cordially invited to take part.

Capt. William A. Blackstock expects to leave Friday morning on the Mermaid for Pomeroy, O., with a tow of 10 empty flats. The tow is being taken down for the Peacock Coal Company of Pomeroy. Three feet of water will let the Mermaid over the sill at Davis island dam, and once over there, no trouble is anticipated in getting the tow down.

The Columbia, the Morgantown boat yesterday was late in arriving here, owing to low water and a heavy load of freight. She left on time yesterday afternoon, however, with a fair trip up.

Not Killed in St. Mary's Wreck.

Andrew Rosenwald, a Lake Shore engineer, who was reported killed in the wreck at St. Mary's Junction, O., was the guest of friends in this city yesterday. He came to Pittsburgh as a living proof that the report of his death was erroneous. He will return to work at Collingwood, O., in a few days.

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

All Classes of Stage Entertainment Will Be Given a Showing in the Bills for Next Week.

At the Nixon theater on Monday evening the new famous "all-star" cast, including Clara Morris, J. E. Dodson, Mrs. Le Moyne, Sarah Truax, James O'Neill and others, will present a sumptuous revival of "The Two Orphans." In every particular this is a great dramatic event. Seats go on sale this morning.

A symphony of laughter will be the order of things at the Avenue theater next week, when the Harry Davis stock company will appear in N. C. Goodwin's former great success, "My Wife's Husbands." The piece had a long run at the Madison Square theater, New York, where it was declared to be the funniest play seen at any New York theater in several years. The story deals with a dashing young widow, who boasts of four husbands.

"Paris By Night," with Bert Leslie and Robert Dailey heading the large cast of the new extravaganza, will be the attraction at the Duquesne theater next week. The musical numbers are especially bright and include one notable song hit, "The Girl With the Changeable Eyes." The chorus is a winning feature of the production.

The success which attends "When Women Love" is easily accounted for, as it pleases both the eye and ear. The company that interprets the play is said to be exceptionally fine, and gives tone to it. "When Women Love" is a four-act drama of much merit, each act fitting together consistently.

In the bill of 15 acts at the Grand next week the Carter De Haven sextet will be among the headliners. They will appear in a miniature musical comedy called "An Easy Angel," with special scenery, electrical effects and handsome costumes. Frederick Hallen and Mollie Fuller will appear in one of their pleasing light comedy sketches. Lotta Gladstone, the dainty comedienne, will amuse with her characteristic impersonations.

Joe Welch in "The Peddler," with a strong acting company, will be seen at the Bijou next week. Welch made a name for himself in vaudeville as an impersonator of Hebrew characters, and he has been literally snapped up for legitimate work. "The Peddler" is a melodrama which has been given an elaborate stage setting.

The Academy announces an excellent bill for next week in burlesque and vaudeville, when Phil Sheridan's Big City Sports will make their initial bow of the season in this city. This company has always had some of the best known and highest salaried artists in the profession, and presents an exceptionally strong vaudeville olio this season.

Nina David Seat Sale.

The seat sale for the coming concert of the famed coloratura soprano, Nina David, at Carnegie Music hall, Friday evening, October 21, will open this morning at the box office at Mellor's music store. Judging from the mail orders that have already been received a brilliant audience will greet Madame David as she bows to the public of this city for the first time.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad announces the discontinuance for the season of Sunday excursions to Ohio Pyle.

SIGNATURE WAS TRACED ON PAPER

Judge Frazer Goes After J. Henry Jahn in an Opinion Rescinding Deed.

JURY THOUGHT AMAN INSANE

That J. Henry Jahn had obtained a deed to the property of Oliver E. Cornelius by false and fraudulent means was the conclusion reached by Judge Robert S. Frazer, who handed down a rather warm opinion in the case, and directed a decree cancelling the same. The deed was for Lacock street (Allegheny) property, valued at $2,000. In his finding of the facts the court described the transaction, showing Cornelius had applied to Jahn for a loan of $200, executing, as he supposed at the time, a mortgage on the property. The paper, however, proved to be a warranty deed to Linnie Wolford. The court says:

"Plaintiff's contention is that his signature was obtained to the deed of January 25, 1903, by false representation made by defendant, and in our opinion the testimony clearly sustains him. That the plaintiff made application in writing to the defendant for a loan of $200 to be secured by a mortgage on Lacock street property is not denied, and that the plaintiff signed and executed a deed, believing it to be a mortgage to secure the loan, is also clear. All the circumstances indicate such to be the case. Plaintiff is a working man with quite a limited business experience. He relied on all the representations made by the defendant, and signed the deed when requested so to do by him without making any examination of its contents. Although the defendant denied plaintiff's contention and claimed the deed was signed with a full knowledge of its contents, we are not satisfied that such was the case, especially in view of the fact that defendant produced papers purporting to be signed by plaintiff, which signatures were without doubt traced, and asked us to consider them as genuine in determining this case. The court adds that it is clearly satisfied the deed was obtained by false and fraudulent means."

"Not guilty by reason of insanity," was the verdict returned in criminal court in the cases of Edward J. Felter of Main street, Allegheny. He was charged with assault by Laura E. Graham of New Brighton, a bookkeeper at the Eagle Foundry and Machine Company, and with assault and battery by E. L. Bark, manager of the plant.

Miss Graham alleged she was tormented for some time by the defendant. She alleged he followed her and wrote her many letters, one of which contained a check for $16,000. While going to the station from her work one evening Felter accosted her and threw his arms around her.

The only defense offered by Felter was he had taken a liking to the girl, and as he thought she was in trouble, wished to console her.

Charles Thomas pleaded guilty to entering the home of H. J. Dashbach, in Beatty street, on September 14 last and with stealing goods to the amount of $150. He was sent to the workhouse for two years. Frank Clark, indicted with him, stood trial and was convicted, but recommended to the mercy of the court.

J. T. Smith and John Fox pleaded guilty to entering the establishment of M. Oppenheimer & Co., 811 Penn avenue, on May 27 last. The men were caught in the store. Each was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years.

In the matter of the Third National bank against the Natalie Anthracite Coal Company, the Pittsburgh Trust Company, receiver and trustee of the coal company, has filed its report, showing the sale of the company's property. The property is located in Northumberland and Columbia counties and consisted of 2,700 acres of land and mine equipment. The property was sold on October 5 to E. L. Mattern, Esq., as attorney for the Columbia National bank, German National bank and Third National bank, the consideration being $480,000, of which $50,000 was cash. It was offered at public sale and the purchaser was the highest bidder.

A conference was held by the attorneys interested in the case of Thomas Sterck and Robert Smothers, policemen, who were to be placed on trial for the death of William L. O'Donnell, who died in Central station last November. The case was indefinitely postponed. This action was made necessary by the absence of William Rhodes, the principal witness in the case, who escaped from a deputy sheriff at Greensburg by jumping from a train.

A libel in divorce has been filed by Lizzie Baker against John J. Baker, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment.

Herman Frankel sued John Murphy for $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest and prosecution on a charge of larceny.

An order was filed by the attorney of Milovar Patrovic to have the appeal entered for the latter non-prossed. Patrovic was convicted in the Ferguson murder case in Washington county and sent to the penitentiary. An appeal was entered which would have been heard at this term. The order for the non-pross would end the appeal. Prothonotary Pearson accepted the paper but said that it was a matter for the court to decide when the case was reached.

Noole Stroup, through Attorneys O'Brien and Brawner, entered suit against Police Officers James Noon, Owen Waters, Joseph Jackson, Herman Wessel and Walter D. Marsh, asking $10,000 damages for alleged false arrest. The plaintiff was released from the workhouse on habeas corpus proceedings. He had been sent up by Magistrate E. C. Negley.

The wills were probated yesterday of Johanna and Catherine McCarthy, sisters, the former, who left her estate to the latter, having died in August and the latter, who was appointed executrix of her sister's will, having died in September before the other will was probated.

Joseph Child, late of McKeesport, leaves a $27,000 estate to his wife.

Among the accounts that have been filed and will be presented to orphans court for confirmation are several of well-known estates where considerable finance is involved. In the estate of the late Henry Borntrager the first account of the trustee has been filed. The principal secured by the trustee by a decree made in 1898, amounts to $1,565,538 33. This was made up of a number of securities and an item of cash, $197,184 73. The account shows a balance of $1,550,696 70 in the hands of the trustee. The first and final account in the estate of the late Hudson Samson shows a total charge of $220,564 71 against the accountants. One of the largest items is $89,000, an amount due on property from Frank McCann. After proper credits are allowed a balance for distribution of $46,278 68 remains. Unconverted assets amounting to $172,654 72 are placed among the credits by the accountants.

In the estate of William P. Herbert the first and final account shows a total of $27,997 96 against the accountants, and after credits are deducted a balance of $22,251 80 is due the estate.

In the estate of James A. Blackmore, late of Wilkinsburg, the first and final account shows a total charge of $16,844 30, and a balance of $15,584 36.

In the estate of Henry W. Borntrager, a minor, the accountant charges itself with $14,780 76, and after paying out a number of accounts shows the balance of $4,763 79 was paid the ward.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Samuel Walker, a merchant, of this city. He gives his liabilities as $5,000 and his assets as $4,031.

The following execution was issued yesterday: Benedict F. Keen, agent, vs. Carl Ross, et al., $219 50. A jury awarded Hyman Trekey $6,000 in the suit against the city of Pittsburgh. The city condemned property of the plaintiff, for park purposes in 1898, and viewers allowed him $6,500. The property is located on St. Pierre street, Fourteenth ward.

ORCHESTRA AUCTION SALE.

Evening Season Seats for Emil Paur's Concerts Will Be Sold to Highest Bidders Next Thursday.

The annual auction sale of evening season tickets for the Pittsburgh orchestra concerts will be held next Thursday. All who subscribe during the next six days have equal opportunity at the bidding with those already on record. While the auction is open to all, possession of the subscription coupon is necessary. This can be had at the office of the manager, 531 Wood street, or at the ticket office at Hamilton hall. The evening prices are $20, $15 and $10 for 15 concerts. At the auction choice of the $20 and $15 seats only will be offered. Seats in these two classes unsold at the auction and all the $10 evening seats will be offered to the first in line at Hamilton hall the day after the auction, Friday, October 21.

The time of closing the afternoon season ticket subscription is Saturday, October 22, and the sale begins at Hamilton hall, Monday, October 24. All who have the welfare of the orchestra at heart should realize that by purchasing a season ticket they can help the cause as in no other way.

Cattle Trampled Lawns.

Frank and Walter Klose and Howard Dissell, boys, were before Alderman Negley yesterday morning for driving cattle over lawns in Center avenue. John Dissell, father of Howard, owned the cattle and said the boys had disobeyed him in driving them out Center avenue. They were discharged with a reprimand.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.
